

BRITISH WARSHIP SUNK-TROOPSHIP BLOWN UP, KILLING 324-THE CADEBY TORPEDOED

ITALIAN TROOPS PUSH STEADILY INTO AUSTRIA

Austro-German Success Near Przemyśl—Fortress Threatened—No Change in West

Italian troops are pushing steadily into Austria, along the line running north of the Gulf of Trieste. Apparently the Austrians have as yet offered no serious resistance, although farther west there has been severe fighting. An official statement from Rome announces the occupation of the Austrian town of Grado, and states that a squadron of Italian aeroplanes successfully attacked the Trieste-Naples railway, probably cutting the line. Additional territory along the Tyrol frontier has been occupied.

German Successes
In their northern campaign the Russians are still being pressed closely by the Austrians and German armies. Official reports from Vienna state that further successes have been won in the district of Przemyśl, the capture of which would be a serious blow to the Russians. The Petrograd war office, however, views the situation in Galicia optimistically, saying the Teutonic allies have been checked and that their attacks all along the front from the upper Vistula to the San have been repulsed with heavy losses to the attackers.

German Submarines Active
The German submarine campaign which has been unusually active during the last week, has resulted in the sinking of another British vessel. The steamer Cadeby was sunk yesterday off the Scilly Isles by the shell fire of a submarine. The crew of 18 men and the four passengers were saved.

FORTRESS OF PRZEMYSL, HELD BY RUSSIANS, NOW THREATENED WITH INVESTMENT

LONDON, May 28, 12.15 p. m.—The fortress of Przemyśl, garrisoned this time by Russians instead of Austrians, is once more threatened with investment. Just as the Russians, after surrounding Przemyśl and starving out its Austrian garrison, forced the surrender of the fortress on March 22, to Austro-German troops, who have driven a wedge through central Galicia, are now attempting a double flanking movement and with growing intensity of attack are seeking to encircle Przemyśl from the north and the south-east. According to Vienna reports, progress is being made in both directions, and if the advance is not checked, Przemyśl will be either isolated from the rest of the Russian army or the Russian troops which fell back to the San will be forced into further retreat.

This situation in Galicia is unquestionably of great strategic importance at the present time and even the British press concedes that the position of Przemyśl is serious. It is described as the key to the whole Russian position in Galicia, and its fall will mean that the railroad running eastward to Lemberg, the main artery of the Russian supplies in this region will fall

GREAT BRITAIN'S NAVY GIVEN A SEVERE BLOW

LONDON, May 28.—The torpedoing and sinking of the British battleship Majestic was announced by the admiralty last night in the following statement: "An enemy submarine torpedoed and sank H. M. S. Majestic, Capt. H. F. G. Talbot, yesterday morning while it was supporting the army on the Gallipoli peninsula. "Nearly all the officers and men were saved."

The battleship Majestic was a vessel of 14,900 tons and of 10,000 horsepower capacity. Her officers and crew on a peace footing aggregated 757. The Majestic was built in 1895. She carried four 12-inch, 12 1/2-inch and 16 3/4-inch guns and 12 3-pounder guns. In addition, the vessel was armed with five 18-inch torpedo tubes. The Majestic is the fifth British battleship lost in the Dardanelles campaign and the second by a hostile submarine, the Triumph having been sent to the bottom in the Gulf of Saros last Wednesday. The French also have lost one battleship in the Turkish campaign—the Bouvet.

PRINCESS IRENE BLOWN UP AT SHEERNESS HARBOUR

LONDON, May 28.—All the crew of 250 men of the British steamer Princess Irene, except four, and in addition, the captain, were killed yesterday. The vessel was blown up at Sheerness harbor. The Princess Irene was a vessel of 14,900 tons and of 10,000 horsepower capacity. Her officers and crew on a peace footing aggregated 757. The Princess Irene was built in 1895. She carried four 12-inch, 12 1/2-inch and 16 3/4-inch guns and 12 3-pounder guns. In addition, the vessel was armed with five 18-inch torpedo tubes. The Princess Irene is the fifth British battleship lost in the Dardanelles campaign and the second by a hostile submarine, the Triumph having been sent to the bottom in the Gulf of Saros last Wednesday. The French also have lost one battleship in the Turkish campaign—the Bouvet.

NEBRASKAN TORPEDOED

Capt. Greene Reports That American Ship Was Hit by Torpedo—Vessel a Wreck

LIVERPOOL, May 28, 7.11 a. m.—While none of the crew of the American steamer Nebraska, disabled Tuesday night by an explosion off the coast of Ireland, saw a submarine, the chief engineer believes he saw the wake of a torpedo on the starboard side, according to Capt. Greene of the steamer. The captain, in reply to questions, stated that there is a hole about 30 feet square in the forecastle below the water line, large enough to admit an American freight car. "We were in the boats about an hour," he said. "The ship seemed to be settling by the head and we decided to stay close by until help, which we had summoned by wireless, arrived. While none of us saw a submarine, the chief engineer believes he saw the wake of a torpedo on the starboard side. The effect of the shock of the torpedo striking the ship was to stop her suddenly. There was a perceptible interval between the shock and the explosion. "We started to return to Liverpool about 10.30 o'clock the same night, traveling eight knots an hour. The vessel was 12 feet lower down by the head than normal, owing to the water in the hold. "The damage to the vessel's upper structure was severe. Great derricks were torn up and hung across the deck, smashing the rail on one side; strong steel girders, forming a part of a hatch, were blown out and some went overboard and in the deck flooring near the hatch two large holes were made, revealing the naked steel girders, two of which were cut through cleanly. The bulkheads occupied by the hostess and two quartermasters, all of whom were injured, are a mass of wreckage and the men are wondering how they escaped more serious hurts. All the furniture and woodwork in the cabin were broken into fragments. The boatswain suffered injuries to his head, arms and legs. Both quartermasters were badly bruised. "The American consul and representatives of the American embassy boarded the ship from the tender yesterday afternoon, meeting the steamer off the bar and coming with her to the dock."

CAPT. GREENE'S STATEMENT

LIVERPOOL, May 28.—Capt. Greene of the American steamship Nebraska, disabled off the coast of Ireland Tuesday, told a representative from the United States embassy here last night that his ship had been torpedoed. "I saw no submarine," declared Capt. Greene, "but I am certain that it was a torpedo that hit us." Capt. Greene's statement, together with affidavits, was at once cabled to Washington. All members of the crew made statements declaring the ship was torpedoed. The ship is a complete wreck forward.

MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES

Patriotic Programs in the Schools—Senior Class Had Charge at High School

Memorial Day exercises were held in most of the schools of the city today and while the programs commemorating the honor of those who gave their lives for their country were not especially elaborate, they were appropriate to the occasion and thoroughly enjoyed by those privileged to hear them. The arrangements for the exercises at the high school, this year were out of the ordinary inasmuch as they were left entirely in the hands of the graduating class. The class selected the speakers, and the music and arranged the program in its entirety. The presiding officer was Mr. Martin E. Connors, president of the class, and instead of taking an active part as in former years, Principal Irish and the teachers were included in the audience. The program was as follows: Senior Chorus: "Marching Through Georgia." Address: "The Last Roll Call."

27 YOUNG MEN ENTER THE PRIESTHOOD TODAY

Three From Lowell Ordained at Holy Cross Cathedral in Boston—Card. O'Connell Officiated

Twenty-seven young men, three of whom are from this city were ordained to the priesthood this morning at the Holy Cross cathedral in Boston, the ceremony being performed by His Eminence William Cardinal O'Connell. The service was at 10 o'clock and was largely attended by parents and friends of the young clergymen. The Lowell young men ordained are Rev. Alfred McDermott, O. M. L., Rev. Brendan C. Shea and Rev. Conrad J. Quirbach. The young priest's father died when he and his brothers and sisters were but little tots, but through the untiring energy, perseverance and devotion of their good mother the children were carefully reared and educated and have all justified their mother's noble efforts in their behalf. Rev. Fr. Quirbach is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Quirbach, his father being the well known cigar manufacturer. He received his education at the Edson and Lowell high schools. Holy Cross college and St. John's seminary. He is a brilliant young man who has been a model in all that is polite, pious and exemplary. Rev. Brendan C. Shea was born in Lowell, May 15, 1898. He is the son of James J. Shea of 87 Mt. Vernon street, and a brother of John R. Shea, now editor of the Star-Journal at Pueblo, Col. Fr. Shea received his early education at the Bartlett and St. Patrick's schools. He graduated from St. Patrick's school in 1903 and was salutatorian of his class. He then entered Holy Angels college at Buffalo, N. Y., where he graduated "cum laude" in 1905, and received the degree of B. S. He then entered St. John's seminary at Brighton. He was one of the organizers of St. Patrick's Academy, which is now a high school. He is a relative of Dr. John Gilmary Shea, the eminent Catholic historian. Fr. Shea will celebrate his first public mass at St. Patrick's church, on Sunday next. He invites his friends, former schoolmates and teachers to attend. He will hold an informal reception before his departure for the cathedral, Trenton, N. J., to which he has been assigned. On Saturday evening from 7 to 10 Fr. Shea will receive his friends, informally at his home, 87 Mt. Vernon street. Rev. Conrad J. Quirbach will sing his first public mass at 11 o'clock at St. Peter's church next Sunday, while Rev. Alfred McDermott, O. M. L., will celebrate his first public mass at St. Patrick's church at 11 o'clock on Sunday, June 6. Rev. Louis E. Bachand, O. M. L., will celebrate his first public mass at St. Jean Baptiste church next Sunday at 10 o'clock.

ENRICH THE BLOOD

Medicine, is Necessary.

Everybody is troubled at this season with loss of vitality, failure of appetite, that tired feeling, or with biliousness, dull headaches, indigestion and other stomach troubles, or with pimples and other eruptions on the face and body. The reason is that the blood is impure and impoverished.

Hood's Sarsaparilla relieves all these ailments. It is the old reliable medicine that has stood the test of forty years—that makes pure, rich, red blood—that strengthens every organ and builds up the whole system. It is the all-the-year-round blood-purifier and health-giver. Nothing else acts like it, for nothing else is like it. There is no real substitute; so be sure to get Hood's. Ask your druggist for it today, and begin taking it at once.

Arrah glory! Mike O'Leary of Macroom. The accompanying verses are from a poem by D. Carroll, H. M. S. Ajax, which appeared in the Cork Weekly Examiner, following Sergt. O'Leary's feat:

Arrah glory! Mike O'Leary, you're the grandest boy of all;
Shure there's not a soul in Ireland, from Macroom to Donegal,
But is proud of you and prouder than a peacock of his tail.
Arrah bravo! Mike O'Leary, you're the pride of Innisfail.

We can boast of many heroes and the glory of our race,
But the greatest deed performed now must take a second place.
For you did the job completely and you've spelt the Kaiser's doom;
Arrah glory! Mike O'Leary, Mike O'Leary of Macroom.

O'Leary's world-wide fame followed his exploit at Guiney when he led his company in a charge against the Germans, sped ahead of them, turned a German barricade, shot down all five of a gun crew before they were able to bring it into action on his comrades and then rushed ahead to a second barricade where he shot down three of the men and captured two others single handed—all without being injured.

For this he won his promotion to sergeant and the praises of his comrades. The official record of the V. C. list related the circumstances and told simply how his action had prevented the rest of the attacking party from being fired on. His parents shortly after the incident received from him a modest letter in which he told how the Irish Guards were settling after the Germans with the bayonet, but failed to dilate on his own experience.

The true facts became known through a letter to the Daily Mail by Company Sergeant John G. Lowry of the Guards. When Lowry's story became known O'Leary's fame spread like wildfire. For weeks his daring exploit was described in song and story, while his photograph and that of his parents and their little home in Luchfeelagh, Cork county, were widely published and committees were appointed to arrange for a testimonial.

Enlisted First in the Navy
O'Leary was about 21 years old and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel O'Leary. He came from fighting stock. His father was an athlete in his younger days and, even today, when more than 60 years, his figure is still erect. Young O'Leary stood 5 feet 10 inches and was as strong as he looked.

Although a good boy and ever mindful of his parents' love of adventure caused him to enlist in the British navy when 16 years old. He was a stoker on the Vivid and later the Cumberland, but at Malta his health broke down and he went home, hobbling on crutches.

He was not long in building up and again sought excitement. He went to Cork barracks to enlist, but as he could not show his discharge papers from the navy at the time, he was virtually made a prisoner until they arrived. Then he was sent to Buckingham palace, and for four years he served in the guards.

His time up, he went to Canada and served with credit in the Northwest Mounted Police until last fall, when he heard of the fighting across the water and ached to get into it.

Join the Guards
It is not known just when O'Leary joined the 1st Battalion of the Irish Guards at the front. The battalion itself was there from the first and took part in the bloody retreat from Mons, but it apparently was about Nov. 1 that he joined it, assigned to Co. I.

For more than a week before Feb. 1 the Guards held trenches near the La Bassée brickfield, and their losses were heavy. The Germans had excellent cover, both in the trenches and behind stacks of bricks. Their bombs brought many casualties among the guards. The men were anxious for an order to charge, and it came at 2 the next day. In the assault the French were on the right, with Coe, 1 and 2 of the guards and some of the Coldstreams.

Promptly at 2 the next day the order for a general assault was given and the British and French artillery opened fire. After a rain of bullets and shrapnel for 20 minutes, No. 1 company was let loose. They jumped from their trench with a yell, bayonets fixed, and went for the enemy on the run.

Story of the Charge
As Sergt. O'Leary of the Guards wrote home about the charge, here is what happened: "They had from 100 to 150 yards to travel, and they went at a tidy pace, but were easily outstripped by Lance-Corp. O'Leary. He never looked to see if his mates were coming and he must have done pretty near even time over that patch of ground."

Then he got near the end of one of the German trenches he dropped and so did others a long way behind him. The enemy had discovered what was up.

"A machine gun was O'Leary's mark. Before the Germans could manage to slew it round and meet the charging men O'Leary picked off the whole five of the machine-gun crew, and leaving his mates to come up and capture the gun, he dashed forward to the second "The brickfield was won inside half an hour. . . . O'Leary came back from his killing as cool as if he had been for a walk in the park and accompanied by two prisoners he had taken.

O'Leary had his arm nearly shaken off by his comrades.

"Sergt. O'Leary has brought back the V. C. to the Irish Guards. We lost ours when Brig.-Gen. Fitz-Clarence was killed."

TO SAVE FRANK THE TOWN OF TEWKSBURY

Counsel for Condemned Man to File Brief on Monday

ATLANTA, Ga., May 27.—Counsel for Leo M. Frank, practically completed the brief they will present to the Georgia prison commission when the hearing on Frank's petition for commutation of his death sentence to life imprisonment is opened before that body Monday.

The attorneys said the brief would embody a minute chronology of the case from the discovery of the murder of Mary Phagan, April 27, 1913, and would assign these basic reasons for Frank's appeal:

"First—The death of Judge J. S. Roan, trial judge, as to Frank's guilt, as expressed when he denied the first motion for a new trial several months after the original verdict.

"Second—The dissenting opinion by Chief Justice Fish and Justice Beck of the Georgia supreme court when Frank's motion for a new trial was denied.

"Third—The dissenting opinion of Justices Hughes and Holmes of the United States supreme court in Frank's habeas corpus proceedings before that body.

State Infirmary May Have New Building to Cost $20,000—Notes of Interest to the Town

If the bill now at the legislature goes through, the state infirmary in Tewksbury will count a new building among its many structures, for the officials of the institution are asking permission to erect a new nurse hall.

According to the bill the new building will cost between $15,000 and $20,000. It will be of brick, two and a half stories in height, and will accommodate between 75 and 100 people. Dr. Deane, assistant superintendent of the institution, in conversation with a Sun reporter this forenoon said he hopes the bill is enacted for the building is of great necessity. However, he said, there may be a hitch in the granting of the petition for last year's two new buildings were erected. Of course, he said, these buildings were needed as much as this one is and for the welfare and accommodation of the institution. I see no reason why the present bill should not be enacted.

The number of inmates at the infirmary at the present time is 2582, which is considered very high for this time of the year. Last year about this time there were about 2500 people at the institution, and it is hoped as soon as the real good weather sets in the present number will drop to its normal condition, for many of the paupers who have been kept during the winter at the expense of the state will go out on their own hook, as they generally do, in summer time.

New Sidewalk
Contractor F. H. Farmer of the Centre village has been awarded the contract for the laying of a sidewalk on the main road from the Centre to Calmer's corner. A certain amount was voted and appropriated at the last town meeting and it was only shortly that the contract was awarded. A large gang of men is at work on the job and it will not be but a few weeks before the work is finished. The sidewalk is being laid on the left side of the road pointing toward Wilmington.

Moist Department
Harry Briggs, superintendent of the moist department has started his men on spraying about the town for brown tail moths. The two sprayers of the town are kept busy, the large one on the highways and the small one on private property, such as orchards, etc.

Persons
Robert McCausland and a party of friends went on a fishing excursion to the Shawheen river Tuesday evening and it is reported a great mess of fish was hooked. Fishing at the Shawheen river is reported as being the best ever.

Patten & Co., the Tewksbury florists, have a large automobile truck which is utilized in transporting daily large lots of flowers to Lowell.

Gordon Pillsbury has accepted a lucrative position with Dr. H. M. Larrabee.

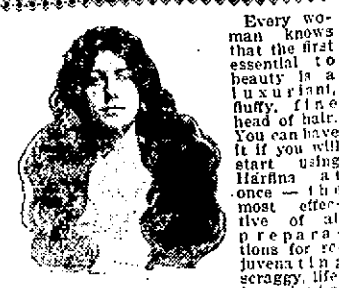

The many friends of H. Lewis Farmer will be pleased to learn he is recovering from a severe attack of appendicitis. He is now able to be out and about.

John Ryan, a former employe at the state infirmary, has accepted a good position at Detroit, Mich.

Dr. Cohen of the state infirmary has joined the ranks of automobilists by purchasing a Buick car.

The chicken raising fever which strikes the newcomers to the town every year has started again and many of the new residents are counting and selling their chickens before the eggs are hatched.

SHIP TORPEDOED

Steamer Morwenna of Montreal Shelled by German Submarine

CARDIFF, Wales, May 27, via London, 4:20 p. m.—The steamer Morwenna of Montreal was torpedoed and shelled by a German submarine at mid-day Wednesday at a point of 150 miles west by south of St. Ann's Head. One member of the crew of the vessel was killed, and three were wounded. The others have been landed here.

The Morwenna was bound from Cardiff for Sydney, Cape Breton, in ballast. The Belgian trawler Jaqueline picked up the crew.

SIX PERISH IN STORM

FORT SMITH, Ark., May 27.—Six persons are reported dead, two at Tallahassee, Okla., and four at Checotah, Okla., as a result of the storm which swept western Kansas and eastern Oklahoma last night and early today. How to Dry Clean Your Fine Laces Soiled lace is unbearable and unwearable. Washing in soap and water ruins good lace. Dry cleaning is the only safe way. Don't scrub it out, though—it's expensive and it means losing that precious lace out of your hands. Dry clean your lace at home. Here's the simple, easy, quick and safe way.

Put lace in a mixture of Putnam Dry-Cleaner and gasoline and add a handful of four if lace is white. Brush with a soft brush or silk brush. Rinse in clear gasoline, allow to dry and brush again to restore the luster.

Only takes a few minutes—absolutely harmless for the finest lace.

Take a handful of other cleaning uses for Putnam Dry-Cleaner—for gloves, dress goods, furs, hats, ribbons, neckties, curtains, etc. All can be cleaned every bit as well as the professional dry cleaner does, and at one-eighth of the cost.

You'll appreciate Putnam Dry-Cleaner—25¢ a tin. It's the only one you'll need. Write us for a free booklet, "How to Dry Clean," for 25¢.

TUBERCULOSIS HOSPITAL

DR. McLAUGHLIN INTENDS TO ENFORCE THE LAW ON LOWELL THIS SUMMER

The bill providing for the erection of tuberculosis hospitals by counties and the later assessment on the different cities and towns using them, has been killed in the legislature and now it is up to Lowell to build a contagious disease hospital. Members of the municipal council and Dr. Charles E. Simpson of the state board of health viewed certain hospital sites about two weeks ago and they are going to take another view in a day or two.

Dr. McLaughlin of the health commission has come right out flat-footedly in Lowell's case and has said that this city must do something this summer toward the erection of a contagious disease hospital, and that unless something is done he will take action against the city.

Speaking this afternoon, of Lowell's responsibility in the matter, Dr. Simpson said: "I talked with Dr. McLaughlin today and he spoke about a hospital in this city. He is determined that Lowell shall build and maintain a hospital. He says the hospital should have been built long ago and that it is now up to the city to do something about it. As to the bill providing for contagious disease hospitals, I do not believe it would have affected Lowell even though it has passed the legislature. The bill, as I understand it, provided for tuberculosis hospitals and a tuberculosis hospital would not fill the bill in Lowell. We need a contagious disease hospital and the mayor has told me that a start, at least, would be made this summer."

WHAT $10 DID FOR THIS WOMAN

The Price She Paid for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Which Brought Good Health.

Danville, Va.—"I have only spent ten dollars on your medicine and I feel so much better than I did when the doctor was treating me. I don't suffer any bearing down pains at all now and I sleep well. I cannot say enough for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills as they have done so much for me. I am enjoying good health now and owe it all to your remedies. I take pleasure in telling my friends and neighbors about them."—Mrs. MATTIE HALEY, 591 Colquhoun Street, Danville, Va.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Every woman ought to have Lydia E. Pinkham's 80-page Text Book. It is not a book for general distribution as it is too expensive. It is free, and only obtainable by mail. Write for it today. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

ELECTROMAGNET DRAWS SHRAPNEL FROM WOUNDED OF WAR IN EUROPE

SHRAPNEL EXTRACTOR

The latest step in the science of surgery is the removal of pieces of shrapnel, steel jacketed bullets and other metal substances by the use of powerful electromagnets in the hospitals in the war zone. The electromagnets have been used in great steel works in this country for some time. Particles of steel are thus removed from under the skin and from the eye. Large numbers of these machines have been sent to the war zone.

Lawrence Mill Closed as Result of Strike of 52 Beamers

LAWRENCE, May 27.—As a result of a strike of 52 beamers at the Everett mills the entire plant which employs in the vicinity of 2000 hands will be shut down indefinitely, it was announced today. Part of the plant will be shut down tonight and the remainder tomorrow night.

Agent Milliken says that present conditions did not warrant granting the request of the beamers for "day pay" on bad goods instead of "piece work pay."

The strikers claim that their wages under the piece system are materially reduced when the goods run bad.

SELECTING THE SUMMER HAT

In summer, more particularly than in other seasons, a woman's attractiveness, and shaped of headgear it should be an easy matter to select a hat. One must always consider the length as well as the breadth of the face. Then, too, the eyes and complexion must be considered. If either of the above are ignored, harmony will not exist and an ill appearance will be the result. Hats can be made that require no hat pins, but the majority of the present day require several to hold the hat in place. Nevertheless, there is no necessity of using the long and unsightly pins which so many women display. They are both dangerous and far from being attractive. One should use only short pins that do not reach through the crown of the hat.

MUST CONSULT THE PURCHASING AGENT

The first real business meeting of the cemetery commission bids fair to create a controversy in which the purchasing agent will be the aggressor. At its meeting yesterday afternoon the cemetery commission voted to buy twelve sets of the "Guest Book" for the cemetery. The matter of making purchases was discussed. Chairman John L. Robertson giving as his opinion that the members of the commission could and should make purchases without consulting the purchasing agent.

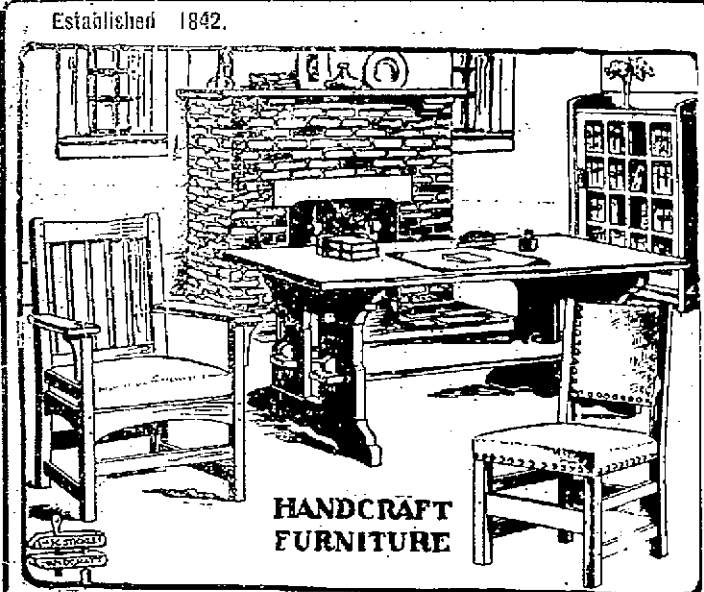

Asked today if he acquiesced with the cemetery commission relative to its authority in the purchase of material and supplies, Purchasing Agent Foye said he did not agree with the commission and the city solicitor also said that the cemetery commission was in error.

"I understand," said Mr. Foye, "that the cemetery commission voted to purchase sets and this, in my estimation, they had no right to do. I will stop payment of the bill for the sets. I do not offer this as a challenge, for I have no personal feeling in the matter. The purchase of all material and supplies must be made through the purchasing agent's office."

When told that Commissioner Putnam had made the statement at the meeting that in the past where purchases did not exceed $30 he had made them, but where they were in excess of that amount he had referred the matter to the purchasing agent, Mr. Foye said: "I think Mr. Putnam meant contracts, or something of that kind. I do not think that he meant to include material and supplies."

Mr. Foye then called the attention of his interviewer to section 65 of the charter, and to the particular section which reads as follows: "There shall be a department of material and supplies, and all material and supplies for the city shall be purchased by the chief or head of such department, who shall be known as the purchasing agent, subject to the approval of the commissioner of the particular department for which the same are intended."

City Solicitor's Opinion
Asked if he thought the cemetery commission had acted within its rights in voting to purchase the sets, City Solicitor J. Joseph Hennessy said: "Of

TOUR OF INSPECTION

The Vocational school was inspected today by members of the municipal council and school board who were shown through the different departments by Principal Fisher.

The party included Mayor Murphy, Commissioners Duncan and Putnam, with Dr. Lambert, Messrs. Simpson and Leggat of the school board, Supt. Molloy and Principal Fisher of the high school.

The visitors were escorted through the boys' departments and expressed themselves as highly pleased with the work accomplished in the carpentry, machine shop and other departments. They reached the girls' school about noon and after inspecting the departments in dressmaking, millinery and cooking they were invited to sample the cooking in a very fine menu prepared by the young ladies in charge. Principal Fisher stated that the attendance is beginning to decline as a number of pupils are leaving to take up some work for the summer.

The graduation of the girls' department will take place June 22 at 10 a. m. when friends and relatives of the pupils will be invited to attend. Mayor or Murphy will give out the diplomas. There will be an exhibition of the work in the afternoon to which the public will be invited.

LOCK UP YOUR AUTO

THIS IS SUPT. WELCH'S METHOD OF GUARDING AGAINST THIEVES NOW QUITE NUMEROUS

"If you automobile owners would be sure of your machines remaining where you leave them, it's up to you to lock them up." This is Supt. Redmond Welch's latest suggestion to stop the theft of automobiles which has been occurring with surprising regularity for the past few months.

At the present time crooks are waging war on automobiles of all makes and descriptions, and hundreds of cars are disappearing all over the country every day. The Ford car has been the worst sufferer and several cars of this make have mysteriously disappeared within the past few weeks in New England, and one belonging to William F. Elvin, the dancing teacher, was taken only a few nights ago. The man who took this car was seen by several persons, according to the police, and he was even helped out of his difficulty by young men in Gorham street when his engine stalled by unskillful handling. Shortly after the police were notified of the theft but the thief had departed, nobody knows where. Last year in Providence over 100 Ford cars were stolen and a Boston detective agency finally had to be called in to put a stop to the thefts.

Supt. Welch suggests that auto owners carry a chain and lock in their machines with which they can lock the wheels in some manner as the surest protection when the machine is left standing. Spark plugs and other appliances which are taken out by many drivers when the machine is stopped can be easily substituted, he says, and the lock and chain will be the safest. The chief did not say whether he would try the device on his car, but he isn't immune, and unless he adopts the pre-

Booth's Sardines are not the Sardine that you are accustomed to—they are four times to six times larger than the ordinary Sardine.

They are called Sardines because the United States Government officials say they belong to the Sardine family. They're big Sardines—caught in Monterey Bay, California—big in size and appetizingly delicious.

POPE ON WAR

No Consistory as Result of Conflict—Ecclesiastical Fast

ROME, May 27.—Pope Benedict says he wanted to hold a consistory in the early days of June to discuss with the sacred college matters of importance concerning the government of the church, but unfortunately the distressing events made this impossible.

"While our heart bleeds at the sight of so much misery," the pope writes, "we have not neglected to continue our work for relief and the diminution of the deplorable consequences of war."

The holy father then recalls his efforts for the exchange of wounded prisoners unable to fight again. The needs of the soul, he writes, especially attracted his fatherly attention and exceptional facilities were, consequently, afforded all chaplains called under the colors or attached to the Italian army in any capacity.

The pope then exhorts all Catholics to practice with him for three days, a strict ecclesiastical fast and he accords a plenary indulgence applicable also to souls in purgatory. Continuing the pope writes: "I wish that the echo of our voice might reach to all our children affected by the great scourge of war and persuade all of them of our participation in their troubles and sorrows. There is little of the grief of the child that is not reflected in the soul of the father."

WHAT THE FRENCH MAID SAID

PICTURES AND THE GUEST BOOK

"Your aunt is going soon to her summer home," announced Marie as Marjorie came in one morning. "She has asked me," continued Marie, "to get her a Guest Book."

"Whatever is that?" asked Marjorie, at once interested.

"A Guest Book," said the French Maid, "is not only a useful bit of permanent entertainment for the next summer's guests, but it means much to the family itself. These books or registers can be made at home or purchased at the more exclusive shops. Homemade books of rough paper with hand lettering answer the purpose perfectly and give just as much pleasure as the handsome volume of tooled leather with silver corners and clasps or tapestry with mountings of brass or copper."

"A book I saw doing service at one country home was particularly interesting. Accompanying the quaint hand-colored illustrations, showing the lodge gate, the winding drive, the door knocker, the hall clock, etc., are cheery greetings to the guest from each of these important features of the country home. In these books guests are asked to subscribe a parting sentiment, and if among them are versifiers who can do this in rhyme and artists who can do it with brush or pencil, the book grows very interesting and valuable as the seasons go by."

"That is very interesting," said Marjorie. "I think I will have one, too, but now I want you to tell me how to arrange my pictures after house cleaning."

"A hit or miss arrangement of pictures," began Marie, accommodatingly, "is apt to be worse than no pictures at all, and the walls of every room should be carefully studied with relation to the decorations in hand, that no fatal mistakes may be made in taste or in proportion of spaces. Many small pictures always suggest informality, and walls covered with framed prints, photographs, sketches and passepartouts turn a room into a 'den'—cosy and intimate."

"Large pictures in a living room should not be hung too high, a very common mistake. As a rule, the lower edge of a very large picture should be about four feet from the floor and of a medium sized picture about five feet. Smaller pictures, hung between the larger ones, may be five and a half feet from the floor and the spaces at either side of the small pictures should be the same. Sometimes a small picture may be hung exactly below a larger one, and in this case the larger may be lifted a trifle."

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

The number of graves in local cemeteries over which the little American flag will wave on Memorial day, marking the final resting places of soldiers and sailors who participated in the war of the rebellion, has increased in a quarter of a century, from 800 to over 2000, a fact that recalls the words of the late John Boyle O'Reilly in his address to the G. A. R. veterans, as follows:

"The war is behind you like a sunset, and we must stand and see the glory from the hill. 'The sun is down, and all the west is paved with golden fire.' Millions of Americans stand full grown who were not born when you fired your last shot. Year by year that sullen sun sinks into the west, and wider and wider the gaps in your ranks show against the light. In a few more years, the evening will have descended and the figures will disappear, and the night of history will have closed upon the war. For the middle-aged and the old, you still unroll the memory of the great drama. The deep-lined pictures that are darkened in their memory for the other days of the year are unveiled by your hands today. But for those who have not memory of the war, who were not born or who were infants when you returned from the field, your memorial parade has strange power to impart the thrill of that first, wild war note, the poet describes:

"Forty years had I in my city seen soldiers parading.

Forty years as a pageant, till, un- aware, the mother of this teen- ing and turbulent city.

Sleepless amid her ships, her houses, her incalculable wealth,

With her million children around her, suddenly,

At dead of night at news from the south,

Incensed, struck with clenched hand the pavement!

"And from the houses and the work- shops, and through all the doorways the strong men leapt, tumultuous, and lo! The north, armed, marching south- ward to the conflict."

Memorial Day Observance
The old Sun's report of the Memo- rial day observance of quarter of a century ago was in part as follows:

"The weather was all that could be desired and the veterans turned out in full numbers. About 800 graves in the Lowell cemeteries are marked by G. A. R. standards and on each of these was placed one or more living plants that will be kept alive for several weeks. At 12:30 the different posts left their respective halls and went to the different cemeteries for the purpose of decorating the graves: Post 12 to the Lowell; Post 120, to the Edison, Cath- olic and No. 2 cemeteries, and Post 153 to the school street. Camp Far- tragt, Sons of Veterans, and the dis- abled veterans went to the Hillside cemetery. Within the gate of each cemetery a simple service was held, conforming to the ritual of the order, prayer being offered by the different chaplains.

The posts then assembled at the South common where the procession was formed as follows:

Platoon of Police, Capt. Davis, Chief Marshal Woodbridge W. Tuttle, Chief of Staff Samuel Broughton, Aide: Col. C. A. R. Dimon, Dr. F. C. Plunkett, F. A. Bates, Harry Pettin- gill, J. P. Thompson, 12; Maj. E. J. Noyes, H. M. Jacobs, D. H. Varnum, Jr., Bartlett, Richard Dohbins, Capt. C. H. Richardson, George E. Plakham, C. F. Robinson, G. C. Brock, R. P. Charters, 153; Col. H. E. Gray, Sons of Veterans; W. R. Hart, Co. C, Sixth regiment; Lieut. E. E. Rus- sell, Co. M, Ninth regiment.

American Brass band, Co. C, Sixth regiment, Mechanics' while, Phalanx, Capt. Pratt, Co. G, Sixth regiment, Putnam Guards, Capt. Bean, Co. M, Ninth regiment, Welch guards, Capt. Conners,

Co. D, Second Corps Cadets, Captain Proctor, High School Drum Corps, High School Regt., Capt. H. M. Chase, Post 12, Drum Corps,

Post 12, four companies, 152 men, Post 120 Band,

Post 120, three battalions, 150 men, in charge of Commander C. W. Nevins, North Billerica band, Post 153, four companies, 150 men, Commander, J. D. S. Baldwin, senior vice, Charles A. Dow, junior vice, George T. Woodward, adjutant, An- drew Liddell, officer of the day, W. Arnold, First company, Capt. Chas. H. Richardson, Second company, Capt. Geo. L. Cady, Third company, Capt. Albert A. Davis, Fourth company, Capt. James P. Emerson, color bear- er, Alfred Day, markers, A. I. Gil- man, Fred Baron.

The services at the monument were conducted by Rev. A. St. John Cham- bre and after the parade camp-fires were held in the different post halls.

Rev. Dr. Blackburn's Remarks

The concluding event of the day's ob- servance was the monster memorial meeting held in Huntington hall. Com- mander Nevins opened the meeting and a brief address was made by Mayor Palmer. The orator of the occasion was Rev. Alexander Blackburn, a local clergyman, and also state chaplain of the G. A. R. In the course of his ad- dress he spoke as follows:

"The sacrifices of the war call for a higher intelligence of the citizen. Rulers were always supposed to be edu- cated, here every man is a ruler and we should, therefore, all be enlight- ened. Wherever a dozen children come together there should be a school to educate and Americanize them. They must be taught loyalty to the flag."

He next alluded to the importance of protecting the ballot. For this pur- pose, he said, the schools should teach more than the three Rs, they should also teach righteousness. There need be no infringement of religious rights to teach the sin of lying, the wicked- ness of profanity, the disgrace of bri- bery, the degradation of intemperance and the ruin that will come from gam- bling. Teach every child the sacred- ness of integrity, whether in business or society, or in home or in politics. Teach the honorableness of labor and the ignominy of laziness, and that to be a tramp is next to being a thief. Give us schools everywhere whose product, so far as any human power is concerned, shall be well rounded American citizens.

"The slavery problem is solved, but the problems of capital and labor, work and wages, profits and poverty, of ma- chines and men must now be met. Whatever may be the details of settle- ment when it comes we may be sure it will be no dream of 'Looking Back- ward,' as outlined by Bellamy. Men will not lose their individuality in any scheme of paternal government. There will be, there must be, a recog- nition of each man's labor, his independ- ence and manhood. The object of labor is not to make the few rich but the many comfortable. When the object of house-building is not to enrich the land owners but to put roofs over the heads of people; when cloth is made to clothe people and not for the sake of divi- dends, when shoes are made for the feet of people and not for the coffers of the manufacturers; in short, when we come to govern the amount of production by the needs of men, then one step will be taken in the direction of human progress."

The speaker finally said that there is greater need for a higher appreciation of American citizenship. Good men stay away from the polls without pre- text so little do they value the privi- lege for which so many brave men died. Another class have a low idea of the value of citizenship. These are mostly foreigners who are ready to take most everything else but responsibility. He would not check immigration but it may be time to say to the men of other nations, come to obey or do not come at all. America for Americans, whether free-born or naturalized, may some day be a good motto."

In connection with the above exer- cises the Lowell Cornet band gave a program and there was singing by a male quartet.

Local Teacher Sued
About the time that the Rev. Dr. Blackburn declared that the schools should teach the wick- edness of profanity, one local teacher attempted to teach it in a practical manner with dire results, for the old Sun had the following:

"A very peculiar suit is about to come up in the local courts. The defendant being a local school teacher and the plaintiffs the parents of a former pupil of that teacher now dead. The case is brought to recover damages for the alleged causing of the death of the boy by washing out his mouth with soap suds which it is alleged affected his throat and stomach, as well as his nervous system and induced diph- theria, from which the boy died. The punishment was resorted to as a means of preventing the boy from swearing. The soap was rubbed on a cloth which was used on the boy's mouth after which water was freely applied to remove the soap. Of course in the boy's excitement he may have swallowed some of the soap which would not be very pleasant. However this may be, he could not eat anything after going home as he still felt the taste of the soap in his mouth. He was taken with a fit of vomiting but seemed to be all right. He was sent back to school for a few days after which he became ill with diphtheria and died. Peter A. Fay represents the plaintiffs and Hon. C. S. Lilley, the defendant."

In its report of the meeting of the school board held at the time that the complaint was made the old Sun said: "Mr. McEvoy brought up the mouth- washing case. He said that he had been referred to the teacher, who stated that bearing the child use profan- ity she had applied soap to a tow-

Appetite Follows Good Digestion

Nearly everyone indulges their appetite and the digestive organs are abused, resulting in a conges- tion of poisonous waste that clogs the bowels and causes much mis- ery and distress.

The most effective remedy to correct this condition is the com- bination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, known as Dr. Cald- well's Syrup Pepsin. This is a natural, pleasant-tasting remedy, gently yet positive in action, and quickly relieves indigestion, consti- pation, sick headache, belching, etc. Drug stores sell Dr. Cald- well's Syrup Pepsin at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, and in thousands of homes it is the in- dispensable family remedy. The clerks then had much harder jobs as regards hours compared with their more fortunate brethren of today, but in those days everybody worked longer hours.

Busy Store Clerks
Recently I mentioned a meeting of the old Lowell Commercial club, com- posed of well known store clerks of that time, who had organized for the purpose of getting a shorter working day. In the old days they worked nearly every evening in the week; had no Thursday afternoons off in the sum- mer and few holidays. The old Com- mercial club grew to be an important organization and did much good for its members. The old Sun reports a meet- ing of quarter of a century ago as fol- lows:

"A meeting of the Lowell Commercial club was held Tuesday evening in the Appleton block. Mr. M. Boulger was appointed secretary in place of Mr. Henry, resigned. The committee appointed to interview the merchants re- lative to closing on Memorial day (after- noon and evening) reported that at least two firms showed an inclination to concede the time: Putnam & Son and Brickett & Foster. These firms signed an agreement conditional on it being unanimous. The following names mem- bers were admitted: C. G. Wellbourn, Thomas Broderick, Russell Williams, A. C. Crutchell, E. R. Lowe, William Viney, Henry O'Brien, G. H. H. La- gasse, Sam Burbank, Fred Pearson, George Lawson, Joe Poggins and Mr. Crochere. A long debate took place on the question of fewer hours. During which it was stated that two of the larger concerns would be in favor of closing one afternoon a week during July and August. LOWELL PLAYED POOR BASEBALL

Scored One Run On Ten Hits, While Worcester Counted Four

Zieser Pitched Fine Game and Should Have Won Contest

Although Matty Zieser allowed but four hits, three singles and a double, Worcester won a badly misplayed game at Spalding park in ten innings yesterday afternoon. It was the sort of a contest that is heart-breaking to lose for a pitcher who worked as did Matty.

Lowell committed four errors, while the visitors made six blunders. Yet the half dozen errors coupled with ten clean smashes were unable to shove runs across for Lowell. The game in detail follows:

First Inning

Matty Zieser took charge of the rubber for Lowell. Collins, Worcester's new left fielder, put up a fly to short left which Stimpson took after a short run. Conney nearly knocked Zieser's glove off with a rifle shot grounder, but Matty knocked it down and threw the runner out at first. Gardella then put up a foul-fly which was easy for Lowell's third sacker. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Lowell threatened to score in her half of the first, but took it out in threatening. Swayne died at first on a rap to Kelliher, the first baseman fielding the ball and throwing to Turner who covered the bag. Carroll staggered around in under McCleskey's high foul in front of the plate, but the ball finally landed in his glove. Dee then denied the left field fence with a two-bagger. He was left at second, however, when Barrows went out on a grounder to the box. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Score: Lowell 0, Worcester 0.

Second Inning

The wind took Pottelger's fly and swept the ball into Swayne's hands. The Lowell right fielder did very well to judge its flight so nicely. Stimpson picked Cabrera's drive to left off his shoe strings. Kelliher fouled off several bad ones and swung fruitlessly for the third time. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Conney was too certain on Stimpson's easy grounder and allowed the ball to roll between his legs. Stimpson reaching the first depot in safety. McMahon drove a pretty single through the box over second base into centre field, putting "Stimpy" on second and the Lowell rooters, who few of them there were at the park today, yelled for a score. Meyers attempted to sacrifice both men around but his bunt was too short and Carroll pegged to Gardella.

Gardella forced out Stimpson at third. Kelliher fielded Egan's grounder but found it uncovered, so that the Lowell catcher reached first in safety, thus filling the bases. Zieser tried hard to bring in a run but the best he could do was "hit a high infield fly, which Gardella took. Swayne was out when he hit to Cabrera, the Cuban's rapid throw nipping him at first. No runs, two hits, one error.

Score: Lowell 0, Worcester 0.

Third Inning

McCleskey jumped into the air and took Carroll's swift poke toward right field. It was a clever put-out. Keegan hit to Zieser. Matty made an attempt to stop the ball but it bounced off his glove into centre field. Dee took Turner's grounder forcing out Carroll at second himself but his throw to Meyers was bad. Had the peg been perfect a double play could have been easily effected. Zieser was wild and bumped Collins' back bone with his curved ball; but the danger was all over when Conney lifted a long fly to right which Swayne ran back and captured. No runs, one hit, no errors.

McCleskey's bat connected with the ball for a savage double to the right field fence. Pottelger came in hard, fast and sure when Dee fired to short centre. McCleskey went to third while Conney was pegging out Barrows at first on his creeping grounder. The first run of the game crossed the plate when Cabrera slipped up on Stimpson's hard grounder near second. McCleskey scoring. McMahon singled to centre but Stimpson overran second and was an easy victim of Pottelger's peg to the pivot sack. One run, two hits, one error.

Score: Lowell 1, Worcester 0.

Fourth Inning

Gardella flied to Stimpson, the ball not going very deep into left on account of the wind. Pottelger was also a disappointment to Burkett, his infield fly being gathered in by McMahon. Dee grabbed Cabrera's grounder and his throw to first was accurate

SOME OF THE LEADING DRIVERS IN INDIANAPOLIS 500 MILE SPEEDWAY RACE

1. J. PARPARATO 2. NEIL WHALEN 3. CHARLES F. KEENE 4. CALEB BRAGG

INDIANAPOLIS, May 28.—A world's record will fall during the Indianapolis 500 mile race, tomorrow, unless the calculations of all the experts go astray. The first eight cars in the contest, taken as a whole, average a mile an hour faster in the elimination trials this year than the corresponding group did last, with averages of 96.3 and 95.3 respectively, to their credit. This may not seem much to the average person, but when it comes to setting the pace it makes a world of difference. None of the cars falls below 80 miles an hour, the slowest, the Emden, showing 80.3. Last year contestants were required to travel only seventy-five miles an hour to qualify. On the whole, this year's Indianapolis 500 mile race looms up like the hardest and fastest in history. What the field lacks in size, only twenty-five cars starting, instead of thirty as last year, it will more than make up in speed. Evenly balanced throughout, it will provide a race, the result of which will be in doubt until the last minute. The list of men who will drive cars are: Wilcox, De Palma, Resla, Cooper, Anderson, Porporato, Oldfield, Klein, Alley, Le Cain, Grant, O'Donnell, Babcock, J. De Palma, J. Cooper, Carlson, Orr, Milford, Rickenbacher, Mais, Cox and Chevrolet. Upper picture shows Alley out for a practice spin. Lower one, Porporato in his Bullet.

enough for a put-out. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Meyers proved a patient waiter and drew his reward for four bad ones. Egan then laid down a bunt in front of the plate which sacrificed the big first baseman to second. A neat double play followed, Conney duplicating McCleskey's leap of the lining before, when he took Zieser's smash and then threw to second, getting Meyers who had started for third. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Score: Lowell 1, Worcester 1.

Fifth Inning

McCleskey made a fine stop of Kelliher's grounder and his throw to Meyers was as accurate as his fielding. Zieser was wild with Carroll at the bat and Stuffy pulled down a free ticket to first. Keegan also walked. Turner hit to McMahon. Billy threw to McCleskey, forcing Keegan. McCleskey tried to make a double out of it and threw the ball over Meyers' head into the first base bleachers, allowing Carroll to score. Zieser deflected the course of Collins' grounder into Dee's hands and Sherry's throw got the runner at first. One run, no hits, one error.

Swayne led off in Lowell's half with a crack over Conney's head into right field. It was a base blow. Swayne was easily thrown out when he tried to steal second. The Lowell signals made no attempt to swing the ball came to McCleskey and Dee tried to make a double steal and Mc was caught at the plate. The Worcester infield used a simple trick, Carroll throwing to the pitcher instead of second base when Dee got a start. This inning is a fair example of the way Lowell's hits have been thrown away this season. No runs, two hits, one error.

Lowell 1, Worcester 1.

Sixth Inning

Conney used all his speed but could not get away from Dee's throw on his shoe strings to short. The ball came to McCleskey on the mound when Gardella grounded toward second and Burkett's third baseman was easily extinguished. Zieser began a spasm of wildness and Pottelger trotted to first without hindrance. Pottelger was nailed when he tried to steal second. Egan's throw was low, the ball rolling to McCleskey after striking the ground and Mac did well to make the putout. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Stimpson's savage drive to centre was taken care of by Pottelger. McMahon went out on his grounder to the box, Turner nodding up the ball and shooting it to Kelliher. Conney threw out Meyers on the latter's easy grounder. No runs, no hits, no errors.

When Swayne held up several times while the players dug the dirt out of their eyes. Clouds of dust blew across the diamond.

Score: Lowell 1, Worcester 1.

Seventh Inning

McMahon was a stone wall on Cabrera's hard smash toward third, stopping the drive and throwing out the Cuban with ease. McCleskey took Kelliher's grounder and the Worcester first baseman died the same death. Carroll got a life when McCleskey booted his grounder. Stuffy was thrown out, however, when he tried to swipe second. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Egan led off in the lucky seventh with a crack to centre of the one base variety. The Lowell catcher took a nap, however, and was nailed asleep on the bag. Gardella booted Zieser's grounder. Matty skipped to first and was safe. Swayne went out at second when Swayne hit to Gardella. Swayne beat the throw to first. Turner turned wild and cut loose four bad ones to McCleskey, sending Swayne to second. He reached for a bad one and knocked a fly into Cabrera's hands. No runs, one hit, one error.

Score: Lowell 1, Worcester 1.

Eighth Inning

Meyers tried to spear Keegan's high drive, but the ball got away from him and went for a single. Meyers could have gotten the runner, but the base was uncovered. Turner tried to sacrifice Keegan to second, but Zieser fielded his bunt and whipped the ball to Dee for a force-out at the half way station. McMahon pegged out Collins at first sending Turner to second on the put-out. Swayne made a beautiful catch of Conney's hard drive to right centre. The Lowell right fielder was warmly clapped as he returned to the bench. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Collins was waiting for Barrows' smash to left. Pottelger made a wonderful catch of Stimpson's hard drive to left centre. McMahon took two strikes and then drove the ball over Keegan's head into deep right field for three sacks. Meyers flied out to Pottelger. No runs, one hit, no errors.

Score: Lowell 1, Worcester 1.

Ninth Inning

McMahon scooped up Gardella's creeper and smothered the runner at first. The Worcester players were continually talking from the bench unhindered by the umpire. McCleskey ran back and took Pottelger's short fly. Cabrera fell a victim to strikes. No runs, no hits, no errors.

Egan was an easy out on his grounder to Kelliher. Zieser sent up a high fly to left which hopped out of Collins' glove.

Kelliher and Carroll both ran for Swayne's foul-fly. Kelliher making the catch after bumping into Carroll. McCleskey forced Zieser to second on his grounder to Conney. No runs, no hits, one error.

Score: Lowell 1, Worcester 1.

Tenth Inning

The Worcester players continued to shout from the bench without even a warning from McMahon. Egan made a truly wonderful catch of Kelliher's foul-fly, taking the ball while leaning over the bleacher fence. Zieser then walked Carroll. McMahon was bad on strikes and balls with Carroll and Keegan at the plate, missing a strike on each of them. Keegan got an infield hit. McCleskey doing well to stop the ball. Carroll went to third.

Turner doubled to left centre, scoring Carroll and Keegan. Turner went to third when the throw-in got by Egan. Zieser hit Collins.

Conney hit to McMahon and Turner coasted while Collins went to third on McMahon's wild throw. The ball hit Turner in the back. Gardella flied to Dee.

McCleskey threw out Pottelger. Three runs, two hits, two errors.

Cabrera threw out Dee. Barrows singled to the box and took second on Turner's high throw to first. Turner threw out Stimpson at first. McMahon went out on a line drive to Turner. No runs, one hit, one error.

Score: Lowell 1, Worcester 1.

AN 18 INNING TIE IN WOBURN

Lowell High Put Up Great Game With Woburn

Game Full of Thrills—Woburn Stronger at the Bat

WOBURN, May 28.—The longest and sharpest baseball game ever played by the local high school team was against Lowell high on Library field yesterday afternoon, resulting in a draw, 4 to 4, at the end of the 18th inning after a three-hour struggle, the game being called on account of darkness.

Woburn H. S. had the advantage in batting, but was unable to bunt hits when hits were needed. Both sides gave a fine exhibition of fielding, the two shortstops showing excellent form. Conlon for Woburn accepting 10th innings, and Breen for Lowell taking care of it. There was an attendance of 2000.

Roche played strongly in left field, and Hyde, at first, saved his team by a wonderful stop of a high thrown ball. It was full of thrills from start to finish.

MAY NOT BE HELD

Exposition Championships Will Perhaps be Shifted to Boston

That the Panama-Pacific exposition has not sent funds to help finance the sending of athletes to the senior and junior track and field championships, which are scheduled to take place at the exposition, became known yesterday. This money was to have been sent by May 1, and it is a question now whether or not the try-outs will be held.

These try-outs are scheduled to be held in the Harvard stadium, but unless the money is forthcoming it is likely they will be abandoned.

The junior and senior championships will be held at the exposition, but instead, would take place in Boston, the scene of the try-outs. This, according to Frederick W. Rubien, secretary-treasurer of the A. A. U., is hardly likely.

The junior and senior championships will be held at the exposition, he said yesterday, "even in the event of the funds not being forthcoming, provided that the Coast A. A. U. athletic authorities want them. If they do not it is another matter. If they should say Boston will be the choice."

While the stadium has been engaged for the try-outs, the announcement has been held back to await an answer on the fund question from the exposition officials. Mr. Rubien has been in communication with them on this point, and expects an early answer. Then the A. A. U. officials will take definite action on the try-outs for the championships.

The exposition people are anxious to have the pretentious athletic program arranged out down, and A. A. U. officials have this phase of the question under active consideration. They are waiting to settle this also upon word from San Francisco. So far the athletic events held at the exposition in which A. A. U. men have taken part have proven a big success financially, according to A. A. U. men.

If matters are arranged satisfactorily the try-outs will be held in Boston on June 25, and in Chicago on July 17. But whatever the adjustment of affairs it is not likely that A. A. U. championships will again be held at an exposition. Such organizations are anxious to have only those contests that are likely to prove paying.

"Athletic events have been held in connection with many expositions and have proved a big attraction," said a man well informed on athletic matters yesterday. "This has been a good thing for the sport, but great expense is attached to conducting these meets. I believe that exposition officials should be willing to take the loss with the fact, but apparently they always want only the contests that prove most profitable."

ATLASA.A. BOUTS

For the past few years Mike Glover, the clever South Boston welterweight, has made futile efforts to get the leaders of his class to recognize him.

But one after the other gave Mike the once over and then moved on. He was considered too tough.

Jack Britton engaged his attention in no decision bouts, but the Chicago flash always evaded Krum Elbow, which was above the head of the course. It is pushed toward the east side of the river and thus the fastest current is farthest from the west shore.

But Glover at last is going to have an opportunity to demonstrate his ring qualifications. Jack Britton declined to engage Mike's attention at the Atlas A. A. next Tuesday night, but Matt Wells, his stable partner, has a chance too for a big match and he informed Dan Morgan, his manager, to clinch the bout for him.

Bostonians remember Wells as a very all. He won the Lord Lonsdale belt for Fred Welsh and displayed the trophy in this city when he came here to fight Paul Moore of Philadelphia.

As a performer he is one of the most satisfactory that ever drifted this way. A busy fellow, well versed in the game and a general as well he proved himself to be a boxer who was willing to take chances notwithstanding he possessed a crown at the time.

This will be Wells' first appearance in this country since his return from England that he could not be a soldier because of a pair of cauliflower ears. He volunteered to teach the soldiers what he knew of boxing and prepared them for the front at a training station at London. His services were accepted, but after a few months' service he was without a training station at London. His services were accepted, but after a few months' service he was without a training station at London.

Wells captured the Australian welterweight championship when he was in Sydney and he saw an opportunity to get started right by engaging in a match with the boy who is generally recognized as the best man of his weight in America. By annexing that world's champion would be his if he could on his return to England win the welterweight champion of the British Isles.

No time was lost clinching the match. The boxers will weigh 142 pounds. Glover is training for the bout at Mike Devane's Highland Lake farm, while Wells is working at Stratford, Conn., with Battling Levinsky. It is the most important match of the season because of its international character and the fact that the event is likely to lead to a settlement of the welterweight title, which has been in abeyance for several years.

The preliminary program will have Joe Egan meeting Bert Davidson of Buffalo in an eight-round bout; Eddie Donahue and Joe Vargus together with Lawrence will furnish six-round preliminary bouts. Popular assessment will prevail for this meeting also.

LIEUT. BECKER TO FIGHT

CONDEMNED MAN DECIDES LIFE IS SWEET, EVEN THOUGH IT IS SPENT BEHIND BARS

MRS. CHARLES BECKER

Charles Becker, former lieutenant in the New York police department, after a talk with his devoted wife, decided that life was sweet, even though the balance of it might be spent behind bars. His death warrant has been signed by the judge of the court of appeals, and the week beginning July 12 was designated as the time of his execution. When first told that the court of appeals had decided against him Becker asserted he would not appeal to the United States supreme court for a new trial, and under no circumstances would he appeal to Governor Whitman, who, as district attorney, prosecuted him for the murder of Herman Rosenthal. But the prisoner changed his mind. "I will fight to a finish," he told Father Cashin, who visited him soon after the departure of Mrs. Becker. "I have had a talk with my wife and now nothing can make me give up. I will carry my case to the highest court in the land and will appeal to the governor."

TONIGHT'S THE NIGHT

The general enthusiasm of Wednesday was far too ardent to be injured by the rain, for it was Lowell day, and Lowell was bound to celebrate, rain or no rain. And Lowell did celebrate, indeed, though not to the extent intended. Never did the city look more beautiful than in the morning hours. The streets were rarely brilliant with their array of lovely colors, and the hundreds of American flags flying from roofs and windows made a sight to be long remembered. The stores, too, responded to the call for external decoration, and all in all, Lowell presented a picture of beauty and order to our visitors. And there were many of them. By dozens and scores they poured in on the special cars, and one could easily imagine how successful this part of the program would have been with more propitious weather. The stores, too, reflected the increased patronage, and the advertising which the city received will surely have an effect in the future.

Once again the Board of Trade deserves the thanks of all good citizens for this enterprise. To their initiative, backed by the support of the press, the lighting system is largely due, and in the carrying out of the plans for celebration they showed a sensible understanding of the city's needs. The merchants who cooperated so readily also deserve special praise, and it is to be regretted that the uncertain weather operated to prevent the benefits which they would have reaped in the full had the day been bright and clear.

Under the circumstances it was inevitable that the formal celebration of the White Way opening and the official Lowell day features should have been postponed, but we can afford to be patient. The heavy rain only served to clean up the streets, freshen the air and give everything a more festive appearance. The occasional light of the White Way system, as seen for the past two evenings, but served to whet our curiosity, and tonight we shall have our belated celebration even with more spirit than originally intended. The feeling of intense disappointment shown on all sides last Wednesday proved eloquently the popularity of the occasion, and there can be no doubt that the White Way observance will be characterized by general enthusiasm this evening.

Let us then turn out tonight in our hundreds of thousands to encourage the merchants and others who by their untiring efforts, practical support and sacrifices have made the event possible. The new lights that will flash on in the early evening will certainly be a revelation, and there will be music, marching and all that goes to make an inspiring demonstration. Most impressive of all, however, will be the mass of Lowell citizens enjoying the primal display of the new White Way.

It will remain for all who turn out tonight to hold the celebration of which the weather cheated us, to remember that the White Way observance is not intended as an empty show. It is aimed to arouse local enthusiasm in the city, its institutions, its merchants and its advantages generally. Along the streets to be bathed in the brilliant light are stores which in their service, prices and facilities will compare with those of any city in the country. It is to help these stores while illuminating the public streets the White Way has been planned and executed, and the people of Lowell should do their part, not only tonight but throughout the year. Tonight would be a fine time to resolve to become a citizen of Lowell in all that the term implies, becoming a believer in Lowell as a city of opportunity, and booming its advantages in the most practical manner possible.

LYNN SCHOOL BOARD

We have occasionally heard references by press and public to certain secret sessions of local school boards, or methods that were similar in design and effect, but our school board never got into the limelight as brazenly as the school board of Lynn is doing at the present time. According to certain leading politicians and teachers' organizations of that city, reported in the papers of Lynn and Boston, the school board of Lynn has resorted to "star chamber" methods, boasted salaries and displayed gross favoritism in appointments at variance with the spirit of the Lynn charter. The case has more than a passing interest for Lowell, and the Lowell school board ought to give it a passing thought.

The Lynn conditions have reached such a pass that Finance Commissioner Bergenzen has announced his intention of taking steps to have the Lynn school board abolished and a commission of education appointed at a salary of $3,000 annually. To do this he should be attacked from any source, would have to get the consent of the Premier Asquith is a great parliamentary majority of the city government and of the legislature, but he apparently weaknesses of the new cabinet it is feels that he would be supported by doubtful if he could have made it any the opinion of the city. The secret, stronger and at the same time main meetings of the board are responsible for the feeling that exists, but of the cabinet is proof that England is apparently the board has no intention of being too rich in great statesmen, just of submitting to the adverse criticism as in the command of her army and of the commissioner of finance or any body else. It is announced that the great generals and great admirals, Lynn Teachers' club is to hold an in-Lynn let's see whether the new cabinet dignation meeting to protest against, organized on the harmony basis will the neglect of teachers' petitions for a more strongly emphasize England's raise in salary while the salaries of power on land or sea.

The school board of Lynn, like that of Lowell, cannot do better than to obey the letter and spirit of the charter in holding meetings in the open. Secrecy gives rise to public suspicion, which once aroused is not always just in its conclusions. The school board like the municipal council is doing the business for the public, spending the money of the public, and hence should be above the domination of any clique and class, complying in all respects with the organic law of the city.

THE COALITION CABINET

Judging from the personnel of the coalition ministry formed in England, German responsibility can be shown very few will admit that it is to any American action will be prompt and great extent stronger or better than decisive, and remembering the recent that which it is displaced. First of note which Germany takes as being to all the cabinet is a makeshift because unsound, the American policy cannot it became a necessity in order to well be a failure.

There was considerable criticism of neutral, were apparently sunk according to Lord Chancellor Haldane on account of a settled and deliberate of his anti-bellum sympathies with policy, and no attempt has been made Germany, although he was one of the at extermination on the ground of a mis-ablest men in the liberal cabinet, take. Presumably, therefore, Germany Bonar Law is a lightweight, and will take the blame, if the attack on the Nebraskan was intended, and if so, it would seem that the German government really cares little either for our neutrality or our good opinion. Incidents such as that of the damage to the Nebraskan ought to prepare this country for an unfavorable reply to the momentous note of President Wilson—though American public opinion was beginning to grow optimistic in this regard.

GOOD LIGHTING EVERYWHERE

The lighting of Lowell does not end with the so-called "white way," and while we may be enthusiastic over the new system, we must not forget the needs of all other localities in the same particular. The leading business streets should, of course, be illuminated more brightly than all others, but every street to the limits of the residential section should be lighted sufficiently for public comfort, convenience and safety. Now that we have done so notably in the central districts, we should not overlook the claims of many other districts.

It was well brought out by some of the petitioners for the extension of the new system that there is a direct connection between municipal lighting and some species of crimes. Dark corners, corners and alleys, especially in congested districts, are more often the scenes of assaults, robberies, insults to women and like offenses than well lighted streets, and the occasional wave of terror that passes over certain sections where nightly prowlers are reported is the result of ill-lighted streets in large measure. Could we have brilliant lighting in all our business streets and adequate lighting in all our residential streets, there would be a sensible falling off in certain species of crime that at present keep our police court well supplied with criminals.

RAILROAD BRIDGE

The Lowell public will not doubt the statement of a petitioner for the Boston and Maine railroad before the county commission, viz: that the Cheimfords street bridge has rusted and deteriorated to a point of danger and should be replaced. The bridge proved that such is the case by tumbling down in a rather sensational manner some time ago, and though it was temporarily repaired, the public has never felt over-confident. When a bridge falls down, it is certainly in need of repair or replacing, but the Boston and Maine railroad should prevent such a demonstration of inefficiency by continual supervision and prevention of such accidents. It is to be hoped that the Boston and Maine will find it possible in the near future to erect a new and safe bridge, even though the preliminary plans do not indicate that the removal of the Middlesex grade crossing is intended. If in improving the bridge the railroad would also improve the stairs adjoining

SEEN AND HEARD

Nobody ever called a preacher a liar at a funeral.

"Is this a first class restaurant?" asked the haughty individual.

"Oh, yes," answered the waiter, "but we don't mind serving you."

George Ade tells a story which he says always seems fresh and glistering to him, no matter how old it is.

It is about two gentlemen looking at a railway carriage, one gentleman said to the other, "Is your wife entertaining this summer?"

WAS SOMETHING HERITABLE

When the doctor came down from seeing her husband he told her that her good man would shortly be on the road to convalescence.

"What's the matter?" asked the doctor.

"I mean, he will be getting better," said the doctor, "You will know because he will get irritable—extremely."

When he called the next day the doctor found the devoted woman as happy as a sandpiper, smiling and singing to herself.

"Oh, how are we today?" he asked.

"Oh, he's getting better, all right," she answered. "He came down to the kitchen this morning and there he got the foot of the coal and shut our old house dog because it wouldn't say 'please'."

"So I cooked him a dish of tripe and onions and he came back to work. It's wonderful how you doctors know things!"

AN EXPERT'S ADVICE

I know it is a very, very difficult matter, says Mackay Arthur in The Rubber Monthly, to try to convince lovers that there are such little things in their lives as quarrels. My pen hesitates a moment—quarrels are not numbered amongst the happiest of things to talk about, but we must face them, nevertheless, so will you lend me your ear for a moment?

I remember once hearing the late Professor Baskin say that "counting the hair is like a flower—a little care and proper treatment does wonders. Just as a plant without air and water withers and dies, so will the hair go if not given proper nourishment. The scalp must be perfectly healthy and free from dandruff, as the scalp is to the hair what soil is to plants and flowers."

If your hair is greasy, it is becoming color, too dry, brittle, falling out, or if the scalp itches and burns, you can easily overcome all of these conditions by using Pears' Scented Hair Cream.

It goes right into the hair roots, stimulating them and causing the nourishment that is needed for the hair to grow not only long and heavy, but fluffy, soft, lustrous and gloriously radiant. You can get a box of this inexpensive, yet delightful and helpful hair cream from Adams Hardware and Paint Co. It begins with the very first application. Besides stopping the scalp irritation it removes every bit of dandruff. The use of this unequalled tonic will surely give you a new life and beauty.

ing, as requested by Mr. George J. Harrigan for the board of trade, the public would appreciate the improvement.

EARLY VICTORIES

In modern warfare the early victories of a campaign have little meaning, otherwise one might decide that Italy is having great success in its warfare against Austria. Italy has taken the initiative and is meeting with little resistance in its invasion, but there is an ominous silence in Berlin and Vienna which points to strategy. Italy could scarcely have made such a successful thrust into Austrian territory, unless the resistance was passive, and Austria cannot intend to let the invasion go on until the Italian troops would be a serious menace. Judging from plans of the Germans in the campaign against Russia, the aim of the Austro-German army is to let the Italians get into the passes of the frontier before making a strong resistance. Preliminary skirmishes will mean little but in the near future there must be a great concerted struggle that Italy as well as her allies foresee. Owing to the character of the territory on the borders of Italy and Austria, the scene of a battle is of the utmost importance to one side or the other, and on the German side somebody will be in charge who has made a specialty of the Alps as Hindenburg has of the Prussian marshes.

The sinking of the battleship Triumph in the Dardanelles proves again that the famous straits are more disastrous to the fleets of the allies than the entire German fleet. Nature is the greatest foe with which England and France have to contend, for the high banks, the swift currents and the narrow gorges give the enemy every chance to pick off a battleship by mine or submarine. The importance of the Dardanelles and Constantinople in a military sense is well indicated by the sacrifices that the allies are willing to make in taking them.

A list of the stores that have decorated their fronts in honor of Lowell day shows that once again most of our merchants have shown a commendable spirit of enterprise. Whenever a special occasion calls for external show, we can depend on Lowell merchants to do their part nobly.

The weather clerk means well, after all. He saw the necessity of washing streets and walls so that the bright lights would reveal a spotless town. And he must have known that the people of Lowell are good waiters.

Being interested in street development, Commissioner Duncan must be immensely pleased at the splendid work now being done on Stafford street on which he is the only resident.

Late but lively!

The noblest, grandest poem lies not in line or gold. Among the treasured volumes And that resplendent bookshelves hold; But in bright and glowing visions It comes into the poet's brain. And when he tries to grasp it, He finds his efforts vain.

A fairy hand from dreamland Lays out in line and there, And when we strive to clasp it It rushes into air. And thus our fair ideal Flies away just before And with longing spirits Reach for it evermore.

—Wrensocket Call.

THE IDEAL

I think the song that is sweetest Is the one that is never sung— It lies in the heart of the singer Who cannot find the words to sing. And sometimes in the silence Between the day and the night, He catches that its measure Has flown to the light.

A picture that is fairer Than all that have a part In the masterpieces Of the marble halls of art Is one that haunts the painter In all his golden dreams, And to the painter only A real picture seems.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

WAR TO THE DEATH

With the addition of Italy to the fray all hope of peace without the utter exhaustion of one side or the other disappears. Italy, however, we know that Italy did not enter the war until assured of large territorial acquisitions as the price of her assistance to the allies, and this territorial gain must be made from them outside of the small part left of Turkey in Europe by the Balkan allies. The war is now to the death, and the result will be the entire reversion of the map of southern Europe.—Burlington Free Press.

BIRD MUSIC

Bird-music before you are up in the morning sounds like something that you would like to have in your life. If you lived in the golden age and slept under a fairy ring out in some enchanted glade. Perhaps everything is enchanted in May, even the busy street where milk carts rattle and ash barrels have to stand in a row awaiting the next move of destiny. At any rate, if there is a true thinking about something, you have only to go to bed with your head near an open window to find the fairy choir going beautifully when you wake up.—Lewiston Sun.

THE PILOT

The people of the United States, we believe are justified in saying the great mass of the people in the belief and neutral countries, are inspired with a sincere admiration for the judicial and self-restrained attitude which has been maintained by the president of the United States during the period of the present war. There is no necessity to strengthen such a statement with insipid compliments, which no man would value less than Mr. Wilson himself. The statement, however, as a strict historic fact, and as a fact which may prove a great asset to humanity.—Christian Science Monitor.

PROPERTY WINS

This nation does not seek war with Germany or with any other power. It does not appear at all likely that we will be forced into any war. Nevertheless, if we do have to go to war with Germany, it is comforting to realize that there would be nothing in the future as far as human vision can range in the economic prosperity which is now adding immeasurably to the wealth of the American people. There would be no loss of property, no loss of trade and no loss of power.

We do not want greater prosperity at the price of war, but if the price must be paid we must refuse the unjust prosperity.—Manchester Mirror.

A TRADE BOYCOTT

Norman Angell and Thomas Edison are advising that if it comes to the worst between this country and Germany we can go in for a trade boycott which would be more effective than working an army that we have not got and using a navy for anything less than the defense needs which will take our full strength. As things are turning out now, however, it looks as though the trade boycott was directed towards England and her blockade war-fare.—Boston Transcript.

WELL, WRIGHT, MIGHT

BOSTON, May 28.—It was said at the state house yesterday that Charles H. Wright of Pittsfield who is now a member of the executive council, has decided to be a candidate for the republican nomination for Lieutenant Governor.

Mr. Wright represents the 5th district in the executive council. He is a lawyer. Last year he defeated, by 2000 votes, Councilor Henry L. Rogers, who had both the democratic and progressive nominations and was a candidate for a second term. In 1913 Mr. Rogers carried the district by 5000 votes.

The only active candidate for the republican nomination now is Senator Gray A. Ham who also is a member of the governor's council. It is expected, Councilor Wright enters that contest.

MERIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

No one should neglect the great double bill Paramount performance at the Merimack Square theatre to-day and tomorrow. This program is arranged. The charming "Her Girl" with Pickford appears in the 5-act Paramount feature "Heads Afloat," in this picture she plays the role of a girl who is seen in one of her most beautiful scenes. The other big Paramount feature at Merimack Square, today and tomorrow is "The Great Train Robbery," a Paramount production. Stolen Goods. Being an emotional play, it is especially attractive to the famous emotion actress, Blanche Oelrichs. It is said but by no means the least, his number one program is the presentation of "The Great Train Robbery," a picture of high class and interest, acted by that lovely pair of laugh-creating comedians, Fields. OWL THEATRE

John Singleton, writer, author, director, poet, actor, lecturer, traveler and other things, is the author of a motion picture. One of exquisite beauty, sentimental interest, of stunning photographic effects, of historic efficiency and quaintness. "The Quest," the play, now produced by Singleton, features two popular stars, Margaret Fischer and Harry Pollard. Miss Fischer, dark, winsome beauty, is not unknown to Lowell, for she has been advertised on many occasions in the Beauty Parade. In "The Quest," the author-director-actor-etc. has woven a really delightful and sweet tale of romance and adventure. The adventuring is mild, for romance is mostly the keynote of the play. And a great cast has given it an appeal which will place this production one of the best Lowell quality pictures ever shown in Lowell. Will-

FOR THE LITTLE READERS OF THE SUN

Agnes' father was a boy a

One day Agnes came home very much excited and told her father and mother that there was to be a state fair next month and a prize was to be given for the smallest pig exhibited. "Oh," said Agnes, "if I could only enter my pig I know I would get the prize, and then I could buy piggy a real nice collar. Oh please can't I try for the prize?" Her parents said she could try, and the time before the fair she spent making the pig look smarter than ever. At last it was time to take the pig to the fair and she had it all washed and combed up in fine shape and it had a new blue ribbon around its neck. All day she stood near its pen and heard the people talk about it, how cute it was and that it would surely take the prize.

Sorry as she was that her pig was not there to take the prize she was more sorry to lose her pet. The judges said they were going to give her prize to her pig but would have to give it to the next sized pig. Just as they were going to pin the winning ribbon on the other pig, a loud squeal was heard and the dirtiest little pig came running in with a lot of boys chasing it. Of course the judges gave the prize to Agnes' pig and now her pig wears a beautiful collar of gold with several blue stones in it.

Big Elm Falls on House in Mill Street—Trees and Branches Down All Over City

The high winds of the last two days have played havoc with trees in and about Lowell and several persons had narrow escapes from injuries, serious or otherwise. A Mill street family was rudely awakened at 1 o'clock Thursday morning when a big elm tree crashed through the roof of the house in which they were soundly sleeping. It sounded to them like an explosion and they made ready to quit the house in a hurry, but it was quickly discovered that the tree had blown down and had fallen directly across the roof. The tree had been unsafe for some time and was so recognized by the park department, but it was only one of hundreds that were soundly sleeping. Little Girl Was Struck by an Automobile on Moody Street

Jeanne Giroux, five years of age, daughter of Mrs. C. J. Giroux of 509 Moody street, was struck by an automobile this forenoon and was probably internally injured.

The automobile was of the Ford touring type and was owned and driven by T. H. Brassard of Mt. Hope street. Shortly before 12 o'clock Mr. Brassard was driving to his home through Moody street and when he reached a spot near the junction of Allen street the little girl, who was on the sidewalk, ran into the path of the machine.

The brakes and reverses were quickly applied, but nevertheless the little girl was struck by the bumper and thrown aside by the car. She was removed to the drug store of W. P. Calise, Jr., and there she was examined by the family physician, Dr. L. V. Rochette. There was no fracture noticeable, but it is believed the girl suffers from internal injuries. Witnesses of the accident stated Mr. Brassard was driving his automobile at a very moderate rate of speed when the accident occurred.

Battleship Majestic Sunk in Dardanelles—Princess Irene Blown Up Off Sheerness—Steamer Cadeby Sunk by German Submarine, Another Torpedoed

LONDON, May 28.—The torpedoing and sinking of the British battleship Majestic was announced by the admiralty last night in the following statement:

"An enemy submarine torpedoed and sank H. M. S. Majestic, Capt. H. F. G. Talbot, yesterday morning while it was supporting the army on the Gallipoli peninsula.

"Nearly all the officers and men were saved."

The battleship Majestic was a vessel of 14,900 tons and of 10,000 horsepower capacity. Her officers and crew on a peace footing aggregated 757.

The Majestic was built in 1895. She carried four 12-inch, 12 6-inch and 16 3-inch guns and 12 3-pounder guns. In addition, the vessel was armed with five 18-inch torpedo tubes.

The Majestic is the fifth British battleship lost in the Dardanelles campaign and the second by a hostile submarine, the Triumph having been sunk to the bottom in the Gulf of Saros last Wednesday. The French also have lost one battleship in the Turkish campaign—the Bouvet.

NEW START AFTER WAR

Greatest International Race That World Has Ever Witnessed Coming, Says Judge Gary

NEW YORK, May 28.—Elbert H. Gary, chairman of the United States Steel corporation and president of the American Iron & Steel institute, in an address today at the annual meeting of the institute, declared that after the war there would be seen among the nations the most persistent efforts to succeed in the international race for supremacy that the world has ever witnessed.

The place the United States will occupy depends much upon our management of affairs, he said.

"After all differences are adjusted," said Judge Gary, "the nations now or to be engaged in this colossal conflict, though terribly crippled, will take a new start and in many respects a new course, and will begin immediately to build on a better and firmer and more permanent basis for success and high achievement in everything that adds to national wealth, power, energy and enterprise. These nations will not remain inactive or despondent, or indifferent. We shall see the most active and persistent efforts to rebuild and extend and to succeed in the international race for supremacy that the world has ever witnessed.

From adversity will come greater prosperity than ever before. From necessity will spring thought and study and effort that will enable survivors to reach greater heights of success than ever before supposed to be within the reach of human kind. The peoples of all the different countries, suffering in their thoughts of the past, will be inspired to greater exertions in their efforts for the future. It is not too much to believe that, after the close of the war, there will be a feeling almost universal that there must be established and maintained a court of arbitration—simple, comprehensive, effective and permanent—that will secure the adjustment of all future differences without any protracted or general contest by armed forces. A majority of the nations will, to use an ordinary paradox, "secure and maintain peace if they have to fight for it."

United States Should Get Ready

"Now what should the United States prepare for? If we conduct our affairs properly, if we make the most of our opportunities, if we cooperate with one another, if the government and governmental agencies and the business people are allies one with the other, we shall become stronger and richer, and more potential in our influences and we shall be able to occupy a position in the van of nations, progressing toward results more satisfactory than ever before. I made the statement long before the war, and I have made it since, that we might be

CAPTURE OF AUSTRIAN VILLAGES BY ITALIANS

German War Office Concedes Victory to Russians—Germans Capture 9000

The capture of Austrian villages along the Carinthian front by the invading Italian forces is reported in an unofficial despatch from Geneva. It is said also that the Italians have taken possession of three mountain passes and are continuing their advance elsewhere along the border.

Concedes Russian Victory

The statement today from the German war office concedes victory to the Russians in a battle along the San river in central Galicia. The Germans lost six cannon and were compelled to fall back from the left bank of the river near Sienawa, where their positions were not defended strongly. Petrograd reports say that the Austro-German advance in Galicia having been checked, the Germans are taking the initiative in the north, along the line from the Baltic to southern Poland.

Germans Capture 9000

The capture of nine thousand more prisoners is announced by the German war office, which represents the situation in the east as favorable to Germany, with the exception of the retreat from the San near Sienawa.

On Franco-Belgian Front

The character of the fighting in France and Belgium has not changed materially. Today's reports show that severe engagements are in progress on the western portion of the line, but aside from local successes the attempts of each side to dislodge the other from the established line of battle are proving of as little effect as has been the case for months past.

German Submarines Active

The German submarine campaign which has been unusually active during the last week, has resulted in the sinking of another British vessel. The steamer Cadeby was sunk yesterday off the Scilly Isles by the shell fire of a submarine. The crew of 18 men and the four passengers were saved.

HIGHLAND HALL

With a whist party, dancing program and entertainment, members of Highland council, 950, Royal Arcanum, celebrated the 25th anniversary of its inception in connection with its regular meeting held last evening in Highland hall on Branch street. During the 25 years of existence of Highland council, many delightful events have been conducted but last evening's informal celebration proved the equal, from a social standpoint, of any of them.

The winners of the whist tournament were as follows: Mrs. C. P. Hutchins, Miss R. Ducas, Mrs. W. R. Kilpatrick, Jr., Mrs. W. Stanley (consolation), Harry Gray, O. Peterson, Felix Letendre and J. Knopf (consolation.)

Those responsible for the success of the anniversary were:

Orrell, L. J. Bergeron, F. E. Jones, A. H. Dana, L. M. Fuller, G. C. Bixby, H. H. Taylor.

During the evening music was furnished by Miller's orchestra.

The officers of Highland council are: Regent, John W. McKoon; vice regent, Charles E. Stuart; orator, John E. LaFleur; past regent, Loren M. Fuller; secretary, W. Dana Hill; collector, Adolphe M. Huntton; treasurer, C. Frank Butterfield; chaplain, Herbert E. Montgomery; guide, J. Oscar Phinney; warden, Albert W. Phinney; sentry, Fred C. Rand.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

Commander Frank B. Sanders presided at the regular meeting of James A. Garfield post 120, G. A. R., held in its hall on Merrimack street. Much routine business was transacted. Reports of committees were read and referred. Two applications for membership were read and referred. Under the head of initiation of candidates, one new member was admitted, charged and exonerated by the officer of the day to a seat in full membership of the post. An invitation through the commander from James A. Garfield Relief Corps, 32, a supper which will be served to the post comrades on Wednesday evening, June 3, was accepted. Plans for the Memorial day service have been practically completed. On Monday, May 31, the veterans will be conveyed by automobile to the several cemeteries, when they will decorate the graves of every soldier. Comrades of Post 120 are requested to be at the post hall at 7:30 sharp. Autos leave at 8 o'clock.

CARD OF THANKS

The undersigned take this means of expressing publicly sincere thanks to those kind friends, relatives and neighbors, who by kind acts, words of consolation, floral and spiritual offerings helped to lighten our burden in our recent bereavement at the death of Mary McDonald.

QUITS THE PROGRESSIVES

JOINS REPUBLICANS AT FALL
RIVER DINNER

FALL RIVER, May 28.—It seems sane and logical for those progressives who do not place party above principle to seek through one of the two old parties an avenue for effective effort. Therefore, under certain conditions I believe that most progressives are prepared to renounce the impossible and cooperate with the inevitable.

Thus spoke Charles E. Burbank of East Bridgewater last night at the second annual banquet of the Bristol County Republican club in Music Hall. About 500 were present.

Mr. Burbank, an ex-senator, has been one of the prominent Progressives of Massachusetts and last year was strongly urged for the party's candidate for governor.

The dinner was the largest gathering of republicans held anywhere in the state this year. It was Mr. Burbank's first appearance before a republican audience since he became identified with the progressive party and was elected to the senate. The audience was made up of organization republicans from all parts of the county.

Congressman Samuel E. Winslow of Worcester delivered a heart-to-heart talk on the work that can be done for the party. A telegram was read from John Hays Hammond, who had been invited to speak, stating that he had just returned from a trip through the south and west and finds evidences of renewed vigor on the part of the republican party.

Chairman Edward A. Thurston of the republican state committee spoke briefly for the state organization. Alfred B.

Williams of Taunton presided.

Mr. Burbank said in part:

"How are progressives to most effectively further the attainment of all or part of their purposes? Experience teaches or seems to teach that the progressives are not yet ready to face the sacrifices necessary to build up and prepare a third party.

"However much we may respect or even admire individual leaders of the democratic party, its fundamental principles exclude it from answering the purpose of progressives.

"On the other hand, for a moment consider the republican party. Many of its progressives, apparently, last year said: 'With all its faults, we love it still.'

"Majority rule is dear to the American heart. Three great parties preclude the possibility of the people electing their representatives and officials by majority vote.

"The American people and the people of Massachusetts, I believe, desire to at least test the theory that within a party there may be democratic control and the majority rule, and that it is no greater hardship to yield to a majority within the party than without upon questions of governmental policy and theory. The history and great fundamental principles of the republican party make their strong appeal to the Progressive heart and mind.

"The republican party was brought into existence through the advocacy of a noble and humanitarian cause, the freedom of the slave. Its early annals were earned by the lives and achievements of noble men. Carried by a flood of circumstances into the power of special interests and becoming the instrument of privilege, it met disaster and defeat.

"Rehabilitated it is the natural instrument for the upbuilding of American character, American citizenship and the American home."

ENRICH THE BLOOD

Hood's Sarsaparilla, a Spring Tonic-Medicine, is Necessary.

Everybody is troubled at this season with loss of vitality, failure of appetite, that tired feeling, or with bilious turns, dull headaches, indigestion and other stomach troubles, or with pimples and other eruptions on the face and body. The reason is that the blood is impure and impoverished.

Hood's Sarsaparilla relieves all these ailments. It is the old reliable medicine that has stood the test of forty years—that makes pure, rich, red blood—that strengthens every organ and builds up the whole system. It is the all-year-round blood-purifier and health-giver. Nothing else acts like it, for nothing else is like it. There is no real substitute; so be sure to get Hood's. Ask your druggist for it today, and begin taking it at once.

of the men and captured two others single handed—all without being injured.

For this he won his promotion to sergeant and the praises of his comrades. The official record of the V. C. list related the circumstances and told simply how his action had prevented the rest of the attacking party from being fired upon. His parents shortly after the incident received from him a modest letter in which he told how the Irish Guards were getting after the Germans with the bayonet, but failed to dilate on his own experience.

The true facts became known through a letter to the Daily Mail by Company Qm. Sergt. John G. Lowry of the Guards. When Lowry's story became known O'Leary's fame spread like wildfire. For weeks his daring exploit was described in song and story, while his photograph and that of his parents and their little home in Inchigeelagh, Cork county, were widely published and committees were appointed to arrange for a testimonial.

Enlisted First in the Navy

O'Leary was about 24 years old and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel O'Leary. He came from fighting stock. His father was an athlete in his younger days and, even today, when more than 60 years, his figure is still erect. Young O'Leary stood 5 feet 10 inches and was as strong as he looked.

Although a good boy and ever mindful of his parents, love of adventure caused him to enlist in the British navy when 16 years old. He was a stoker on the Vivid and later the Curlewian, but at Malta his health broke down and he went home, hobbling on crutches. He was not long in building up and again sought excitement. He went to Cork barracks to enlist, but as he could not show his discharge papers from the navy at the time, he was virtually made a prisoner until they arrived. Then he was sent to Buckingham palace, and for four years he served in the guards.

His time up, he went to Canada and served with credit in the Northwest Mounted Police until last fall, when he heard of the fighting across the water and asked to get into it.

Join the Guards

It is not known just when O'Leary joined the 1st Battalion of the Irish Guards at the front. The battalion itself was there from the first and took part in the bloody retreat from Mons, but it apparently was about Nov. 1 that he joined it, assigned to Co. I. For more than a week before Feb. 1 the Guards held trenches near the La Bassée brickfield, and their losses were heavy. The Germans had excellent cover, both in the trenches and behind stacks of bricks. Their bombs brought many casualties among the guards. The men were anxious for an order to charge, and it came at 2 the next day. In the assault the French were on the right, with Co. 1 and 2 of the guards and some of the Coldstreams.

Promptly at 2 the next day the order for a general assault was given and the British and French artillery opened fire. After a rain of bullets and shrapnel for 20 minutes, No. 1 company was let loose. They jumped from their trench with a yell, bayonets fixed, and went for the enemy on the run.

Story of the Charge

As Sergt. O'Leary of the Guards wrote home about the charge, here is what happened: "They had from 100 to 150 yards to travel, and they went at a tidy pace, but were easily outstripped by Lance-Corp. O'Leary. He never looked to see if his mates were coming and he must have done pretty near even line over that patch of ground. "When he got near the end of one of the German trenches he dropped and so did others a long way behind him. The enemy had discovered what was up."

"A machine gun was O'Leary's mark. Before the Germans could manage to slew it found and meet the charging five of the machine-gun crew, and leaving his mates to come up and capture the gun, he dashed forward to the second

IN POLICE COURT

Nothing of note transpired in either the regular morning session of police court or the weekly transaction of juvenile cases which was held today. Judge Earlight took charge of the juvenile cases, while Judge Fisher was on the bench in the larger court room. The only commitment sentence imposed was by request. John O'Brien, who gave his home as Worcester, asked that he be sent to the Bridgewater institution. He's an old man, and evidently tired of struggling for a living when handicapped as he is by an unquenchable thirst for liquor.

Another drunken offender arrested yesterday was plastered and bandaged in so many places that it is doubtful if his own friends would have recognized him today. His face was badly cut and scratched and he carried his left arm in a sling while various other bandages stuck out all over him. No body mentioned what happened to this chap, but perhaps he fell down some where or else resisted arrest. The case was continued for a week. One other drunk, a third offender, was given a suspended sentence of three months in jail.

BRITISH SHIPS SUNK

tion 78 dockers who were at work on board the steamer, lost their lives yesterday when the vessel was blown up by an explosion on board in Sheerness harbor. The steamer was in the government service. Sheerness is a naval arsenal of Great Britain on the Thames.

The admiral in confirming the explosion on board the Princess Irene says that 78 workmen met their deaths in the disaster. The statement of the admiral says:

"The Princess Irene was accidentally blown up in Sheerness harbor this morning. So far as is yet known only one survivor was picked up. Three men belonging to the ship were not on board at the time of the disaster."

"Several men belonging to vessels lying close to the Princess Irene were wounded by falling splinters."

BRITISH STEAMER CADEBY SUNK BY GERMAN SUBMARINE

RINE

PENZANCE, Eng., May 28.—The British steamer Cadeby has been sunk off the Scilly Isles by gunfire from a German submarine.

All those on board the vessel, including four passengers, were saved. The Cadeby was sent to the bottom yesterday. Her crew of 18 men, together with the four passengers on board, took to the boats and were later rescued by a fishing smack and brought into Newlyn, a fishing village near here.

The steamer Cadeby was of 677 net tons register and 225 feet long. She was owned in Glasgow.

NO TRACE OF LAUNCH WHICH WAS ALONGSIDE PRINCESS IRENE

LONDON, May 28, 3.55 a. m.—No trace has been found of a harbor steam launch which was moored alongside the Princess Irene or its crew of five men since the explosion which destroyed the big steamer and it is assumed five more names must be added to the list of the dead.

One possible survivor of the explosion is in a hospital suffering from shock. He was picked up in the water some time after the explosion but it has not been learned whether he was a member of the Princess Irene's crew or was blown out of some small boat nearby. Only one body has been recovered. Two barges which were alongside the Irene were demolished.

A naval officer who witnessed the explosion said in describing it:

"The ship was moored seventy yards from the point on shore where I was standing. Suddenly I noticed a little wisp of smoke aboard and called out 'Is there a fire there.'

"Before the men aboard could answer there came an explosion like a volcanic eruption. Then a great cloud of dust, coal, smoke and flame rose a mile high. Amidst the smoke the eye could discern huge pieces of the ship bursting into smaller pieces as they rose.

"The ship didn't go down; she went up, distributing her remains in dust and jagged fragments over a radius of many miles. The smoke cloud of the explosion lasted, I think, only a moment or two. I rubbed my eyes and saw clear air where the Irene, barges and launches had been a moment before.

"The explosion seemed to stun everyone for a few minutes. Then came the order 'away all boat crews to pick up survivors' but when I got into a boat and called past the spot where the explosion had occurred there was nothing but a single fragment of mast to mark the place. Far ther away, however, the water was dotted with pieces of wreckage."

OLDEST IN G.A.R. RANKS

COHASSET VETERAN NEARLY 101 TO VISIT FOUR CEMETERIES MILES APART

COHASSET, May 28.—William F. Thayer of this town, who will be 101 years old June 27, will doubtless be the oldest Grand Army veteran who will accompany his post next Monday in the decorating of comrades' graves. He will also attend memorial services Sunday in the North Cohasset Methodist church.

Henry Bryant G. A. R. post of this town has a tedious duty on Memorial day, as four cemeteries miles apart in this town and Hull are visited. Mr. Thayer feels quite equal to the task, however. He is a wonderfully well preserved man for his age, stands erect and is sprightly. His hearing and sight are remarkably good.

He attributed his longevity and relative health to right living. Intoxicating liquor he has always shunned. Mr. Thayer was born in Braintree, but has lived nearly all his life in Cohasset. Though over the age limit for enlistment when the Civil war began, he was determined to serve his country and in 1861, at the age of 47, he joined the 1st Massachusetts Volunteers and served three years.

He was appointed commissary sergeant and in that capacity came in personal contact with President Lincoln.

"I remember Mr. Lincoln well," said Mr. Thayer yesterday. "No one could ever forget such a man. He was the finest, grandest man I ever knew. I came in direct contact with him and Grant. They always insisted upon the boys having good grub."

"Abel often came to the camp and looked things over. I gave him many cigars, but I'm sure he always gave them away to the boys. Grant, however, always smoked them."

LOWELL BOY ROBBED

ARRESTED IN MANCHESTER, N. H., SAID HE WAS ROBBED ON TRAIN—HELD BY POLICE

A boy of 17 years was picked up by the police of Manchester, N. H., last night wandering about the streets penniless.

He told the police that his name is Oscar Christian and that he belonged in Lowell. He said he had picked up a chance acquaintance on the train from Lowell and found on getting off that he had been robbed of $5.75, all the money he possessed. The police are holding him until they find out more about him.

MEMORIAL DAY EXERCISES

—Senior Class Had Charge at High School

Memorial Day exercises were held in most of the schools of the city today and while the programs commemorating the honor of those who gave their lives for their country were not especially elaborate, they were appropriate to the occasion and thoroughly enjoyed by those privileged to hear them.

The arrangements for the exercises at the high school this year were out of the ordinary inasmuch as they were left entirely in the hands of the graduating class. The class selected the speakers, and the music and arranged the program in its entirety. The presiding officer was Mr. Martin E. Connors, president of the class, and instead of taking an active part as in former years, Principal Irish and the teachers were included in the audience. The program was as follows:

In the lower grades special exercises, including the reading of poems and singing of patriotic songs, were carried out.

Bartlett School
Memorial day was observed by individual classes in the various rooms at the Bartlett school. Each room was decorated with American flags. Programs arranged by the different teachers were presented this afternoon.

U. S. WARSHIP AGROUND

CRUISER NORTH CAROLINA IS AGROUND WITHIN OUTER HARBOR OF ALEXANDRIA

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The United States cruiser North Carolina is aground within the outer harbor of Alexandria, Egypt, according to a report to the navy department today by her commander, Capt. Joseph W. Gunn, who says the ship is undamaged and that dredging operations will be undertaken to release her.

CITY HALL NEWS

had been labeled "unsafe" and no particular attention was paid to it.

"There are hundreds of trees that should be taken down," said John W. Kernan, superintendent of parks, today, "and I think $1000 appropriated for that purpose will not go very far. These trees are a menace to public safety and I am going to remove as many as can be removed for $1000. I will go the limit and I wish I had more money, for there is no knowing when one of these trees will fall and kill or maim somebody for life. The harm done by a single tree might cost the city more than the amount appropriated for trees for the last ten years. The element of danger connected with dead or dead trees is too great to be passed over lightly."

Branches of the tree that fell on the Mill street house penetrated the roof and Mr. Kernan stated today that his men worked all day yesterday and all last night on fallen trees and branches. Another huge elm was blown down in Riverside street and trees and branches were reported down in Gates street, Middlesex Village, Stevens, Antwerp and School streets. A towering dead elm at 651 School street also succumbed to the high winds. Narrow escapes were reported in several instances and Capt. Kernan was free to admit today that the tree business is getting on his nerves.

South Common Fountain
The superintendent of parks has always been in favor of a fountain in the South common and he annexed a little idea a few days ago that is tickling him almost to death. He discovered a three-inch pipe in the bottom of the South common pool and said John to John, talking to himself. Like, here's where I got a chance to use my bean. Well, to make a long story short, the resourceful John brought the pipe up to the surface of the water, reducing it to one-eighth of an inch with the result that a small seyer-like stream, 20 feet high, is working overtime. The children enjoy it immensely and Mr. Kernan is thinking quite seriously of having it patented. The force of water from the 3-inch to the 16-inch pipe is sufficient to send it up for a distance of 20 feet, and Mr. Kernan says the whole thing didn't cost more than 75 cents.

Memorial Hall Building
Commissioner Putnam stated today that only the roof of the Memorial building would be restored this summer and plans for the roof will be ready in a few days. Librarian Chase wants a new ventilating system as it has been found that some of the ducts are leaking and while it is possible to get all the heat necessary it is impossible to get all of the foul air out. The system has been investigated and Commissioner Putnam awaits a report of the investigation.

TRACK CHAMPIONSHIPS
PHILADELPHIA, May 28.—Clear, cool weather, a fast track in perfect condition and a field of more than 600 athletes, pick of the score or more colleges in the association, promised record-breaking performances in the fourth annual track and field championships of the Intercollegiate association which opened today on Franklin field. Elimination trials in the shot put, pole vault, running high jump, hammer throw and preliminary heats in the 100 yard dash, half mile run, 120 and 220 yard hurdles, 440 and 220 yard dashes comprised today's program. Six men will qualify for the finals in each of the field events and records made today will stand unless bettered in the final competitions tomorrow.

Many of the experts have figured that the championship may largely be determined by the results in the half and quarter mile runs and much interest was manifested in the drawings of the various colleges for position in these events. In the half mile Michigan drew the pole and in the quarter mile Fordham drew the choice position.

CARRANZA SEIZES CATTLE
DOUGLAS, ARIZ., May 28.—Soldiers under Gen. Calles, Carranza commander at Agua Prieta, confiscated 700 head of cattle owned by John H. Hestadt, a naturalized citizen of Mexico, near Cos. Sonora, and drove them to Agua Prieta. It was learned today.

LIKES OUR WHITE WAY

Alderman Lavigueur of Quebec
Impressed by Our White Way—
Talks of Canadian City

A distinguished visitor to Lowell who delayed his return home for the purpose of seeing the white way put into operation, but who was forced finally to leave without enjoying the fun, is Alderman Henry E. Lavigueur, of Quebec, who came to Lowell a few days ago to visit his brother, Mr. Emile Lavigueur, the well known violinist, who is ill at his home, though his friends will be pleased to learn, at present somewhat improved.

Mr. Lavigueur was accompanied to this city by his sister, Mrs. Edmond Balin, of Quebec, while another sister, Mrs. O. Drouin, from the same city, is also here.

"I regret very much," said Alderman Lavigueur, "that I must return to Quebec without seeing the lights turned on. I am now overdue there, but remained here expecting that the program would be carried out as everybody had hoped. What has impressed me most has been the civic interest on the part of the merchants and the public generally; the gala appearance of the city, and general enthusiasm manifest over the inauguration of a big public improvement. It is something entirely new to me, this idea of observing the inauguration of a great public improvement in a public manner and other cities would do well to copy it. We have had the white way system in Quebec for two years, our white way costing us $250,000. Quebec has the reputation of being the best lighted city on the continent and hence my interest in your new system. The city does all the work on its lighting system but buys the power."

Alderman Lavigueur is chairman of the department of roads and parks. The city government consists of a mayor elected by the people and 25 aldermen elected two from each ward with the exception of a recently annexed ward which is only entitled to one representative. Mr. Lavigueur has served five terms of two years each. The mayor receives a salary of $3,000, while the aldermen are unpaid. In each ward one alderman is elected by the landlords and the other by the tenants. He is in the music business. Alderman Lavigueur is a convert to the commission form of government and two years ago made an attempt to have the charter of Quebec revised so as to provide for a smaller governing body. He was unsuccessful but believes that the near future will see Quebec governed by a much smaller city council, 25 being altogether too many, in his opinion.

Speaking of Quebec's park system, Alderman Lavigueur said: "We have a very fine park system and claim one of the grandest parks in the world, the historic Plains of Abraham, now known as Battlefield park. This park is maintained by the Federal government, however, and not by the city of Quebec. Its affairs are administered by a commission known as the Battlefield Commission, and appointed by the Federal government."

When asked about business conditions in Quebec, Alderman Lavigueur replied: "Business is fair in Quebec considering the fact that the country is at war. We have suffered the least of any of the Canadian cities. The great military camps at Valcartier at which we will have between $5,000 and 64,000 troops all summer, make business good for us. Then we have the Ross Rifle factory, which has been turning out 1600 rifles per day and count of the war. At present we have quite a few German prisoners who are being fed well and well taken care of. "The city of Quebec has grown wonderfully in the past ten years and is now about as large as Lowell. It has become a most progressive city and while it retains all of its old-time and historic features, it is keeping pace with the march of progress. We have just finished two bridges and are about to start on a third, over the St. Charles river, each of which cost $200,000. The C. P. R. has just started work upon a Union station which will cost $5,000,000."

Canada Doing Her Share

"Canada is certainly doing her share toward helping England in this struggle," said Alderman Lavigueur, when the writer referred to the war. "There are at present about 100,000 Canadians across the water, either at the front or on their way there and Gen. Hughes, minister of militia at Ottawa recently stated that within two months there will be over 150,000 Canadians in Europe. We are recruiting two regiments made up entirely of French-Canadians, the 41st regiment under Lieut.-Col. Archambault and the 57th under Lieut.-Col. Paquet. I have a son, L. H. Lavigueur, a lieutenant in the 47th regiment. A detachment from these regiments under Major L'Heureux has already departed for Europe. We have at present eight submarines fitted up by Canada while there is also there a British ship, Canonniers, which is in command of an admiral with the good Irish name of Murphy. In addition to men and money Canada has furnished the mother-country with food-stuffs and has an abundant supply from which to draw."

Alderman Lavigueur formerly resided in this city, but left here 29 years ago to enter business in Quebec, accompanied by Mrs. Balin he left Lowell on the 9:10 Canadian train last evening. While not at their mother's home, the Canadian visitors were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Grigolre.

ST. ANTHONY'S CHURCH

ANNUAL MAY PARTY AT ASSOCIATE HALL A GREAT SUCCESS—THE COMMITTEES

The annual May party in aid of St. Anthony's parish conducted at Associate hall last evening attracted a large crowd of parishioners, and the affair proved fully as enjoyable as preceding events. The feature of the evening's entertainment was a minstrel show by the South End club under the direction of Edward Handley. The South End boys were never in better voice and their work was greatly enjoyed by the large audience. The opening number, "Night-time in Dixieland," was by the entire company, and John Baxter, Lowell's rising young tenor followed with "Because You Are Mine, Sweetheart." "When Sunday Comes to Town," by Thomas N. Bonkins, was well received, and John M. Roane, received a great hand in his number, "My Bird of Paradise." Jackson Palmer gave "The Spanish Main," and received an encore and James H. Lyons won favor with "Little Spark of Love." "Listen to that Dixie Band," was well rendered by Frank L. Ginty and Edward Handley made a decided hit with an end song, "Hail the Jack." The finale, "We Take Our Hats Off to You, Mr. Wilson," was given by the chorus with the solo beautifully sustained by Jarleth Dacey, John A. Quinn, as interlocutor was entirely in his element and he was well supported by the entire company.

The dance order which followed the minstrel production contained a score of numbers, with Minner's orchestra furnishing the music, and the following officers in charge:

General Manager, John R. O'Loughlin
Asst. Gen. Manager, Joseph Pyne
Floor Director, Edward J. McCollough

ANTI-GERMAN RIOT IN LONDON

When reports of the torpedoing of the Lusitania, with the loss of more than 1000 lives, reached London there was tremendous excitement. In many quarters the rage of the populace was unconfined. In the accompanying illustration is shown a riot scene in Poplar, which is in the dock section of London. Children, egged on by their elders, did most of the wrecking of stores owned by Germans. The police didn't know just how to handle the children.

MOTHER AND SON REUNITED

Carl Sanderman, Who Ran Away From Home and Joined British Army, is Back Again

BOSTON, May 28.—When the Leyland Line steamship Iberian, Capt. Jago, warped into her berth at Clyde-st. pier, East Boston, yesterday, from Manchester, there was waiting on the pier the mother of a young man who ran away from home and joined the British army. The woman was Mrs. Sanderman of 3 Oakdale square, Jamaica Plain.

Her son, Carl, aged 19, left home in March while his mother was ill in a hospital for an operation. The lad went out as a cadet on board the steamer Cambrian and on reaching London enlisted in one of the artillery regiments and was sent to Lancashire, where he remained with other recruits.

When Mrs. Sanderman recovered she concluded her son had gone to England, and she appealed to Congressman Tinkham.

Sec. Bryan cabled Ambassador Page to secure the boy's release. He received his discharge and was given a chance to work his way back on the Iberian.

BRITISH ADMIRALTY SAYS BRITISH SUBMARINE PENETRATES TO CONSTANTINOPLE

LONDON, May 28.—The British admiralty issues the following report from the vice admiral in the Eastern Mediterranean:

"The submarine E-11, Lieut. Commander Martin E. Nassmith, has sunk in the Sea of Marmora a vessel containing a great quantity of ammunition, comprising charges for heavy howitzers, several gun mountings and a six-inch gun.

"She also chased a supply ship with a heavy cargo of stores and torpedoed her alongside a pier at Rodosto. A small store ship was also chased and run ashore.

"The submarine E-11 entered Constantinople and discharged a torpedo at a transport alongside the Arsenal. The torpedo was heard to explode."

INDUSTRIAL AND STORE NEWS

Patrick Downing of the Spaulding Shoe Co. has resigned his position with that concern.

A meeting of the Textile Workers union will be held tomorrow afternoon at 4 o'clock in Trades & Labor hall.

James McEvoy of the Bigelow-Hartford Carpet Co. is said to be willing to play a Santa Claus part for some of the boys on Monday who have expressed the intention of going to the outing tomorrow.

Thomas Bodkins of the Nashua Agbestos Co., Nashua, N. H., who made his initial appearance with the South End Minstrels last night, made a decided hit, and he will be retained by the popular musical organization.

Thomas Hartley of the Waterhead mills will play ball with the Silver Lake aggregation this summer. The Silver Lake manager has been after his services for some time and it was only after a good deal of persuasion that he signed up.

Charlie Farrell, second hand of the cloth department at the Tremont and Suffolk mills, says that his Woodbine team certainly showed the T. R. & T's of Billerica something about the diamond pastime last Saturday. The Woodbine aggregation is ready to meet the fastest teams in the state, says Charles, and the sooner the challenges come in the better.

Merrimack Woolen Co.

The Merrimack Woolen Co. closed last night in all departments with the exception of the finishing department, until Tuesday morning. The plant has been running full time for some time past and the shutdown is thought to be only temporary.

Painters Union

The Painters union held a well attended meeting last night in Carpenters hall with President George Fife in the chair. Business of considerable importance was transacted and two new members were admitted. Following the business session an address on organization was made by Organizer James McEwen of Worcester, who is now connected with the labor forward committee of this city.

WHAT THE FRENCH MAID SAID

PICTURES AND THE GUEST BOOK

"Your aunt is going soon to her summer home," announced Marie as Marjorie came in one morning. "She has asked me," continued Marie, "to get her a Guest Book."

"Whatever is that?" asked Marjorie, at once interested.

"A Guest Book," said the French Maid, "is not only a useful bit of permanent entertainment for the next summer's guests, but it means much to the family itself. These books or registers can be made at home or purchased at the more exclusive shops. Homemade books of rough paper with hand lettering answer the purpose perfectly and give just as much pleasure as the handsome volume of tooled leather with silver corners and clasps or tapestry with mountings of brass or copper.

"A book I saw doing service at one country home was particularly interesting. Accompanying the quaint, hand-colored illustrations, showing the lodge gate, the winding drive, the door knockers, the hall clock, etc., are cheery greetings to the guests from each of these important features of the country home. In these books guests are asked to subscribe a parting sentiment, and it among them are versifiers who can do this in rhyme and artists who can do it with brush or pencil, the book grows very interesting and valuable as the seasons go by."

"That is very interesting," said Marjorie. "I think I will have one, too, but now I want you to tell me how to re-bang my pictures after how cleaning."

"A bit of miss arrangement of pictures," began Marie, "accommodatingly, is apt to be worse than no pictures at all, and the walls of every room should be carefully studied with relation to the decorations in hand, that no fatal mistakes may be made in taste or in proportion of space."

Many small pictures always suggest informality, and walls covered with framed prints, photographs, sketches and passepartouts turn a room into a hodge-podge and intimate.

"Large pictures in a living room should not be hung too high, a very common mistake. As a rule, the lower edge of a very large picture should be about four feet from the floor and of a medium sized picture about five feet. Smaller pictures, hung between the larger ones, may be five and a half feet from the floor and the spaces at either side of the small pictures should be the same. Sometimes a small picture may be hung exactly below a larger one, and in this case the larger may be titled a trifle."

Merrimack Clothing Co. THE STORE THAT SELLS WOOLTEX

Wash Skirts That FIT AFTER THEY ARE WASHED AS WELL AS BEFORE

—Made by the Wooltex tailors

The materials—and even the belting—are pre-shrunk. Something we can find in no other make of wash skirts. Ordinarily, you buy a wash skirt an inch or more too large around the waist and shrink it to fit. Or, if you buy one to fit, it is too small after it is laundered, and you must make it over. You needn't worry about the laundry shrinking these skirts. Select one that fits comfortably. A half-inch is plenty to allow for future shrinking, even if the skirt is laundered every week.

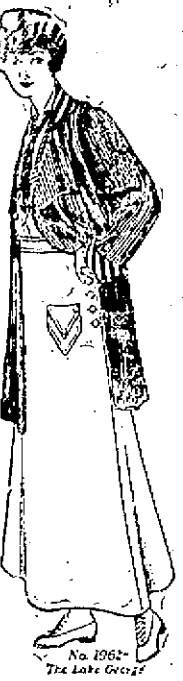

These Pre-Shrunk Wash Skirts have the reinforced waist band that is so well known to every wearer of Wooltex tailored skirts. It is always trim and neat. Does not curl or wrinkle.

35 JOHN STREET

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

The number of graves in local cemeteries over which the little American flag will wave on Memorial day, marking the final resting places of soldiers and sailors who participated in the war of the rebellion, has increased in a quarter of a century, from 800 to over 2000, a fact that recalls the words of the late John Boyle O'Reilly in his address to the U. S. A. veterans, as follows:

"The war is behind you like a sunset, and we must stand and see the glory from the hill. The sun is down, and all the west is paved with suffering. Millions of Americans stand full grown who were not born when you fired your last shot. Year by year that sunken fire sinks into the west, and wider and wider the gaps in your ranks show against the light. In a few more years the evening will have descended and the figures will disappear, and the night of history will have closed upon the war. For the middle-aged and the old, you still recall the memory of the great drama. The deep-lined pictures that are darkened in their memory for the other days of the year are unveiled by your hands today. But for those who have no memory of the war, who were not born or who were infants when you returned from the field, your memorial parade has strange power to impart the thrill of that first, wild war note, which the poet describes:

"Forty years had I in my city seen soldiers marching in parade.
Forty years as a pageant, 'til, unaware, the mother of this teen-ing and turbulent city, Sleepless amid her ships, her houses,
her incalculable wealth,
With her million children around her, suddenly—

At dead of night at news from the south,
Incensed, struck with clenched hand the pavement!

"And from the houses and the workshops, and through all the doorways the strong men leapt, tumultuous, and lo! The north, armed, marching southward to the conflict."

Memorial Day Observance
The old Sun's report of the Memorial day observance of quarter of a century ago was in part as follows:

"The weather was all that could be

THE PAIN OF NEURALGIA

People think of neuralgia as a pain in the head or face but neuralgia may affect any nerve of the body. Different names are given to it when it affects certain nerves. Thus neuralgia of the sciatic nerve is called sciatica, but the character of the pain and the nature of the disease is the same, the cause is the same and the remedy to be effective, must be the same.

The pain of neuralgia is caused by starved nerves. The blood, which normally carries nourishment to the nerves, for some reason no longer does so and the pain that you feel is the cry of the nerves for food. The reason why the blood fails to properly nourish the nerves is often because the blood itself is weak and thin.

Anemia, or thin blood, is the most common cause of neuralgia. Build up the thin blood with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and you are attacking neuralgia at its root. These tonic pills also have a peculiar and direct action on the nerves so that they are probably the very best possible remedy for the treatment of neuralgia.

desired and the veterans turned out in full numbers. About 800 graves in the Lowell cemeteries are marked by G. A. R. standards and on each of these was placed one or more living plants that will be kept alive for several weeks. At 12:30 the different posts left their respective halls and went to the different cemeteries for the purpose of decorating the graves: Post 12 to the Lowell; Post 120, to the Edison, Catholic and No. 2 cemeteries, and Post 155 to the School street, Camp Farragut, Sons of Veterans and the disabled veterans went to the 110th street cemetery. Within the gate of each cemetery a simple service was held, conforming to the ritual of the order, prayer being offered by the different chaplains.

The posts then assembled at the South common where the procession was formed as follows:

Platoon of Police, Capt. Davis; Chief Marshal Woodbridge W. Tuttle; Chief of Staff Samuel Broughton; Aids: Col. C. A. R. Dimon, Dr. P. C. Plunkett, P. A. Bates, Harry Pettin-

ber and after the parade, camp-fires were held in the different post halls.

Rev. Dr. Blackburn's Remarks
The concluding event of the day's observance was the monster memorial meeting held in Huntington hall. Commander Nevers opened the meeting and a brief address was made by Mayor Palmer. The orator of the occasion was Rev. Alexander Blackburn, a local clergyman, and also state chaplain of the G. A. R. In the course of his address he spoke as follows:

"The sacrifices of the war call for a higher intelligence of the citizen. Rulers were always supposed to be educated; here every man is a ruler and we should, therefore, all be enlightened. Wherever a dozen children come together there should be a school to educate and Americanize them. They must be taught loyalty to the flag. He next alluded to the importance of protecting the ballot. For this purpose, he said, the schools should teach more than the three Rs, they should also teach righteousness. There need be no infringement of religious rights to teach the sin of lying, the wickedness of profanity, the disgrace of bribery, the degradation of intemperance and the ruin that will come from gambling. Teach every child the sacredness of integrity, whether in business or society, or in home or in politics. Teach the honorableness of labor and the ignominy of business, and that to be a tramp is next to being a thief. Give us schools everywhere, whose product, so far as any human power can control it, shall be well rounded American citizens."

"The slavery problem is solved, but the problems of capital and labor, work and wages, profits and poverty, of machines and men must now be met. Whatever may be the details of settlement when it comes we may be sure it will be no dream of 'Looking Backward,' as outlined by Bellamy. Men will not lose their individuality in any such scheme of paternal government. There will be, there must be a recognition of each man's labor, his independence and manhood. The object of labor is not to make the few rich but the many comfortable. When the object of house-building is not to enrich the land owners but to put roofs over the heads of people; when cloth is made to clothe people and not for the sake of dividends; when shoes are made for the feet of people and not for the coffers of the manufacturers; in short, when we come to govern the amount of production by the needs of men, then one step will be taken in the direction of human progress."

The speaker finally said that there is greater need for a higher appreciation of American citizenship. Good men stay away from the polls without pretext so little do they value the privilege for which so many brave men died. Another class have a low idea of the value of citizenship. These are mostly foreigners who are ready to take most everything else but responsibility. He would not check immigration but it may be time to say to the men of other nations, come to obey or do not come at all. America for Americans, whether free-born or naturalized, may some day be a good motto."

In connection with the above exercises the Lowell Cornet band gave a program and there was singing by a male quartet.

Local Teacher Sued
About the time that the Rev. Dr. Blackburn declared that the schools should teach the wickedness of profanity, one local teacher attempted to teach it in a practical manner with dire results, for the old Sun had the following:

"A very peculiar suit is about to come up in the local courts, the defendant being a local school teacher and the plaintiff, the parents of a former pupil of that teacher, now dead. The case is brought to recover damages for the alleged causing of the death of the boy by washing out his mouth with soap suds which it is alleged affected his throat and stomach, as well as his nervous system and induced diphtheria, from which the boy died. The punishment was resorted to as a means of preventing the boy from swearing. The soap was rubbed on a cloth which was used on the boy's mouth after which water was freely applied to remove the soap. Of course in the boy's excitement he may have swallowed some of the soap which would not be very pleasant. However this may be, he could not eat anything after going home as he still felt the taste of the soap in his mouth. He was taken with a fit of vomiting but seemed to be all right. He was sent back to school for a few days after which he became ill with diphtheria and died. Peter A. Fay represents the plaintiffs and Hon. C. S. Lillie, the defendant."

In its report of the meeting of the school board held at the time that the complaint was made the old Sun said: "Mr. McEvoy brought up the mouth-washing case. He said that he had seen the principal of the school and had been referred to the teacher, who stated that hearing the child use profanity she had applied soap to a lower society, or in home or in politics. Teach the honorableness of labor and the ignominy of business, and that to be a tramp is next to being a thief. Give us schools everywhere, whose product, so far as any human power can control it, shall be well rounded American citizens."

Appetite Follows Good Digestion

Nearly everyone indulges their appetite and the digestive organs are abused, resulting in a congestion of poisonous waste that clogs the bowels and causes much misery and distress.

The most effective remedy to correct this condition is the combination of simple laxative herbs with pepsin, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. This is a natural, pleasant-tasting remedy, gentle yet positive in action, and quickly relieves indigestion, constipation, sick headache, belching, etc. Drug stores sell Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin at fifty cents and one dollar a bottle, and in thousands of homes it is the indispensable family remedy. For a free trial bottle write Dr. W. E. Caldwell, 452 Washington St., Monticello, Ills.

Putnam & Son are still doing business at the old stand, though the founder of the firm, the late Addison Putnam, has since passed away. "Brother" Bill Viney, who quarter of a century ago joined the clerks' association in a landmark at Putnam & Son's, having been in the employ of the firm continuously for 30 years, and "still going strong." The clerks then had much harder jobs as regards hours, compared with their more fortunate brethren of today, but in those days everybody worked longer hours.

Something Doing in Fayette Street
Says the old Sun:
"There will be a good treat in store for those who call over on Fayette street Friday evening. If you have no place particular to go, call around and see the fun."

On first thought one would infer that one of those weddings for which the locality is noted was scheduled, but the item above was written 25 years ago, when there wasn't even a telegraph pole on Fayette street. The old Sun didn't enlighten its readers as to what was to take place on that occasion, but should you call around most any Friday or Saturday evening these days you'll also find something doing in Fayette street.

Passing Around Dividends
This happened quarter of a century ago:
"The Lawrence Manufacturing company has declared a dividend of $50 per share, payable June 2, and the Boot Mills a dividend of $10 per share, payable June 10."
"That was the good old days."

Few people realize that the most IMPORTANT FOOD ITEM in the average home is the apparently insignificant article of milk. This is especially true where there are children. Scientists everywhere have been telling us for years that milk is about the only perfect food. In proportion to its cost it has the highest food value. Mothers who give their growing children plenty of GOOD milk need not worry about the rest of the diet.

We are telling the people of Lowell that our milk is pasteurized and bottled under the most sanitary conditions. It is rich, pure, and SAFE. Try it.

MAY NOT BE HELD

Exposition Championships Will Perhaps be Shifted to Boston

That the Panama-Pacific exposition has not sent funds to help finance the sending of athletes to the senior and junior track and field championships, which are scheduled to take place at the exposition, became known yesterday. This money was to have been sent by May 1, and it is a question now whether or not the try-outs will be held.

These try-outs are scheduled to be held in the Harvard stadium, but unless the money is forthcoming it is likely they will be abandoned.

"The junior and senior championships would not be held at the exposition, but, instead, would take place in Boston, the scene of the try-outs. This, according to Frederick W. Rubin, secretary-treasurer of the A. A. U., is hardly likely.

"The junior and senior championships will be held at the exposition," he said yesterday, "even in the event of the funds not being forthcoming, provided that the Coast A. A. U. athletic authorities want them. If they do not it is another matter. Then I should say Boston will be the choice."

While the stadium has been engaged for the try-outs, the announcement has been held back to await an answer on the fund question from the exposition officials. Mr. Rubin has been in communication with them on this point, and expects an early answer. Then the A. A. U. officials will take definite action on the try-outs for the championships.

The exposition people are anxious to have the pretentious athletic program arranged cut down, and A. A. U. officials have this phase of the question under advisement now. They are waiting to settle this also upon word from San Francisco. So far the athletic events held at the exposition in which A. A. U. men have taken part have proven a big success financially, according to A. A. U. men.

If matters are arranged satisfactorily the try-outs will be held in Boston on June 26, and in Chicago on July 12. But whatever the adjustment of affairs it is not likely that A. A. U. championships will again be held at an exposition. A. A. U. men are of the opinion that such organizations are anxious to have only those contests that are likely to prove paying.

"Athletic events have been held in connection with many expositions and have proved a big attraction," said a man well informed on athletic matters

yesterday. "This has been a good thing for the sport, but great expense is attached to conducting these meets. I believe that exposition officials should be willing to take the loss with the fat, but apparently they always want only the contests that prove most profitable."

BIG DAY AT BUNTING GROUNDS
Lowell people will have ample amusement for Monday afternoon, but the greatest objective will be bunting park, where Edward Fabre, the famous French Marathon runner, and a hundred other athletes will compete in a varied track program.

Fabre and his trainer are expected to arrive here tonight, it being Fabre's plan to work out daily on the bunting track in preparation for his race. He is essentially a Marathon runner and this means a distance of about 26 miles, but he has participated with success in many 10 mile races, and hopes to carry off the big cup in the present event. Against him will appear Tom Hennigan, Cliff Horne, Fowler and half a dozen other stars, so that a beautiful race is assured.

The first number of the program will be the Marathon from Lawrence, which is an annual feature. The start will be from the Lawrence Y. M. C. A. and the runners going through Lowell streets on the way to the goal. Last year, at least 100,000 people saw the contestants along the course, and that number will be exceeded this year, according to indications. The state highway between Lowell and Lawrence will be somewhat congested, and automobile drivers are requested to precede the runners or follow them, so that the gasoline fumes may not interfere with good work. Fully 50 men are expected to enter in the Marathon. Last year's winner was Festus Madden of Boston.

The Bunting athletic committee is hard at it. Every member is working his limit to make the program a success, and with the weather man favorable, there is little question as to the outcome. The events are as follows: 100 yards dash; 220 yards dash; 440 yards dash; 550 yards run; one mile run; one mile relay; 10 mile race; Marathon from Lawrence to Lowell.

ATLAS A.A. BOUTS

For the past few years Mike Glover, the clever South Boston welterweight, has made futile efforts to get the leaders of his class to recognize him, but one after the other gave Mike the once over and then passed on. He was considered too tough. Jack Britton engaged his attention in no decision bout, but the Chicago native always evaded a chance to mix with the South Boston boy in a contest where a decision would be heard at the conclusion of hostilities.

But Glover at last is going to have an opportunity to demonstrate his ring qualifications. Jack Britton declined to engage Mike's attention at the Atlas A. A. next Tuesday night, but Matt Wells, his stable partner, saw a chance too for a big match and he informed Dan Morgan, his manager, to clinch the bout for him. Bostonians remember Wells very well. He won the Lord Lonsdale belt from Freddie Welsh and displayed the trophy in this city when he came here to fight Pat Moore of Philadelphia.

As a performer he is one of the most satisfactory that ever drifted this way. A busy fellow, well versed in the game and a general as well, he proved himself to be a boxer who was willing to take chances notwithstanding he possessed a crown at the time.

This will be Wells' first appearance in this country since his return. Finding that he could not be a soldier because of a pair of cauliflower ears, he volunteered to teach the soldiers what he knew of athletics and prepared them for the front at a training station at London. His services were accepted, but after a few months service the troops joined the allies and Wells was left without a job. He then left for New York and resolved to go after Freddie Welsh on his arrival here. But Wells' demands knocked his plans sky high and Wells decided to give up the job and seek other opponents. In the first place he was a little too heavy for Freddie and then he would have to make concessions to the champion that did not appeal to him.

Wells captured the Australian welterweight championship when he was in Sydney, and he saw an opportunity to get started right by engaging in a match with the boy who is generally recognized as the best man of his weight in America. By announcing that he would have two titles and the world's champion would be his if he could on his return to England whip the welterweight champion of the British Isles.

No time was lost clinching the match. The boxers will weigh 142 pounds. Glover is training for the bout at Mike Devaney's Highland Lake farm, while Wells is working at Stratford, Conn., with Battling Levinsky. It is the most important

LOWELL'S HEALTH GOOD

City Free From Contagious Diseases—Board of Health's Annual Report

Lowell is peculiarly free from contagious diseases at the present time and this very favorable condition of affairs seems to have established itself some time ago. The records at the office of the board of health show very few cases of contagious disease reported for the last five or six weeks and when anybody inquires as to Lowell's health you may say "excellent, thank you."

The 37th annual report of the Lowell board of health was received from the printer a few days ago and will be distributed by mail today or tomorrow. The report includes the reports of the inspector of milk, inspector of meat and provisions, plumbing inspector, house inspector, and the report of the city bacteriologist.

The report of the milk inspector shows that forty-nine complaints for violation of the milk law were entered in the police court during the year, and ten complaints for violations outside of city limits. The total number of convictions was 45 and the fines amounted to $1,450.

The plumbing inspector's report gives the whole number of applications for permits to do plumbing as $35; 152 new buildings and 683 old buildings. The total number of tenements inspected during the year was 1,847.

The total number of examinations of cultures for diphtheria, was 920, tuberculosis examinations 445, examination of blood for Widal reaction, typhoid fever, 394; examination of cerebro-spinal fluid, 19.

The report contains a comparative list of contagious diseases, as follows:

PASTEUR CASES GERMAN MINES

Dr. Simpson Treating Patients to Prevent Hydrophobia

They are Harmless if They Drift Away

WASHINGTON, May 27.—Count Bernstorff, the German ambassador, presented a memorandum to the state department today, saying German mines were of a type which become harmless if they drift from their anchorages.

Dr. C. E. Simpson of the state board of health is treating several persons bitten by dogs said to have been afflicted with rabies. One of his patients is Daniel McKenna, a employe of the health department of the city of Lawrence, who was bitten by a stray dog a few days ago. The dog's head was examined by the officials of the state board of health and they found that the dog had the rabies. Another one of the doctor's patients is a little girl from Lawrence and all of his patients are being treated at his office in Lowell. He applies the Pasteur treatment and receives the serum from the United States government. Doctors not connected with the state board of health receive their serum from the New York state board of health and receive enough for only one injection at a time. State board of health doctors, however, receive enough for 21 injections, an injection a day for three weeks. The injection comes unprepared and they have to prepare it themselves. They are not allowed to delegate their authority to an outsider and just for that Dr. Simpson finds it impossible to get even a half-holiday. "I have been in the habit of taking little trips away on Patriots' day," said the doctor, "but I was obliged to remain on duty this year."

TONIGHT'S THE NIGHT

The general enthusiasm of Wednesday was far too ardent to be injured by the rain, for it was Lowell day, and Lowell was bound to celebrate, rain or no rain. And Lowell did celebrate, indeed, though not to the extent intended. Never did the city look more beautiful than in the morning hours. The streets were rarely brilliant with their array of lovely colors, and the hundreds of American flags flying from roofs and windows made a sight to be long remembered. The stores, too, responded to the call for external decoration, and all in all, Lowell presented a picture of beauty and order to our visitors. And there were many of them. By dozens and scores they poured in on the special cars, and one could easily imagine how successful this part of the program would have been with more propitious weather. The stores, too, reflected the increased patronage, and the advertising which the city received will surely have an effect in the future.

Once again the Board of Trade deserves the thanks of all good citizens for this enterprise. To their initiative, backed by the support of the press, the lighting system is largely due, and in the carrying out of the plans for celebration they showed a sensible understanding of the city's needs. The merchants who cooperated so readily also deserve special praise, and it is to be regretted that the uncertain weather operated to prevent the benefits which they would have reaped in the full had the day been bright and clear.

Under the circumstances it was inevitable that the formal celebration of the White Way opening and the official Lowell day features should have been postponed, but we can afford to be patient. The heavy rain only served to clean up the streets, freshen the air and give everything a more festive appearance. The occasional light of the White Way system, as seen for the past two evenings, served to whet our curiosity, and tonight we shall have our belated celebration even with more spirit than originally intended. The feeling of intense disappointment shown on all sides last Wednesday proved eloquently the popularity of the occasion, and there can be no doubt that the White Way observance will be characterized by general enthusiasm this evening.

Let us then turn out tonight in our hundreds of thousands to encourage the merchants and others who by their untiring efforts, practical support and sacrifices have made the event possible. The new lights that will flash out in the early evening will certainly be a revelation, and there will be music, marching and all that goes to make an inspiring demonstration. Most impressive of all, however, will be the mass of Lowell citizens enjoying the primal display of the new White Way.

It will remain for all who turn out tonight to hold the celebration of which the weather cheated us, to remember that the White Way observance is not intended as an empty show. It is aimed to arouse local enthusiasm in the city, its institutions, its merchants and its advantages generally. Along the streets to be bathed in the brilliant light are stores which in their service, prices and facilities will compare with those of any city in the country. It is to help these stores while illuminating the public streets the White Way has been planned and executed, and the people of Lowell should do their part, not only tonight but throughout the year. Tonight would be a fine time to resolve to become a citizen of Lowell in all that the term implies, becoming a believer in Lowell as a city of opportunity, and bounding its advantages in the most practical manner possible.

LYNN SCHOOL BOARD

We have occasionally heard references by press and public to certain secret sessions of local school boards, or methods that were similar in design and effect, but our school board never got into the limelight as brazenly as the school board of Lynn is doing at the present time. According to certain leading politicians and teachers' organizations of that city, reported in the papers of Lynn and Boston, the school board of Lynn has resorted to "star chamber" methods, boosted salaries and displayed gross favoritism in appointments at variance with the spirit of the Lynn charter. The case has more than a passing interest for Lowell, and the Lowell school board ought to give it a passing thought.

The Lynn conditions have reached such a pass that Finance Commissioner Bergengren has announced his intention of taking steps to have the Lynn school board abolished and a commissioner of education appointed at a salary of $3,000 annually. To do this he would have to get the consent of the majority of the city government and of the legislature, but he apparently feels that he would be supported by the opinion of the city. The secret meetings of the board are responsible for the tense feeling that exists, but apparently the board has no intention of submitting to the adverse criticism of the commissioner of finance or anybody else. It is announced that the Lynn Teachers' club is to hold an indignation meeting to protest against the neglect of teachers' petitions for a raise in salary while the salaries of school superintendents and principals have been raised at the star chamber sessions.

The school board of Lynn, like that of Lowell, cannot do better than to obey the letter and spirit of the charter in holding meetings in the open. Secrecy gives rise to public suspicion, which once aroused is not always just in its conclusions. The school board like the municipal council is doing business for the public, spending the money of the public, and hence should be above the domination of any clique and class, complying in all respects with the organic law of the city.

THE COALITION CABINET

Judging from the personnel of the coalition ministry formed in England very few will admit that it is to any great extent stronger or better than that which it has displaced. First of all the cabinet is a makeshift because it became a necessity in order to prevent the disaster of a general election which might stir up elements of opposition to the war policy or bitterness over the disastrous mismanagement of the navy by Lord Churchill. There was considerable criticism of Lord Chancellor Haldane on account of his anti-bellum sympathies with Germany, although he was one of the ablest men in the liberal cabinet. Bonar Law is a lightweight, and an unsuccesful leader, while Sir Edward Carson becomes attorney general simply as the easiest way of keeping him quiet until the war is over. The criticism of Lord Kitchener is overcome by the formation of a new cabinet department—the munitions of war—and the placing at the head thereof the former Chancellor of the Exchequer Lloyd George, one of the most popular men in England.

It is difficult to expect any genius for initiative or strategy from Lord Balfour despite his prominence as a statesman and his recognized ability as a parliamentarian. If he fails to comprehend the scientific direction of a great navy, he will at least have the good judgment to leave such problems to men who have experience in such matters.

The absence of any representative of the Nationalist party in the cabinet need not disturb the friends of Ireland. None of them would accept a cabinet position because they want to stand ready to defend the home rule act should it be attacked from any source. Premier Asquith is a great parliamentary tactician and despite the possible weaknesses of the new cabinet it is doubtful if he could have made it any stronger and at the same time maintained strict harmony. The make-up of the cabinet is proof that England is none too rich in great statesmen, just as in the command of her army and navy she suffers from a scarcity of great generals and great admirals. Now let's see whether the new cabinet organized on the harmony basis will more strongly emphasize England's power on land or sea.

THE NEBRASKAN

If it be established that the American steamer Nebraskan, which was damaged off the coast of Ireland, was struck by a torpedo, Germany will have a serious problem on its hands which it will be hard to explain satisfactorily to this country. Here we have an American ship, under the Stars and Stripes, her name and her nationality printed in large letters, headed for this country with ballast, presumably hit by a German torpedo without the slightest record for international law or the effect of the outrage on the public opinion of this country. Washington has indicated that German responsibility can be shown, American action will be prompt and decisive, and remembering the recent note which Germany takes so long to answer, the American policy cannot well be vacillating.

It is also well to remember, in this connection, that at no time has Germany disclaimed responsibility for the individual act of a submarine. All of the ships sunk, whether merchant or naval, were apparently sunk according to a settled and deliberate policy, and no attempt has been made at explanation on the ground of a mistake. Presumably, therefore, Germany will take the blame; if the attack on the Nebraskan was intended, and if so, it would seem that the German government really cares little either for our neutrality or our good opinion. Incidents such as that of the damage to the Nebraskan ought to prepare this country for an unfavorable reply to the momentous note of President Wilson—though American public opinion was beginning to grow optimistic in this regard.

GOOD LIGHTING EVERYWHERE

The lighting of Lowell does not end with the so-called "white way," and while we may wax enthusiastic over the new system, we must not forget the needs of all other localities in the same particular. The leading business streets should, of course, be illuminated more brightly than all others, but every street to the limits of the residential section should be lighted sufficiently for public comfort, convenience and safety. Now that we have done so notably in the central districts, we should not overlook the claims of many other districts.

It was well brought out by some of the petitioners for the extension of the new system that there is a direct connection between municipal lighting and some species of crimes. Dark corners, corners and alleys, especially in congested districts, are more often the scenes of assaults, robberies, insults to women and like offences than well lighted streets, and the occasional wave of terror that passes over certain sections where nightly prowlers are reported is the result of ill-lighted streets in large measure. Could we have brilliant lighting in all our business streets and adequate lighting in all our residential streets, there would be a sensible falling off in certain species of crime that at present keep our police court well supplied with criminals.

RAILROAD BRIDGE

The Lowell public will not doubt the statement of a petitioner for the Boston and Maine railroad before the county commission, viz: that the Chelmsford street bridge has rusted and deteriorated to a point of danger and should be replaced. The bridge proved that such is the case by tumbling down in a rather sensational manner some time ago, and though it was, temporarily repaired, the public has never felt over-confident. When a bridge falls down, it is certainly in need of repair or replacing, but the Boston and Maine railroad should prevent such a demonstration of inefficiency by continual supervision and prevention of such accidents. It is to be hoped that the Boston and Maine will find it possible in the near future to erect a new and safe bridge, even though the preliminary plans do not indicate that the removal of the Middlesex grade crossing is intended. If in improving the bridge the railroad would also improve the stairs adjoining, as requested by Mr. George M. Harrigan for the board of trade, the public would appreciate the improvement.

EARLY VICTORIES

In modern warfare the early victories of a campaign have little meaning; otherwise one might decide that Italy is having great success in its warfare against Austria. Italy has taken the initiative and is meeting with little resistance in its invasion, but there is an ominous silence in Berlin and Vienna which points to strategy. Italy could scarcely have made such a successful thrust into Austrian territory, unless the resistance was passive, and Austria cannot intend to let the invasion go on until the Italian troops would be a serious menace. Judging from plans of the Germans in the campaigns against Russia, the aim of the Austro-German army is to let the Italians get into the passes of the frontier before making a strong resistance. Preliminary skirmishes will mean little but in the near future there must be a great concerted struggle that Italy as well as her enemies foresee. Owing to the character of the territory on the borders of Italy and Austria, the scene of a battle is of the utmost importance to one side or the other, and on the German side somebody will be in charge who has made a specialty of the Alps as Hindenburg has of the Prussian marshes.

The sinking of the battleship Triumph in the Dardanelles proves again that the famous straits are more disastrous to the fleets of the allies than the entire German fleet. Nature is the greatest foe with which England and France have to contend, for the high banks, the swift currents and the narrow gulf give the enemy every chance to pick off a battleship by mine or submarine. The importance of the Dardanelles and Constantinople in a military sense is well indicated by the sacrifices that the allies are willing to make in taking them.

A list of the stores that have decorated their fronts in honor of Lowell day shows that once again most of our merchants have shown a commendable spirit of enterprise. Whenever a special occasion calls for external show, we can depend on Lowell merchants to do their part nobly.

The weather clerk meant well, after all. He saw the necessity of washing streets and walls so that the bright lights would reveal a spotless town. And he must have known that the people of Lowell are good waiters.

Being interested in street development, Commissioner Duncan must be immensely pleased at the splendid work now being done on Stafford street on which he is the only resident.

Late but lively!

and is inclined to be "short" even with you, whom he adores. And you, young men, do not always remember that the girl of your heart has also her little upsets, annoyances in the home, and even when she meets you she is troubled and possibly cross. I must repeat again, weigh your troubles thoughtfully, try to think that you are both worried at times, and meet each other happily, and give out your heart's sympathy. I am just remembering a case which I think probably is a typical one. A young fellow calls on his sweetheart, he is anxious to have her all to himself and is positively miserable because she does not leave the other members of her family to shut herself up in a room with him, where they can say soft nothings. Now he blames the girl; it leads to a quarrel. This is a mistake, for a young man should feel proud of the fact that his "intended" while thinking of him and loving him, must at the same time give a thought to home ties. Does it not reveal that in the days to come your wife will have as great if not greater love for the new home as she has had for the old. I think so.

Quarrels, after all, are frequently blessings in disguise. The happiest moments in the lives of lovers are those when they gave in that very particular process of "making it up." Making it up. It is one of cupid's sweetest hours. The artful cupid only pierces you with his quarrelsome dart in order that he may afterward apply to your heart the balm of perfect happiness, which brings you to one mind again, and you not care how great the quarrel may be, if you really love one another, the grand finale of a quarrel is worth all the waiting for it.

THE IDEAL. I think the song that is sweetest is the one that is never sung—it lies in the heart of the singer and is never fairly sung. And sometimes in the silence. Between the day and the night, his fingers that its measures bid farewell to the light.

A picture that is fairer than all that have a part in the masterpieces of art is one that haunts the painter in all his golden dreams, and to the painter it is a real picture seems.

The noblest, grandest poem lies not in his hand, but in his soul. Among the treasured volumes that rosewood bookshelves hold; But in bright and glowing visions it comes into the poet's brain, And when he tries to grasp it, He finds his efforts vain.

A fairy hand from dreamland Beckons us here and there, And when we strive to clasp it, It vanishes into air. And thus our fair ideal floats away just before And with longings we reach for it evermore.

—Woonsocket Call.

EDITORIAL COMMENT

WAR TO THE DEATH. With the addition of Italy to the fray all hope of peace without the shedding of blood on one side or the other disappears. Germany and Austria know that Italy did not enter the war until assured of large territorial concessions as the price of her assistance to the allies, and this territory must come from them outside of the small part left of Turkey in Europe by the Balkan allies. The war is now to the death, and the result will be the entire reconstituting of the map of southern Europe.—Burlington Free Press.

BIRD MUSIC

Bird-music before you are up in the morning sounds so sweet and so soothing—as if you lived in the golden age and slept inside a fairy ring out of some enchanted glade. Perhaps everything is enchanted in the dawn, the dusty city street, where milk carts rattle and ash barrels have to stand in a row awaiting the next move of destiny. At any rate, if there is a true lurking around somewhere you have only to go to bed with your head near an open window to find the fairy choir going beautifully when you wake up.—The Pilot.

THE PILOT

The people of the United States, we believe are justified in saying the great mass of the people in the intelligent and neutral countries are inspired with a sincere admiration for the judicial and self-restrained attitude which has been maintained by the president of the United States during the period of the present war. There is no necessity to strengthen such a statement with insipid compliments, which no man would value less than Mr. Wilson himself. His statement remains as a great historic fact, and as a fact which may yet prove a great asset to humanity.—Christian Science Monitor.

PROSPERITY WINS

This nation does not seek war with Germany or with any other power. It does not appear at all likely that we will be forced into any war. Nevertheless, if we do have to go to war with Germany, it is comforting to realize that there would be nothing in the future, as far as human vision can range it, which check the economic prosperity which is now adding immeasurably to the wealth of the American people; there would be everything to multiply our trade and extend our power. We do not want greater prosperity at the price of war, but if the price must be paid we cannot refuse the added prosperity.—Manchester Mirror.

A TRADE BOYCOTT

Norman Angell and Thomas Edison are advising that if things come to the worst between this country and Germany we can go in for a trade boycott which would be more effective than working an army that we have not got and using a navy for anything else than the defense needs which will take our full strength. As things are turning out now, however, it looks as though the trade boycott was directed towards England and her blockade war-fare.—Baltimore Transcript.

AT BELLE GROVE GOOD POSITION RUSSIAN VICTORY FIRE AT HUDSON DAMAGE TO SHIP SCHOOL PROBLEM OVER 200 ACRES

Large Gathering at Parent-Teachers Character Party

One of the biggest gatherings seen at Belle Grove for a long time took place last night, when the members of the Parent-Teachers association, a recently formed organization among the teachers and parents of the pupils of the Kenwood school, conducted a very successful character party. The affair was a gratifying success in every way and the receipts, which will go toward swelling the fund of the school, were very substantial.

It is figured that over 500 men and women, old and young were in attendance, a large number of whom came from Lowell. The event was conducted in the well appointed Varnum home, which had been thrown open to the disposition of the committee by H. A. Henders, who was in charge. The decorations about the lace were splendid, consisting of large American flags and bunting of the national colors, as well as flowers and potted plants. The illumination, which was provided by means of Japanese lanterns and large lamps, added greatly to the brilliancy of the scene.

Over 100 couples attired in handsome and funny costumes took part in the grand march and four prizes were awarded by the judges who were Supl. Randall of the District and Townsbury schools and School Committee member Doherty. The grand march was headed by a member of the G. A. R. in uniform, Mr. Farrell, and this number proved a feature of the evening. The Boy Scouts orchestra was in attendance and supplied music for dancing.

The committee in charge of the affair was composed of the following: Mr. and Mrs. Everett Page, Mrs. Thomas Hurley and James Bradley.

IN TANGO RESTAURANTS

CRUSADE AGAINST CABARETS OF BROADWAY BEGUN IN NEW YORK COURT

NEW YORK, May 28.—The crusade against tango restaurants and cabarets of Broadway was begun today with the arraignment in police court of the proprietor of one restaurant and the manager of another on charges of giving theatrical performances without a license. So elaborate is the cabaret at each of the places, it was charged, that it has developed into a theatrical entertainment.

The dance hall licenses under which the defendants operate cost but $50 while a theatrical license costs $500. It is believed that the arrests today are the forerunner of others, designed to bring the cabarets under stricter supervision. A committee of fourteen, headed by Mrs. Henry Moskowitz, investigating conditions in popular tango and cabaret restaurants, claims to have uncovered vicious and immoral conditions in some of the establishments.

The Slavic population of Trieste, these newspapers say is particularly bitter against their former allies, and in spite of the efforts to control much property already has been damaged. The mobilization of reserves between the ages of 43 and 50 from Carinthia and the Tyrol is proceeding quickly and will be completed June 7.

Sports of All Descriptions Are in Bad Condition in England

With no county cricket games being played this summer, all lawn tennis tournaments, golf championships, the principal athletic meetings cancelled and horse racing meetings, with the exception of Newmarket, abandoned during the continuation of the war, sport throughout the British Isles has reached the lowest ebb on record.

At the recent meeting of the Marylebone Cricket club, the governing body of country cricket, Lord Hawke gave out that no fewer than 2,112 members had gone on their service, six-ninths of whom had been killed in action.

Surrey, who gained the cricket championship last season, have just issued their balance sheet, showing a profit of $523 on the season's working, and with Nottinghamshire are the only counties so far to announce a balance on the right side.

SAFETY FIRST TALKS

OFFICIAL OF BOSTON & MAINE IS GOING THROUGH SCHOOLS APPEALING TO CHILDREN

A safety first campaign is being conducted in the public schools of this city and other cities through this section of the state by S. G. Watkins, general secretary of the safety first organization committee of the Boston & Maine railroad. This week the local schools were visited and circulars given to the students to impress upon their minds the danger of frequenting railroad tracks, etc. The circular states that during the past 24 years 31,043 children under 15 years of age have been killed or injured in the United States while trespassing on railroad property.

Here are a few of the injunctions to children:

- Not to walk on railroad tracks.
- Not to play in railroad yards or about stations.
- Not to cross a railroad track without first looking in both directions.
- Not to throw stones at trains. This thoughtlessness frequently results in life long injury to innocent people.

Germans Meet Reverse in Fighting Along the River San, in Galicia

BERLIN, via London, May 28, 3:30 p. m.—A reverse at the hands of the Russians in the fighting along the River San, in central Galicia, is announced in today's statement from the war office. It is said the Germans in the region of Sienawa on the left bank of the river, were forced back and lost six cannons. The German positions, according to this announcement were not defended by strong forces.

The text of the statement follows: "In the western theatre: Fourteen officers and 1450 Frenchmen were taken prisoners and six machine guns were captured since the night of May 25. These belonged to the French army corps operating at vital point where attempts were made by the enemy to break through our lines northeast of the Lorette ridge. Southeast of Lorette ridge the French renewed attacks on parts of our line last night, but were repulsed.

"At Abain a battle is raging. The enemy also attacked in the forest of Le Prete last night. After prolonged artillery preparation and bitter hand-to-hand fighting the engagement ended in a severe defeat of the French.

"In the Vosges mountains the enemy succeeded in establishing himself in a small trench forming part of our position in the southwest of Metz. A French attack at Reichen-Ackerkopf, north of Muehlbach, easily was repulsed.

"Eighteen French aviators yesterday attacked the open town of Ludwigshafen (Ravenna). Several civilians were killed or wounded by bombs. The material damage done by the raiders was slight. The leading armored aeroplane was forced to land at a point east of Neustadt, and afterwards the commander of the squadron of aircraft also fell into our hands in the neighborhood of Nancy. Our aeroplanes caused a separate aeroplane to fall at Epinal, and they set fire to the barracks at Gerardmer (18 miles south of St. Die).

"In the eastern theatre: In the Dnyestr our troops again began the offensive. An attack conducted on both sides of the high road between Rossjany and Elragola was crowned with good results. We captured 3120 Russians. On the remainder of this front Russian night attacks were repulsed at several places.

"In the southeastern theatre: To slow the advance of the Teutonic allied troops the enemy tried with fresh forces brought forward from other war theatres to attack at several points on the right bank of the River San. These attempts failed. Only in the region of Sienawa we were weak, divisions being forced back on the left bank of the San. On this occasion about six of our cannon could not be withdrawn in good time.

"In the district northeast of Przemyśl we are still progressing favorably on both sides of the River Wyszynia.

"In addition to the booty reported May 25 about 9000 additional prisoners have been taken and 25 cannons and about 20 machine guns have been captured."

A fire that started on the Lowell road in Hudson, N. H., about the noon hour destroyed a fine old residence on what was formerly the Varnum estate not far from the overhead bridge. The Nashua fire department fought the flames and Fireman Gay sustained a fracture of the skull by falling from a roof. Sparks from the burning building set fire to some wood and timber land a mile away, but was extinguished before any very serious damage was done. The residence and other buildings destroyed were valued at $4000 and the total damage was estimated at $6000. The cause of the fire is unknown. At 2:35 o'clock this afternoon it was stated that Fireman Gay's condition was very serious.

ITALIANS GAIN

Advance Into Carinthia—Capture Important Points

GENEVA, via Paris, May 28, 1:45 p. m.—The Italians are continuing their advance into Carinthia. They have taken three of the lower mountain passes and 14 villages.

Italian forces, supported by gunboats on Lake Garda, have captured several hills to the north of Mount Baldo. Their aim is to flank the Austrian fortifications at the mouth of the Adige river, and also to advance to Mori.

Two Austrian aeroplanes attempted to bombard the Italian gunboats on the lake but they were driven off.

The new 75-millimeter Italian guns, said to be an improvement on the French model, are reported here to have been used with conspicuous success at a point in Carinthia. They are said to have silenced an Austrian battery served by Bavarians.

Another incident of the fighting in the high mountains is the case of an Italian lieutenant who, with 85 men in a passage of Agno valley, held at bay for one hour a company and a half of Bavarians armed with Maxims.

Italian artillery finally arrived and scattered the Bavarians. The lieutenant, however, had been killed.

Other despatches reaching here say that large forces of Austrians and Germans are assembling in the vicinity of Bozen, about 30 miles north of Trent, where they will be formed into the 12th army corps.

Admiral Fletcher Reports to the Navy Department

WASHINGTON, May 28.—Admiral Fletcher, reporting to the navy department today from Newport, R. I. on the damage to ships of the Atlantic fleet Wednesday night, said the battleships Virginia and Nebraska were slightly damaged when fouled by dragging of the colliers Cyclops and Orion. The colliers were coaling the battleships when a squall swept over Narragansett Bay. Repairs, the admiral reported, could be made by the ship's force. The collier Jupiter, he reported, also fouled the battleship Louisiana without serious damage. The Cyclops' plates were loosened and there is water in one of her holds, while the Orion is taking a small amount of water.

LOWELL MAN MISSING

HENRI LEFEBVRE SAID TO HAVE ENLISTED IN CANADIAN ARMY—WIFE IS ANXIOUS

The whereabouts of Henri Lefebvre of this city, who left Lowell last September, is still a mystery to his wife and children, despite their efforts to locate him. It was stated that the young man had enlisted in the Canadian army at St. Jean, Que., but this was denied by the war authorities at Ottawa, though it was admitted that the young man might have enlisted under a fictitious name.

It will be recalled that last September Mr. Lefebvre, who is the father of several children, left his home at 204 St. Jean street, wrote to his family several weeks later, at which time a cousin of Mrs. Lefebvre met him in Montreal, Que. At that time Mr. Lefebvre informed his wife's cousin he would write and send money to his family, but, according to his wife's story, he failed to keep his promise.

A few weeks ago while the 22d Royal Canadian regiment was camping at St. Jean, Que., a Lowell man, who made a trip up north, returned with the information that he had seen Mr. Lefebvre at St. Jean. He said the young man wore the military uniform and had enlisted to go abroad.

With this bit of information Mrs. Lefebvre, who makes her home with her mother, Mrs. Jane Van de Grinsyn, 641 Merrimack street, wrote to Hon. Samuel Hughes, minister of militia and defense for Canada, asking him for information concerning her husband, whom it was said had enlisted in the Royal regiment. Mrs. Lefebvre received a reply from the Canadian minister a few days ago to the effect that the name of Henri Lefebvre could not be located on the payroll. The letter also stated that two or three young men by that name had enlisted but were discharged. The minister stated that Lefebvre might be in the regiment under a fictitious name, and if any other information could be obtained he would write at once.

Another Annex Necessary Before New High School is Ready

So much has been said about the plan for a new high school that the authorities seem to have lost sight of the fact that another overflow of high school pupils will have to be provided for before the new school is built and this will mean the occupancy of the other half of the Varnum house in Kirk street and at an expense of about $6000.

This fact was brought out at an informal discussion of the high school proposition at city hall, today. The one who sprang it is interested in school matters and he said he had learned from Commissioner Putnam that it would be at least one year and a half before the new high school would be ready for occupancy. This man is not very much in favor of the present school plan. "The city will have to afford accommodations for between 50 and 100 new high school pupils next year," he said, "and the new high school will not be ready for them. This will mean the making ready of the other half of the Varnum house and it will cost at least $6000 to fix up the necessary rooms there. The overflow will require at least four rooms."

"The grammar situation, too, must be looked after. Additions are needed at the Lincoln, Bartlett and Highland grammar schools. These schools are not offering the proper accommodations at the present time and in each of the schools there are anywhere from 50 to 100 pupils more than can be properly cared for. These are conditions that must be remedied at once and it looks to me as if the city should borrow the money for 'school purposes' rather than for a 'high school'."

"One other thing that I think perhaps is being overlooked. The present plan includes an industrial school. The state assists in the maintenance of an industrial school and, as I understand it, the plans for any school assisted by the state must be approved by the state board of education."

NEWS OF THE LEGISLATURE

Prorogation in Abeyance—House and Senate at Odds on Trip to Exposition

The Massachusetts legislature awaits the governor's pleasure in the matter of prorogation. It has so few matters unfinished that it can adjourn today or tomorrow if by that time the governor has signed the bills before him.

There is yet to come the big state tax bill and the final general appropriation bill. Some conference committees have yet to meet and one or two bills are hanging between the two branches. Other bills and resolutions have yet to be enacted. All this, however, can be speedily cleaned up once the governor's mind as to prorogation is made known to the legislature.

Gov. Walsh, it must be remembered, has been suffering from tonsillitis and compelled to remain in his apartments at Hotel Lenox. He has been working hard at no small personal discomfort in order to prevent unreasonable delay. He is disposed, however, to scrutinize closely all measures awaiting his signature and will not permit anything to be "rushed."

University Extension Bill

The bill to establish a state department for university extension and correspondence school work has gone through the legislature.

The bill as reported by the committee on education put the department in the hands of a new commission and made an appropriation of $50,000 for 1915. The house amended the bill by giving the state board of education charge of the new department.

The senate committee on ways and means then amended the measure by reducing the first appropriation to $25,000.

Senator Bean tried yesterday to have the original bill substituted for the report of the committee on ways and means, but he was unsuccessful, and the amended bill was put through.

Hitch Over Exposition Trip

The two branches disagreed about the amount to be expended by the state for a "junket" to the Panama-Pacific exposition by a committee representing the state. The resolve, as originally reported, appropriated $5000, but the house reduced it to $3000 and also cut down the size of the party.

Yesterday afternoon the senate, influenced by a statement from Ex-Representative Sedgwick of the Massachusetts board of managers to the effect that there was an unexpected balance in the appropriation already made by the state, voted to increase the appropriation to $6000 and to include in the party three members of the senate and three members of the house.

The house later received the amended bill and refused to concur. The bill was returned to the senate with notice of the nonconcurrence of the house.

Senator Bazley moved that the senate insist on its amendment, and with notice of this insistence, the bill was returned to the house.

By a vote of 43 to 52, the house refused to adopt a motion of Mr. Sherrill of Brookline that the house ask for a conference committee.

Mr. Lomasney of Boston then moved that the house insist on its amendment, and with notice of this insistence, the bill was returned to the senate.

CHATHAM, May 28.—An unknown two-masted lumber schooner was discovered aground on Pollock Rip shoal at dawn today with a 50-mile gale blowing off shore. The schooner coast guard crew pulled off to her assistance and succeeded in floating her on the forenoon tide. The schooner subsequently anchored and set signals for a coast guard cutter. It was the opinion of those on shore that she was leaking. The coast guard cutter Acushnet at Woods Hole, was ordered to her assistance.

LOWELL MASS. FRIDAY MAY 28 1915

PRICE ONE CENT

PROGRAM OF PARADE AT OPENING WHITE WAY

Big Time Expected This Evening—Wednesday's Arrangements Will be Carried Out

PROGRAM OF PARADE

So far as the arrangements are fixed the following is the outline of the official program for the parade this evening:

- Evening. City Hall illuminated and open for inspection throughout the evening.
- 6 to 8 p. m. Band Concert at City Hall by Salem Cadet Band.
- 6.30 to 7.30 p. m. Band Concerts:
- Gorham Street by Tabor's Sixth Regiment Band.
 - Market and Central Streets by Lowell Military Band.
 - Merrimack and Cabot Streets by Lowell Cadet Band.
- 7.30 p. m. Formation of parade and march of sections to City Hall, passing through Merrimack Square.
- 8.15 to 8.30 p. m. Opening of White Way at City Hall by Mayor Murphy.
- 8.30 p. m. Start of Parade. Route: Moody to Cabot, to Merrimack, to Central, to Charles, to Gorham, to Middlesex, dismissing at depot.
- All Evening. Special Dining Room attractions, with music, cabaret, etc., at Richardson Hotel, Harrisonia Hotel, Waverly Hotel, and Page's Restaurant.

Between 8 and 8.15 o'clock this evening, Mayor D. J. Murphy will throw on the switch which will convey the current to the new white way, and the ceremony which will take place on the platform erected at city hall steps will be witnessed by thousands including a large proportion of visitors.

Although no arrangements have been made for the conveyance of suburbanites to this city it is believed many who had made up their mind to attend the Lowell day celebration on Wednesday will take advantage of the ideal weather today to make a trip to this city, for the advantages offered by the business men are practically the same as had been advertised for Lowell day.

It had been planned to keep the street decorations in place until late this afternoon, but yesterday afternoon the officials of the board of trade after a flying trip through the white way district, decided to have the decorations taken down at once, for the hunking in various places was shredded and torn, the damage having been caused by the rain, and the decorators removed them in a few hours.

The large temporary stand at city hall will remain as it is until after this evening's celebration, while the business men have decided to keep up their decorations until tomorrow. However, it is probable that some of the decorations will be allowed to remain in place until after Memorial day.

There has been no change in the program. The band concerts will be held as previously announced and the parade will take place at the scheduled time, the same route to be in vogue. It is believed the new lights will be turned on at about 8.10 o'clock and ten minutes later the parade will be on its way and the whole celebration will come to an end in time for the 9.45 o'clock train to Boston.

The procession will be made up as follows:

- Formation of Parade
- Platoon of Police
 - Salem Cadet Band
 - Chief Marshal and Staff
 - Sixth Regiment Band
 - Battalion of Militia
 - Section of Battery C
 - Carriage with Mayor and Officials

The ROYAL FAMILY OF GREECE.

ATHENS, May 28.—During the illness of King Constantine great crowds gathered in front of the royal palace. Prayers were everywhere said for the recovery of the king. The religious feeling was intensified by the conveyance of the icon of the Holy Virgin to the palace. Accompanied by a procession of the clergy the icon was taken through streets lined with silent crowds. All shops had shutters drawn, and the church bells rang. In front of the royal residence an enormous gathering patiently awaited the arrival of the sacred image. Although the king's condition was serious, Professor Zaimas and the other physicians in attendance upon him trusted on his robust constitution and the fact that there was no abscess and no heart weakness to pull him through. Premier Gournaris said that although there was no immediate danger in the king's condition it would be rash to exclude the possibility of a grave issue. In the accompanying illustration, left to right, are: Prince Paulos, Prince Alexandros, Queen Sophie, Crown Prince Georgios, King Constantine, Princess Helene and Princess Irene.

Solo, "When Irish Eyes are Smiling," Stephen Tucker; composition on flies, Jeremiah Jenkins; declaration, "Bobby O'Lee; recitation, Luther Brown; recitation, Obadiah Buzzard; solo, selected, Samuel Snooks; address, Mr. Perkins; closing chorus, "Star Spangled Banner."

The play was given, under the auspices of the Children of Mary Society, with Miss Elizabeth Miskella in charge. Its success reflects credit on her ability. Mr. James Cusack, as musical director, assisted greatly in the fine presentation of the entire program.

INTERESTING NEWS FROM TOWN OF CHELMSFORD

Memorial Day Observance at the Centre—Gala Day Tomorrow—Road Oiling

There will be no special attraction in North Chelmsford on Memorial day and many of the citizens of the pretty little village will journey to Chelmsford Centre, where the veterans of Chelmsford, living and dead, will be duly honored.

The observance at the Centre will be conducted by the Chelmsford Veterans' association with a parade at 9.30 o'clock in the morning. The parade will form at the town hall under Chief Marshall James P. Emerson, who will be assisted by Walter Perham as chief of staff and Fred L. Fletcher as chief aid. The line will be headed by the American band, with the Sons of Veterans as escort to the members of the Chelmsford Veterans' association, followed by a representation of the Chelmsford Monument association, town officials, clergymen, citizens and school children. The column will proceed to Forefathers' cemetery, where the memorial services of the G. A. R. will be held at the grave of Comrade George A. Parkhurst.

The address of the day will be made by Rev. Franklin Reeves, of the Second Congregational church of North Chelmsford. The program will also include selections by the Unitarian choir, Miss Etta Phillips, Mrs. Lillian Dodge Haskell, Harry Priestly and Arthur M. Warren, and the readings, Lincoln's Gettysburg address and "Her Only Son," by Miss Catherine Green. Preceding the exercises the Revolutionary monument on the common will be dedicated.

At the conclusion of the exercises, dinner will be served in the town hall to the veterans and their wives, veterans' widows and invited guests under the direction of the women of the Central Congregational society.

But one death has occurred to thin the ranks of the Chelmsford Veterans' association during the past year, that of Philip M. Goddard on April 4, 1915. His first enlistment was in Company A, Tenth Massachusetts regiment, later serving in Co. B, First Heavy Artillery.

He was also a member of Post 120 of Lowell.

On Sunday afternoon the graves of the Chelmsford heroes in the various cemeteries of the town will be decorated by members of the association and friends.

Congregational Church.
At the morning service at the Congregational church on Sunday the choir will render music appropriate to Memorial day. Rev. Franklin Reeves, the pastor, will be the speaker at the evening service which will begin at 7 o'clock, and several of the "Billy Sunday" campaign songs will be sung by the choir.

The recently formed male quartet consisting of Messrs. Shawcross, Merrill, Guerin and Slater made their first public appearance last Sunday evening in two well rendered selections.

The Teachers' Training class will hold a meeting next Friday evening, June 4, with Rev. Charles H. Davis of Lowell as the principal speaker. His subject will be "The Need of Teacher Training."

Gala Day Tomorrow
Tomorrow afternoon a "gala day" under the auspices of the Ladies Auxiliary of St. John's T. A. society will be held at McCabe's field, and present indications point to the affair being a complete success. Sports and a ball game will be run off, and appropriate prizes will be awarded the winners in the various events. In the evening a musical treat will be given in Temperance hall and this will be followed by dancing.

Road Oiling
Tynghoro road is being given a coat of oil by employees of the street department. Nearly all the other roads in the village have been treated and a few are left with oil ready to be applied. The roads are in excellent condition, now that the dust has been laid down, and they are a source of pleasure to the many motorists who pass through the village daily.

Street Lighting
Although North Chelmsford has no "white way" the center of the village is very well taken care of, and the visitor has little to fear because of the insufficiency of lights. The side streets of the village, however, need more light. This will be provided as soon as the money is available.

The Mills
The mills of the village continue their prosperous stride and this week night work is being done in all of them. A contingent of wool ready about three months ago helped the Stiles mills when a shortage in wool was predicted, and the big plant has been running steadily ever since, with night work being done in several departments. The G. C. Moore mills started this week to operate at night, and it is understood that these operations will continue for some time. The machine plant in the village is running night and day and the Lowell Textile company, is very busy.

Persons
J. A. Healy and E. G. Sullivan attended the M. C. O. E. convention this week in Boston as delegates from Court Westford of Granvilleville. Both men are well known in the village where they have spoken on several occasions.

A horse attached to a milk wagon owned by James Cornell ran away Wednesday afternoon in Newfield street, but fortunately the animal was stopped by Fred Rona as it was turning the corner of Middlesex street and no damage was done.

There will be nothing of importance doing in church and social affairs at the Second Congregational church during the summer months and services will be suspended during the entire month of August when the pastor, Rev. Franklin Reeves and his family will enjoy their annual vacation.

Herbert Waterhouse is building an up-to-date residence in Newfield street.

SAND SCOWS ON RIVER
WILL BE USED BY LOWELL CEMENT BRICK CO. TO FERRY SAND TO FILTRATION PLANT

The Lowell Cement Brick company has obtained the permission of the harbor and land commissioners to string a heavy cable across the Merrimack river on which to guide sand scows across from a point in North Chelmsford to a point near the boulevard.

The Lowell Cement Brick company has a contract with the city for 5000 yards of filter sand to be used at the filtration plant. The sand will be taken from a sand bank in North Chelmsford, loaded on scows, and taken across the river to the boulevard near the pumping station. It was first intended to bring the sand around over the Tynghoro bridge and down the boulevard in auto trucks, but it was finally decided that the better plan would be to take it across the river in scows. In order to do this it was necessary to obtain a permit from the harbor and land commissioners, and the permit has been received with the understanding that the cable is to be for temporary use only.

LOSS IS $50,000

Church, Three Stores, Mill and 20 Houses Destroyed by Fire

GILMANTON, N. H., May 28.—The main part of the village of Gilmanton Iron Works was leveled by fire early today. The buildings destroyed included a church, three stores, a working mill and twenty dwellings. The total loss is estimated at about $50,000. The townsmen fought the fire with buckets until the arrival of apparatus from Pittsfield, Alton and Laconia. By that time the flames had gained such headway that they could not be checked until they reached the Suncook river at the edge of the village. The fire spread to the woodland and later in the day was burning through valuable timber land.

The conflagration started in the barn of Osborne Price. A high wind was blowing and although all the inhabitants quickly turned out there was little they could do to check the blaze. The flames spread quickly from one building to another until the whole village was afire. All the buildings were of wood. The Free Baptist church, Hutchinson's woodworking mill, the Chase store, the Connell store and the Lockham store, housing the postoffice, were burned, and not a dwelling or barn in the main part of the village escaped. The cause of the fire is not known.

NOT TOLD OF HIS DEATH
WIDOW OF NELSON W. ALDRICH SERIOUSLY ILL—WILL PROBATE ESTATE TO FAMILY

NEW YORK, May 28.—With the announcement that the will of Nelson W. Aldrich had been probated yesterday at Warwick, R. I., it became known today that his widow, Mrs. Abby F. Aldrich, is so seriously ill at her home here that she has not been told of her husband's death.

Mrs. Aldrich collapsed when her husband was stricken several months ago and her condition has not perceptibly changed. Under the will she and three children, Edward B. Aldrich of New York city; Lucy T. Aldrich of Warwick, N. H.; and Richard S. Aldrich of Rhode Island, are executors and trustees of the estate.

From an authoritative source it was learned today that the maximum value of Senator Aldrich's estate would not exceed $5,000,000 instead of the $50,000,000 estimate made previously.

There were no public bequests and the entire estate is left to members of the family.

Seven of the men pleaded guilty to conducting a nuisance, and of this number four were released on suspended sentences. The other three were fined from $100 to $250 each.

"The cases of the other defendants were adjourned until next Thursday."

NEW YORK, May 25.—Plans for the construction at Mobile, Ala., of one of the largest shipbuilding plants in the United States were being perfected in New York today by Edward M. Hyde, former president of the Bath (Maine) Iron Works.

Mr. Hyde, who has just returned from the south, announced the formation of a $1,000,000 organization to undertake the project, which he hopes to have in operation within six months. The concern probably will be called the Gulf City Shipbuilding & Drydock Co. and is understood to have the backing of steel interests in Birmingham, Ala.

GREAT BRITAIN'S NAVY GIVEN A SEVERE BLOW

Battleship Majestic Sunk in Dardanelles — Princess Irene Blown Up Off Sheerness — Steamer Cadeby Sunk by German Submarine, Another Torpedoed

LONDON, May 25.—The torpedoing and sinking of the British battleship Majestic was announced by the admiralty last night in the following statement: "An enemy submarine torpedoed and sank H. M. S. Majestic, Capt. H. P. G. Talbot, yesterday morning while it was supporting the army on the Gallipoli peninsula. "Nearly all the officers and men were saved."

The battleship Majestic was a vessel of 14,000 tons and of 10,000 horsepower capacity. Her officers and crew on a peace footing aggregated 157.

The Majestic was built in 1905. She carried four 12-inch, 12 6-inch and 16 3-inch guns and 12 3-pounder guns. In addition, the vessel was armed with five 18-inch torpedo tubes. The Majestic is the fifth British battleship lost in the Dardanelles campaign and the second by a hostile submarine, the triumph having been sent to the bottom in the Gulf of Saros last Wednesday. The French also have lost one battleship in the Turkish campaign — the Bouvet.

STEAMSHIP ARGYLLSHIRE TORPEDOED BY GERMAN SUBMARINE

LIVERPOOL, May 25, 3:50 p. m.—The British steamship Argyllshire, which left Sydney, N. S. W., April 16, is sending out wireless distress calls after having been attacked by a German submarine, according to information received in shipping circles here.

The Argyllshire reached port safely later in the day. The harrier into which she put has not been announced.

PITTSBURGH COPS ON LOOKOUT FOR DEALERS—$100,000 INVESTED WEEKLY

PITTSBURGH, Pa., May 25.—The police of Pittsburgh were today on the lookout for dealers in baseball pools under an order issued last night by Superintendent W. N. Matthews, who declared such pools to be lotteries and therefore illegal. Under the law the crime is punishable by a fine of $100 and imprisonment in the penitentiary for one year. Fully $100,000 is invested in the pools weekly by Pittsburgh people, it is said.

PRIZES WITH NEWSPAPER

CHICAGO, May 25.—The business of conducting baseball pools is much greater than is commonly supposed, John F. Powers, assistant city prosecutor told a jury in the municipal court today. William Rapp, charged with gambling in conducting a pool was being prosecuted.

Baseball pools, as conducted by the Weekly World of Wilkes-Barre, Pa., are gambling games and nothing more," said Mr. Powers in his argument. "The newspaper feature is only a blind. More than 10,000 persons have paid thirty cents for the paper merely to get a chance at the prizes. If that sort of thing is permitted to continue, baseball will share the disrepute which gambling brought to prize fighting and horse racing."

Samuel Herren, attorney for Mr. Rapp who circulates the paper in Chicago, said the prizes were a legitimate effort on the part of the Weekly World to expand its circulation and he pointed out that the existing of premiums was a widespread practice.

CAPTURE OF AUSTRIAN VILLAGES BY ITALIANS

German War Office Concedes Victory to Russians—Germans Capture 9000

The capture of Austrian villages along the Carinthian front by the invading Italian forces is reported in an unofficial despatch from Geneva. It is said also that the Italians have taken possession of three mountain passes and are continuing their advance elsewhere along the border.

CONCEDES RUSSIAN VICTORY

The statement today from the German war office concedes victory to the Russians in a battle along the San river in central Galicia. The Germans lost six cannon and were compelled to fall back from the left bank of the river near Sienawa, where their positions were not defended strongly. Petrograd reports say that the Austro-German advance in Galicia having been checked, the Germans are taking the initiative in the north, along the line from the Baltic to southern Poland.

GERMANS CAPTURE 9000

The capture of nine thousand more prisoners is announced by the German war office, which represents the situation in the east as favorable to Germany, with the exception of the retreat from the San near Sienawa.

ON FRANCE-BELGIAN FRONT

The character of the fighting in France and Belgium has not changed materially. Today's reports show that severe engagements are in progress on the western portion of the line, but aside from local successes the attempts of each side to dislodge the other from the established line of battle are proving of as little effect as has been the case for months past.

GERMAN SUBMARINES ACTIVE

The German submarine campaign, which has been unusually active during the last week, has resulted in the sinking of another British vessel. The steamer Cadeby was sunk yesterday off the Scilly Isles by the shell fire of a submarine. The crew of 18 men and the four passengers were saved.

Counsel, however, prevented immediate executions by filing a notice of appeal to the United States district court on the application for habeas corpus proceedings. Judge Sawtelle announced he would rule on this at 1:30 p. m.

CAPTAIN AND CREW SAVED

FALL RIVER, May 25.—Word received here this afternoon by the Staples Transportation Co. states that the three-masted barge Winthrop, with a cargo of coal for this city, foundered Thursday in a storm off the Virginia coast. The captain, Stephen H. Manken of this city and crew of three men were picked up by tug Waltham, which had barges Upton, Fall River and Winthrop in tow. The Winthrop was laid down at Bath, Me., in 1895 and had a 1500 tonnage and outside of her cargo was valued at $30,000.

AMSTERDAM, via London, May 25, 5:40 p. m.—A despatch received here today from Berlin says that Capt. Perissus, the naval expert, writing in the Berlin Tagblatt in praise of the execution of a German submarine in sinking the British battleship Triumph off the Dardanelles says that this small under sea boat must have cruised upward of 200 miles from the North sea around Gibraltar to the Dardanelles and all under her own power, without stopping at a supply station.

SOCIAL AND FRATERNAL

Commander Frank B. Flanders presided at the regular meeting of James A. Garfield post 129, G. A. R., held in its hall on Merrimack street. Much routine business was transacted. Reports of committees were read and referred. Two applications for membership were read and referred. Under the head of initiation of candidates, one new member was admitted, charged and escorted by the officers of the day to a seat in full membership of the post. An invitation through the commander from James A. Garfield Relief Corps, 33, to a supper which will be served to the post comrades on Wednesday evening, June 2, was accepted. Plans for the Memorial day observance have been practically completed. On Monday, May 31, the veterans will be conveyed by automobile to the several cemeteries, when they will decorate the graves of every soldier. Comrades of Post 129 are requested to be at the post hall at 7:30 sharp. Autos leave at 8 o'clock.

QUITS THE PROGRESSIVES

JOINS REPUBLICANS AT FALL
RIVER DINNER

FALL RIVER, May 25.—"It seems sane and logical for those progressives who do not place party above principle to seek through one of the two old parties an avenue for effective action. Therefore, under certain conditions, I believe that most progressives are prepared to renounce the impossible and cooperate with the inevitable."

Thus spoke Charles E. Burbank of East Bridgewater last night at the second annual banquet of the Bristol County Republican club in Music Hall. About 500 were present.

Mr. Burbank, an ex-senator, has been one of the prominent Progressives of Massachusetts and last year was strongly urged for the party's candidate for governor.

The dinner was the largest gathering of republicans held anywhere in the state this year. It was Mr. Burbank's first appearance before a republican audience since he became identified with the progressive party and was elected to the senate. The audience was made up of organization republicans from all parts of the county.

Congressman Samuel E. Winslow of Worcester delivered a heart-to-heart talk on the work that can be done for the party. A telegram was read from John Hays Hammond, who had been invited to speak, stating that he had just returned from a trip through the south and west and finds evidences of renewed vigor on the part of the republican party.

Chairman Edward A. Thurston of the republican state committee spoke briefly for the state organization. Alfred B.

Williams of Taunton presided. Mr. Burbank said in part: "How are progressives to most effectively further the attainment of all for part of their purposes? Experience teaches or seems to teach that the people are not yet ready to face the sacrifice necessary to build up and prepare a third party."

"However much we may respect or even admire individual leaders of the democratic party, its fundamental principles exclude it from answering the purpose of progressives.

"On the other hand, for a moment consider the republican party. Many Progressives, apparently, last year at least test the theory that within a party there may be democratic control and the majority rule, and that it is

Majority rule is dear to the American heart. Three great parties preclude the possibility of the people selecting their representatives and officials by majority vote.

"The American people and the people of Massachusetts, I believe, desire to at least test the theory that within a party there may be democratic control and the majority rule, and that it is forty within the party than without upon questions of governmental policy and theory. The history and great fundamental principles of the republican party make their strong appeal to the Progressive heart and mind.

Majority rule is dear to the Ameri-

"The republican party was brought into existence through the advocacy of a noble and humanitarian cause, the freedom of the slave. Its early annals and the American home."

were earned by the lives and achievements of noble men. Carried by a host of circumstances into the power of special interests and becoming the instrument of privilege, it met disaster and defeat.

ENRICH THE BLOOD

Hood's Sarsaparilla, a Spring Tonic-Medicine, is Necessary.

Everybody is troubled at this season with loss of vitality, failure of appetite, that tired feeling, or with bilious turns, dull headaches, indigestion and other stomach troubles, or with pimples and other eruptions on the face and body. The reason is that the blood is impure and impoverished. Hood's Sarsaparilla relieves all these ailments. It is the old reliable medicine that has stood the test of forty years—that makes pure, rich, red blood—that strengthens every organ and builds up the whole system. It is the all-the-year-round blood-purifier and health-giver. Nothing else acts like it, for nothing else is like it. There is no real substitute, and you get Hood's. Ask your druggist for it today, and begin taking it at once.

of the men and captured two others single handed—all without being injured.

For this he won his promotion to sergeant and the praise of his comrades. The official record of the V. C. list related the circumstances and told simply how his action had prevented the rest of the attacking party from being fired upon. His parents shortly after the incident received from him a modest letter in which he told how the Irish Guards were getting after the Germans with the bayonet, but failed to dilate on his own exploits.

The true facts became known through a letter to the Daily Mail by Company Qm. Sergt. John G. Lowry of the Guards. When Lowry's story became known O'Leary's fame spread like wildfire. For weeks his daring exploit was described in song and story, while his photograph and that of his parents and their little home in Inchicore, Cork county, were widely published and committees were appointed to arrange for a testimonial.

Enlisted First in the Navy
O'Leary was about 21 years old and was the son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel O'Leary. He came from fighting stock. His father was an athlete in his younger days and, even today, when more than 60 years, his figure is still erect. Young O'Leary stood 5 feet 10 inches and was as strong as he looked.

Although a good boy and ever mindful of his parents, love of adventure caused him to enlist in the British navy when 16 years old. He was a stoker on the Vivid and later the Cumberland, but at Malta his health broke down and he went home, hobbling on crutches.

He was not long in building up and again sought enlistment. He went to Cork barracks to enlist, but as he could not show his discharge papers from the navy at the time, he was virtually made a prisoner until they arrived. Then he was sent to Buckingham palace, and for four years he served in the guards.

His time up, he went to Canada and served credit in the Northwest Mounted Police until last fall, when he heard of the fighting across the water and ached to get into it.

It is not known just when O'Leary joined the 1st Battalion of the Irish Guards at the front. The battalion itself was there from the first and took part in the bloody retreat from Mons, but it apparently was about Nov. 1 that he joined it, assigned to Co. J. For more than a week before Feb. 1 the Guards held trenches near the La Basse brickfield, and their losses were heavy. The Germans had excellent cover both in the trenches and behind stacks of bricks. Their bombs brought many casualties among the guards. The men were anxious for an order to charge, and it came at 2 the next day. In the assault the French were on the right, with Cos. 1 and 2 of the guards and some of the Coldstreamers.

Promptly at 3 the next day the order for a general assault was given and the British and French artillery opened fire. After a rain of bullets and shrapnel for 20 minutes, No. 1 company was let loose. They jumped from their trench with a yell, bayonets fixed, and went for the enemy on the run.

Story of the Charge
As Sergt. O'Leary of the Guards wrote home about the charge, here is what happened: "They had from 100 to 150 yards to travel, and they went at a tidy pace, but were easily outstripped by Lance-Corp. O'Leary. He never looked to see if his mates were coming and he must have done pretty near even time over that patch of ground."

"When he got near the end of one of the German trenches he dropped and so did others a long way behind him. The enemy had discovered what was up."

A machine gun was O'Leary's mark. Before the Germans could manage to slew it round and meet the charging men O'Leary picked off the whole five of the machine-gun crew, and leaving his mates to come up and capture the gun, he dashed forward to the second

LATE WAR NEWS

Is once more threatened with investment.

Just as the Russians, after surrounding Przemyśl, forced the surrender of the fortress on March 22, to Austro-German troops, who have driven a wedge through central Galicia, are now attempting a double flanking movement and with growing intensity of attack, are seeking to encircle Przemyśl from the north and the south-east. According to Vienna reports, progress is being made in both directions and if the advance is not checked, Przemyśl will be either isolated from the rest of the Russian army or the Russian troops which fell back to the San will be forced into further retreat.

This situation in Galicia is unquestionably of great strategic importance at the present time and even the British press concedes that the position of Przemyśl is serious. It is described as the key to the whole Russian position in Galicia, and its fall will mean that the railroad running eastward to Lemberg, the main artery of the Russian supplies in this region will fall into Austrian hands. Reports that this railroad line already has been severed are without confirmation.

Fighting along the Austro-Italian frontier still is in the development stage. There is virtually no change on the western battlefield and the British and the French admit that the Turks are so strongly entrenched on the Gallipoli peninsula that only slow warfare can be waged there.

URUMIAH, PERSIA, OCCUPIED BY RUSSIANS AFTER BATTLE WITH TURKS

PETROGRAD, via London, May 28, 7.05 a. m.—Urumsiah, Persia, has been occupied by the Russians after an engagement with the Turks in the environs of Dilman and near Bakhkhal, according to a statement issued by the general staff of the army of the Caucasus.

Urumsiah, in Azerbaijan province with a population of about 50,000 is a center of missionary activity. It is the seat of a Turkish consular office and of German colonies. For weeks the missionaries stationed there as well as many thousands of Assyrian Christians have been in grave danger from attacks by Kurds and Turks. Between 15,000 and 17,000 natives are reported to have placed themselves under the protection of Dr. Harry P. Packard of the American Presbyterian mission, at least 12,000 have taken refuge in the Caucasus and it has been estimated that 20,000 are dead or missing.

The entire Urumsiah district has been terrorized by wandering bands of Kurds and by Turkish regulars. Appeals have been made to the American state department to take measures for the protection of American missionaries and the Russian government has been urged to make every effort possible to occupy the district. There have been many reports of atrocities and the wholesale slaughter of natives. The Christians have resisted as vigorously as possible the attacks of Kurds but have been handicapped by a lack of guns and ammunition.

SUCCESSFUL RAID BY ITALIAN AEROPLANES ON AUSTRIAN RAILROAD

ROME, May 27, 10 p. m., via Paris, May 28, 8.30 a. m.—A successful raid upon the Trieste-Nabresina railroad by a squadron of Italian hydroaeroplanes together with the occupation of additional Austrian territory along the Tyrol frontier and on the Friuli front are reported in an official statement issued tonight by the Italian war office. It is stated that an artillery battle is raging between the Italian fortified positions and the Trentino front and those of the Austrians. The communication follows:

"On the Tyrol-Trentino front an artillery combat continues between our fortified positions and those of the enemy at Tonale and on the Asiago plateau. To the north we have extended the territory occupied up to the mouth of the Chiese river in Lake Idro and have occupied the rugged mountainous zone extending between Lakes Idro and Garda.

"Notables of Trentino in Val Zugara and other occupied parts presented themselves to our authorities expressing sentiments of patriotism and the devotion of the population.

"Our Alpine troops continue successful combats on the Carniola front where we are capturing prisoners.

"On the Friuli front we occupied Grada where the population welcomed us enthusiastically.

"During the night of the 25th-26th a squadron of hydroaeroplanes raided the enemy's territory throwing bombs on the Trieste-Nabresina railroad causing damage and it is believed interrupting the line. In spite of the violent musket and artillery fire of the enemy the squadron returned safely."

FRENCH WAR OFFICE REPORTS GERMAN COUNTER ATTACKS REPELLED

PARIS, May 28, 2.35 p. m.—The French war office this afternoon issued the following statement on the progress of hostilities:

"The counter attacks of the enemy against the positions taken by us near Angres continued last night but were repulsed by us.

"At Abtain-St. Nazaire our troops yesterday followed up their offensive movement with distinct success. Masters of the cemetery, they took possession early in the night of all the group of houses nearly including the park. The fighting was very spirited and the enemy suffered a serious check. The number of prisoners reported yesterday evening is considerably over 400 and includes seven officers. We captured in addition about 12 machine guns.

"This morning, at the taking of the fort, we made some more prisoners. The exact number has not yet been reported. We also captured some war material.

"The bombardment reported yesterday by the Germans from Eucire and

—Senior Class Had Charge at High School

Memorial day exercises were held in most of the schools of the city today and while the programs commemorating the honor of those who gave their lives for their country were not especially elaborate, they were appropriate to the occasion and thoroughly enjoyed by those privileged to hear them.

The arrangements for the exercises at the high school this year were out of the ordinary inasmuch as they were left entirely in the hands of the graduating class.

WHAT $10 DID FOR THIS WOMAN

The Price She Paid for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound Which Brought Good Health.

Danville, Va.—"I have only spent ten dollars on your medicine and I feel so much better than I did when the doctor was treating me. I don't suffer any bearing down pains at all now and I sleep well. I cannot say enough for Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and Liver Pills as they have done so much for me. I am enjoying good health now and owe it all to your remedies. I take pleasure in telling my friends and neighbors about them."—Mrs. MATTIE HALEY, 501 Colquhoun Street, Danville, Va.

No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism. Women everywhere bear willing testimony to the wonderful virtue of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Every woman ought to have Lydia E. Pinkham's 80-page Text Book. It is not a book for general distribution as it is too expensive. It is free, and only obtainable by mail. Write for it today. Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co., Lynn, Mass.

Coburn School
Owing to the lack of accommodations in not having an assembly hall, the memorial exercises in the Coburn school were held in the ninth grade room, which was taxed to its capacity by the children of two grades. The remaining grades had exercises of their own. The program which was arranged by Principal Helen M. Sheen, provided plenty of enjoyment for the children and the address by a member of the G. A. R. also proved interesting. The program was as follows:

The pledge of allegiance to the flag
Chorus, The Star Spangled Banner
Recitation, The Gettysburg Address
Chorus, Prayer for Our Country
Recitation, The Blue and the Gray
Chorus, Sleep, Noble Heart
Address, Member of G. A. R.

Green School
Owing to the fact that examinations are being held at the Green school today, no Memorial day program was arranged. Plans are underway, however, for an elaborate patriotic program on Flag day. In the lower grades special exercises, including the reading of poems and singing of patriotic songs, were carried out.

Bartlett School
Memorial day was observed by individual classes in the various rooms at the Bartlett school. Each room was decorated with American flags. Programs arranged by the different teachers were presented this afternoon.

CRUISER NORTH CAROLINA IS AGROUND WITHIN OUTER HARBOR OF ALEXANDRIA

WASHINGTON, May 28.—The United States cruiser North Carolina is aground within the outer harbor of Alexandria, Egypt, according to a report to the navy department today by her commander, Capt. Joseph W. Oman, who says the ship is undamaged and that dredging operations will be undertaken to release her.

had been labeled "unsafe" and no particular attention was paid to it. "There are hundreds of trees that should be taken down," said John W. Kernan, superintendent of parks, today. "And I think $1000 appropriated for that purpose will not go very far. These trees are a menace to public safety and I am going to remove as many as can be removed for $1000. I will go the limit and I wish I had more tree money; for there is no knowing when one of these trees will fall and kill or maim somebody for life. The harm done by a single tree might cost the city more than the amount appropriated for trees for the last ten years. The element of danger connected with bad or dead trees is too great to be passed over lightly."

Branches of the tree that fell on the Mill street house penetrated the roof and Mr. Kernan stated today that his men worked all day yesterday and all last night on fallen trees and branches. Another huge elm was blown down in Riverside street and trees and branches were reported down in Gates street, Middlesex Village, Stevens, Andover and School streets. A towering dead elm at 651 School street also succumbed to the high winds. Narrow escapes were reported in several instances and Sgt. Kernan was free to admit today that the tree business is getting on his nerves.

South Common Fountain

The superintendent of parks has always been in favor of a fountain in the South common and he annexed a little idea a few days ago that is tickling him almost to death. He discovered a three-inch pipe in the bottom of the South common pool and said John to John, talking to himself, like, here's where I get a chance to use my bean. Well, to make a long story short, the resourceful John brought the pipe up to the surface of the water, reducing it to one-eighth of an inch with the result that a small reaver-like stream, 20 feet high, is working overtime. The children enjoy it immensely and Mr. Kernan is thinking quite seriously of having it patented. The force of water from the 3-inch to the 1/8-inch pipe is sufficient to send it up for a distance of 39 feet, and Mr. Kernan says the whole thing didn't cost more than 75 cents.

Memorial Hall Building

Commissioner Putnam stated today that only the roof of the Memorial building would be restored this summer and plans for the roof will be ready in a few days. Librarian Chase wants a new ventilating system as it has been found that some of the ducts are leaking and while it is impossible to get all the heat necessary it is impossible to get all the foul air out. The system has been investigated and Commissioner Putnam awaits a report of the investigation.

TRACK CHAMPIONSHIPS

PHILADELPHIA, May 28.—Clear, cool weather, a fast track in perfect condition and a field of more than 600 athletes, pick of the score or more colleges in the association, promised record-breaking performances in the forth annual track and field championships of the Intercollegiate association which opened today on Franklin field. Elimination trials in the shot put, pole vault, running high, jump, hammer throw and running broad jump, and preliminary heats in the 100 yard dash, half mile run, 120 and 220 yard hurdles, 440 and 220 yard dashes completed today's program. Six men will qualify for the finals in each of the field events and records made today will stand unless bettered in the final competitions tomorrow.

Many of the experts have figured that the championship may largely be determined by the results in the half and quarter mile runs and much interest was manifested in the drawings of the various colleges for position in these events. In the half mile Michigan drew the pole and in the quarter mile Fordham drew the choice position.

LIKES OUR WHITE WAY

Alderman Lavigueur of Quebec
Talks of Canadian City

A distinguished visitor to Lowell who delayed his return home for the purpose of seeing the white way put into operation, but who was forced finally to leave without enjoying the fun, is Alderman Henry L. Lavigueur, of Quebec, who came to Lowell a few days ago to visit his brother, Mr. Emile Lavigueur, the well known violinist, who is ill at his home, though his friends will be pleased to learn, at present somewhat improved.

Mr. Lavigueur was accompanied to this city by his sister, Mrs. Edmond Ballin, of Quebec, while another sister, Mrs. O. Drouin, from the same city, is also here.

"I regret very much," said Alderman Lavigueur, "that I must return to Quebec without seeing the lights turned on. I am now overdue there, but remained here expecting that the program would be carried out as everybody had hoped. What has impressed me most has been the civic interest on the part of the merchants and the public generally; the gala appearance of the city, and general enthusiasm manifest over the inauguration of a big public improvement. It is something entirely new to me, this idea of observing the inauguration of a great public improvement in a public manner, and other cities would do well to copy it. We have had the white way system in Quebec for two years, our white way costing us $250,000. Quebec has the reputation of being the best lighted city on the continent and hence my interest in your new system. The city does all the work on its lighting system but buys the power."

Alderman Lavigueur is chairman of the department of roads and parks. The city government consists of a mayor elected by the people and 25 aldermen elected two from each ward with the exception of a recently annexed ward which is only entitled to one representative. Mr. Lavigueur has served five terms of two years each. The mayor receives a salary of $3,000, while the aldermen are unpaid. In each ward one alderman is elected by the landlords and the other by the tenants. He is in the music business. Alderman Lavigueur is a convert to the commission form of government and two years ago made an attempt to have the charter of Quebec revised so as to provide for a smaller governing body. He was unsuccessful but believes that the near future will see Quebec governed by a much smaller city council, 25 being altogether too many, in his opinion.

Speaking of Quebec's park system, Alderman Lavigueur said: "We have a very fine park system and claim one of the grandest parks in the world, the historic Plains of Abraham, now known as Battlefield park. This park is maintained by the Federal government, however, and not by the city of Quebec. Its affairs are administered by a commission known as the Battlefield commission, and appointed by the Federal government."

When asked about business conditions in Quebec, Alderman Lavigueur replied: "Business is fair in Quebec considering the fact that the country is at war. We have suffered the loss of any of the Canadian cities. The great military camps at Valcartier at which we will have between 50,000 and 60,000 troops all summer, make business good for us. Then we have the Ross rifle factory, which has been turning out 1000 rifles per day and count of the war. At present we have quite a few German prisoners who are being fed well and well taken care of.

"The city of Quebec has grown wonderfully in the past ten years and is now about as large as Lowell. It has become a most progressive city and while it retains all of its old-time and historic features, it is keeping pace with the march of progress. We have just finished two bridges and are about to start on a third, over the St. Charles river, each of which cost $200,000. The C. P. R. has just started work upon a Union station which will cost $5,000,000."

Canada Doing Her Share

"Canada is certainly doing her share toward helping England in this struggle," said Alderman Lavigueur, when the writer referred to the war. "There are at present about 100,000 Canadians across the water, either at the front or on their way there and Gen. Hughes, minister of militia at Ottawa recently stated that within two months there will be over 150,000 Canadians in Europe. We are recruiting two regiments made up entirely of French-Canadians, the 1st regiment under Lieut.-Col. Archambault, and the 5th under Lieut.-Col. Paquet. I have a son, L. H. Lavigueur, a lieutenant in the 4th regiment. A detachment from these regiments under Major I. Heureux has already departed for Europe. We have at present eight submarines fitted up by Canada while there is also there a British ship, Canonnière, which is in command of an admiral with the good Irish name of Murphy. In addition to men and money Canada has furnished the mother-country with food-stuffs and has an abundant supply from which to draw."

Alderman Lavigueur formerly resided in this city, but left here 29 years ago to enter business in Quebec. Accompanied by Mrs. Ballin he left Lowell on the 3:10 Canadian train last evening. While not at their mother's home, the Canadian visitors were entertained by Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Gre-

ST. ANTHONY'S CHURCH

ANNUAL MAY PARTY AT ASSOCIATE HALL A GREAT SUCCESS—THE COMMITTEES

The annual May party in aid of St. Anthony's parish conducted at Associate hall last evening attracted a large crowd of parishioners, and the affair proved fully as enjoyable as preceding events. The feature of the evening's entertainment was a minstrel show by the South End club under the direction of Edward Handley. The South End boys were never in better voice and their work was greatly enjoyed by the large audience. The opening number, "Night-time in Dixieland," was by the entire company, and John Baxter, Lowell's rising young tenor followed with "Because You Are Mine, Sweetheart." "When Sunday Comes to Town," by Thomas N. Bodinus, was well received, and John M. Roane, received a great hand in his number, "My Bird of Paradise." Jackson Palmer gave "The Spanish Main," and received an encore and James H. Lyons won favor with "Little Spark of Love." "Listen to that Dixie Band," was well rendered by Frank L. Ginty and Edward Handley made a decided hit with an end song, "Bailin the Jack." The finale, "We Take Our Hats Off to You, Mr. Wilson," was given by the chorus with the solo beautifully sustained by Farleigh Dacey, John A. Quinn, as interlocutor was entirely in his element and he was well supported by the entire company.

The dance order which followed the minstrel production contained a score of numbers with Miner's orchestra furnishing the music and the following officers in charge:
General Manager, John B. O'Loughlin
Asst. Manager, Joseph P. Tene
Floor Director, Edward J. McColough

GERMAN SHOPKEEPERS FARED BADLY IN LONDON AFTER SINKING OF LUSITANIA

When reports of the torpedoing of the Lusitania, with the loss of more than 1000 lives, reached London there was tremendous excitement. In many quarters the rage of the populace was unbridled. In the accompanying illustration is shown a riot scene in Poplar, which is in the dock section of London. Children, egged on by their elders, did most of the wrecking of stores owned by Germans. The police heard just how to handle the children.

MOTHER AND SON REUNITED

Carl Sanderman, Who Ran Away From Home and Joined British Army, is Back Again

BOSTON, May 28.—When the Leyland Line steamship Iberian, Capt. Jago, warped into her berth at City Dock, yesterday afternoon, a young man, Carl Sanderman, was waiting on the pier the mother of a young man who ran away from home and joined the British army. The woman was Mrs. Sanderman of 3 Oakdale square, Jamaica Plain.
Her son, Carl, aged 19, left home in March while his mother was ill in a hospital for an operation. The lad went out as a cadet on board the steamer Cambrian and on reaching London enlisted in one of the artillery regiments and was sent to Lancashire, where he remained with other recruits drilling.
When Mrs. Sanderman recovered she concluded her son had gone to England, and she appealed to Congressman Tinkham.
Sec. Bryan cabled Ambassador Page to secure the boy's release. He received his discharge and was given a chance to work his way back on the Iberian.

Thomas Rodkins of the Nashua Asbestos Co., Nashua, N. H., who made his initial appearance with the South End Ginnets last night, made a decided hit, and he will be retained by the popular musical organization.
Thomas Hartley of the Waterhead mills will play ball with the Silver Lake aggregation this summer. The Silver Lake manager has been after his services for some time and it was only after a good deal of persuasion that he signed up.
Charlie Farrell, second hand of the cloth department at the Tremont and Suffolk mills, says that his Woodbine team certainly showed the T. The Woodbine aggregation was ready to meet the fastest teams in the state, says Charles, and the sooner the challenges come the better.

WHAT THE FRENCH MAID SAID

PICTURES AND THE GUEST BOOK
"Your aunt is going soon to her summer home," announced Marie as Marjorie came in one morning. "She has asked me," continued Marie, "to get her a guest book."
"Whatever is that?" asked Marjorie, at once interested.
"A guest book," said the French maid, "is not only a useful bit of permanent entertainment for the next summer's guests, but it means much to the family itself. These books or registers can be made at home or purchased at the more exclusive shops. Homemade books of rough paper with hand lettering answer the purpose perfectly and give just as much pleasure as the handsome volume of tool leather with silver corners and clasps or tapestry with mountings of brass or copper."
"A book I saw doing service at one country home was particularly interesting. Accompanying the quaint hand-colored illustrations, showing the ladies' ante, the winding drive, the door knocker, the hat rack, etc., are cheery greetings to the guests from each of these important features of the country home. In these books guests are asked to subscribe a parting sentiment, and if among them are versifiers who can do it with brush or pencil, the book grows very interesting and valuable as the seasons go by."
"That is very interesting," said Marjorie. "I think I will have one, too. Now I want you to tell me how to re-arrange my pictures after house cleaning."

Wash Skirts That FIT AFTER THEY ARE WASHED AS WELL AS BEFORE —Made by the Wooltex tailors

The materials—and even the belting—are pre-shrunk. Something we can find in no other make of wash skirts. Ordinarily, you buy a wash skirt an inch or more too large around the waist and shrink it to fit. Or, if you buy one to fit, it is too small after it is laundered, and you must make it over. You needn't worry about the laundry shrinking these skirts. Select one that fits comfortably. A half-inch is plenty to allow for future shrinking, even if the skirt is laundered every week.

These Pre-Shrunk Wash Skirts have the reinforced waist band that is so well known to every wearer of Wooltex tailored skirts. It is always trim and neat. Does not curl or wrinkle.

HEAD & SHAW, The Milliners
35 JOHN STREET

A QUARTER CENTURY AGO

The number of graves in local cemeteries over which the little American flag will wave on Memorial day, marking the final resting places of soldiers and sailors who participated in the war of the rebellion, has increased in quarters of a century, from 800 to over 2000, a fact that recalls the words of the late John Boyle O'Reilly in his address to the G. A. R. veterans, as follows:

"The war is behind you like a sunset, and we must stand and see the glory from the hill. The sun is down, and all the west is paved with sudden fire. Millions of Americans stand full grown who were not born when you fired your last shot. Year by year that sudden fire sinks into the west, and wider and wider the gaps in your ranks show against the light. In a few more years, the evening will disappear, and the figures will disappear, and the night of history will have closed upon the war. For the many of the old, you still unveil the memory of the great drama. The deep-lined pictures that are darkened in their memory for the other days of the year are unveiled by your hands today. But for those who have not memory of the war, who were not born or who were infants when you returned from the field, your memorial parade has strange power to impart the thrill that first wild war note, which the poet described:

"Forty years had I in my city seen soldiers parading. Forty years as a pageant, 'til, unawares, the mother of this teeming and turbulent city, Sleepless amid her ships, her houses, her incalculable wealth, With her million children around her, suddenly,

At dead of night at news from the south, Incensed, struck with clenched hand the pavement!"

"And from the houses and the workshops, and through all the doorways the strong men leapt, unthoughtful, and lo! The north, armed, marching southward to the conflict."

Memorial Day Observance

The old Sun's report of the Memorial day observance of quarter of a century ago was in part as follows:

"The weather was all that could be desired and the veterans turned out in full numbers. About 800 graves in the Lowell cemeteries are marked by G. A. R. standards and on each of these was placed one or more living plants that will be kept alive for several weeks. At 12:30 the different posts left their respective halls and went to the different cemeteries for the purpose of decorating the graves. Post 42 to the Lowell; Post 120, to the Edison, Catholic and No. 2 cemeteries, and Post 185 to the School street. Camp Farragut, Sons of Veterans and the disabled veterans went to the Bldreth cemetery. Within the gate of each cemetery a simple service was held, conforming to the ritual of the order, prayer being offered by the different chaplains.

The posts then assembled at the South common where the procession was formed as follows:

Platoon of Police, Capt. Davis; Chief Marshal Woodbridge W. Tuttle; Chief of Staff Samuel Broughton; Adms: Col. C. A. R. Dimon, Dr. F. C. Plunkett, J. A. Bates, Harry Pettin- gill, J. P. Thompson, 12; Maj. E. J. Noyes, H. M. Jacobs, Dr. H. Varian, Orrin Battlett, Richard Dobbins, Capt. C. H. Richardson, George E. Pinkham, C. F. Robinson, H. C. Brock, R. P. Charles, 182; Col. J. H. Gray, Sons of Veterans, W. R. Hart, Co. C, Sixth regiment; Lieut. C. E. Russell, Co. M, Ninth regiment.

American Brass Band, Co. C, Sixth regiment, Mechanics' phalanx, Capt. Pratt, Co. G, Sixth regiment, Putnam Guards, Capt. Benson, Co. M, Ninth regiment, Welch guards, Co. D, Second Corps Cadets, Captain Proctor.

High School Drum Corps, High School Regt., Capt. H. M. Chase, Post 42, Drum Corps, Post 42, four companies, 182 men, Post 120, 120 band, Post 120, three battalions, 150 men, in charge of Commander C. W. Nevins, North Billerica band, Post 185, four companies, 160 men.

Commander J. D. S. Baldwin, senior vice, Charles A. Dow, junior vice, George T. Woodward, adjutant, Andrew Liddell, officer of the day, W. Arnold, First company, Capt. Chas. H. Richardson, Second company, Capt. Geo. L. Cady, Third company, Capt. Albert A. Davis, Fourth company, Capt. James E. Emerson, color bearer, Alfred Day, markers, A. I. Gilman, Fred Baron.

The services at the monument were conducted by Rev. A. St. John Cham- bre and after the parade, campfires were held in the different post halls.

Rev. Dr. Blackburn's Remarks

The concluding event of the day's observance was the monster memorial meeting held in Huntington hall. Commander Nevins opened the meeting and a brief address was made by Mayor Palmer. The orator of the occasion was Rev. Alexander Blackburn, a local clergyman, and also state chaplain of the G. A. R. in the course of his address he spoke as follows:

"The sacrifices of the war call for a higher intelligence of the citizen. Rulers were always supposed to be educated; here every man is a ruler and we should, therefore, all be enlightened. Whenever a dozen children come together there should be a school to educate and Americanize them. They must be taught loyalty to the flag."

He next alluded to the importance of protecting the ballot. For this purpose, he said, the schools should teach more than the three Rs, they should also teach righteousness. There need be no infringement of religious rights to teach the sin of lying, the wickedness of profanity, the disgrace of bribery, the degradation of intemperance and the ruin that will come from gambling. Teach every child the sacredness of integrity, whether in business or society, or in home or in politics. Teach the honorableness of labor and the ignominy of laziness; and that to be a tramp is next to being a thief. Give us schools everywhere whose product, so far as any human power can control it, shall be well-rounded American citizens.

"The slavery problem is solved, but the problems of capital and labor, work and wages, profits and poverty, of machines and men must now be met. Whatever may be the details of settlement when it comes we may be sure it will be no dream of 'flocking backward,' as outlined by Bellamy. Men will not lose their individuality in any such scheme of paternal government. There will be, there must be a recognition of each man's labor, his independence and manhood. The object of labor is not to make the few rich but the many comfortable. When the object of house-building is not to enrich the land owners but to put roofs over the heads of people; when cloth is made to clothe people and not for the sake of dividends; when shoes are made for the feet of people and not for the coffers of the manufacturers; in short, when we come to govern the amount of production by the needs of men, then one step will be taken in the direction of human progress."

The speaker finally said that there is greater need for a higher appreciation of American citizenship. Good men stay away from the polls without pretext so little do they value the privilege for which so many brave men died. Another class have a low idea of the value of citizenship. These are mostly foreigners who are ready to take most everything else but responsibility. He would not check immigration but it may be time to say to the men of other nations, come to obey or do not come at all. America for Americans, whether free-born or naturalized, may some day be a good motto."

In connection with the above exercises the Lowell Cornet band gave a program and there was singing by a male quartet.

Local Teacher Sued

About the time that the Rev. Dr. Blackburn declared that the schools should teach the wickedness of profanity, one local teacher attempted to teach it in a practical manner with dire results, for the old Sun had the following:

"A very peculiar suit is about to come up in the local courts, the defendant being a local school teacher and the plaintiffs, the parents of a former pupil of that teacher, now dead. The case is brought to recover damages for the alleged causing of the death of the boy by washing out his mouth with soap suds which it is alleged affected his throat and stomach, as well as his nervous system and induced diphtheria, from which the boy died. The punishment was reported to as a means of preventing the boy from swearing. The soap was rubbed on a cloth which was used on the boy's mouth after which water was freely applied to remove the soap. Of course in the boy's excitement he may have swallowed some of the soap which would not be very pleasant. However this may be, he could not eat anything after going home as he still felt the taste of the soap in his mouth. He was taken with a fit of vomiting but seemed to be all right. He was sent back to school for a few days after which he became ill with diphtheria and died. Peter A. Fay represents the plaintiffs and Hon. C. S. Lilley, the defendant."

In its report of the meeting of the school board held at the time that the complaint was made the old Sun said: "Mr. McEvoy brought up the mouth-washing case. He said that he had seen the principal of the school and had been referred to the teacher, who stated that hearing the child use profanity she had applied soap to a towel once or twice and then rubbed it in the child's mouth. She stated that the application was so slight that it is absurd to think that any injury resulted from it. Mr. McEvoy advised her to report to the superintendent which she did. He told the teacher that he did not think the school board would support her in this treatment. His object in alluding to the case was simply to say that the report had been highly exaggerated and should be received with caution."

Busy Store Clerks

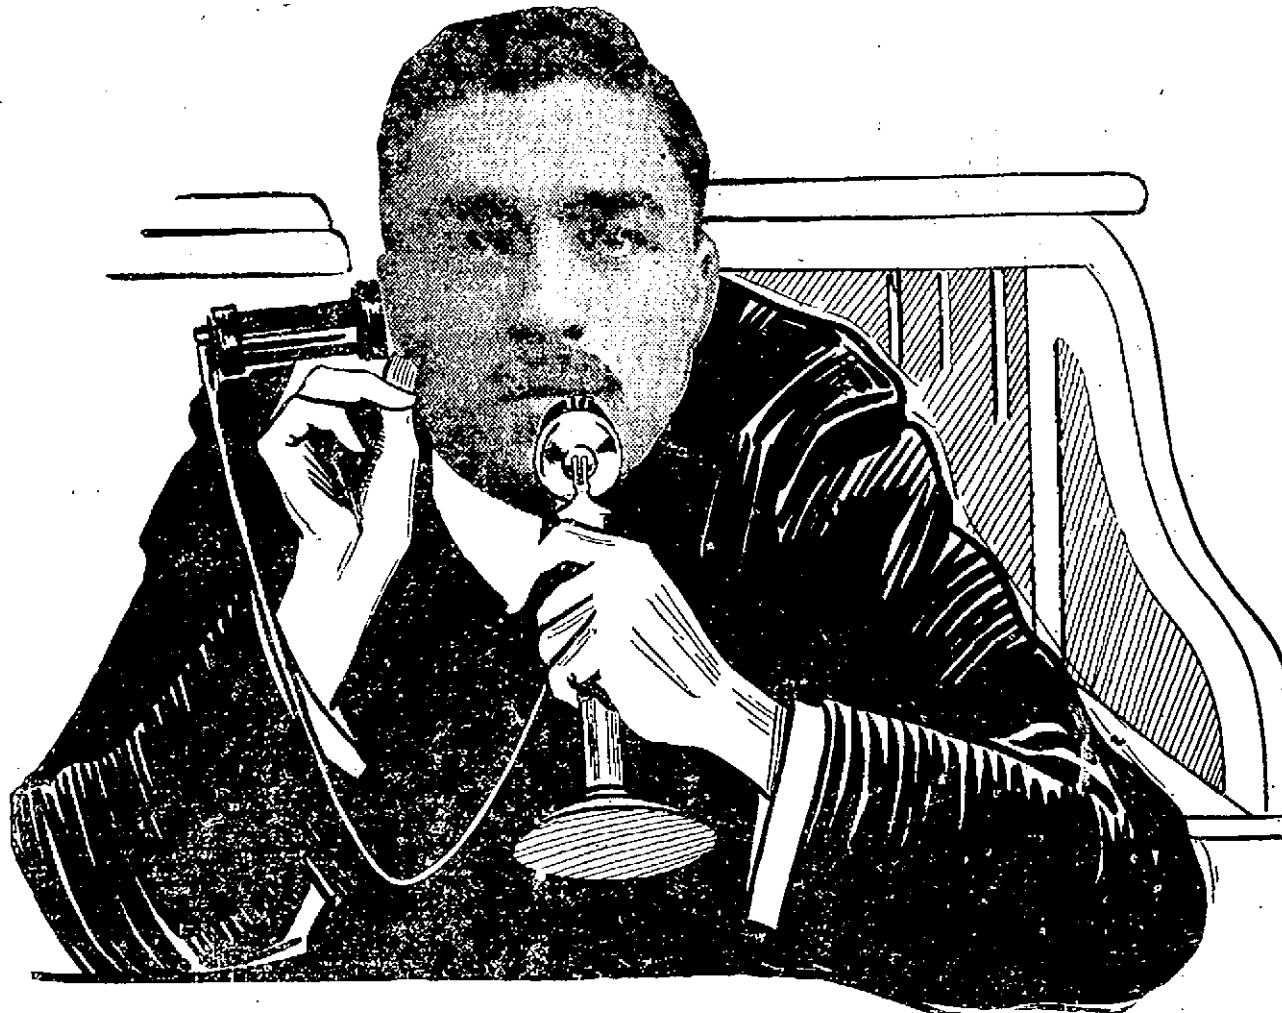

Recently I mentioned a meeting of the old Lowell Commercial club, composed of well known store clerks of that time, who had organized for the purpose of getting a shorter working day. In the old days they worked nearly every evening in the week, had no Thursday afternoons off in the summer and few holidays. The old Commercial club grew to be an important organization and did much good for its members. The old Sun reports a meeting of quarter of a century ago as follows:

"A meeting of the Lowell Commercial club was held Tuesday evening in the Appleton block. Mr. M. Boulger was appointed secretary in place of Mr. Henry resigned. The committee appointed to interview the merchants relative to closing on Memorial day (afternoon and evening) reported that at least two firms showed an inclination to concede the time: Putnam & Son and Brickell & Foster. These firms signed an agreement conditional on it being unanimous. The following new members were admitted: C. G. Wellbrenner, Thomas Broderick, Randall Williams, A. C. Cruikshank, E. F. Low, William Viney, Henry O'Brien, G. Hiltz, S. La- gasse, Sam Burbank, Fred Pearson, George Lawson, Joe Lugin and Mr. Crochere. A long debate took place on the question of fewer hours, during which it was stated that two of the larger concerns would be in favor of closing one afternoon a week during July and August. Charles Flood was appointed manager of the first, and William Viney, manager of the second baseball team."

Putnam & Son are still doing business at the old stand, though the

Few people realize that the most-IMPORTANT FOOD ITEM in the average home is the apparently insignificant article of milk. This is especially true where there are children. Scientists everywhere have been telling us for years that milk is about the only perfect food. In proportion to its cost it has the highest food value. Mothers who give their growing children plenty of GOOD milk need not worry about the rest of the diet.

We are telling the people of Lowell that our milk is pasteurized and bottled under the most sanitary conditions. It is rich, pure, and SAFE. Try it.

Nearly everyone indulges their appetite and the digestive organs are abused, resulting in a congestion of poisonous waste that clogs the bowels and causes much misery and distress.

The most effective remedy to correct this condition is the combination of simple, laxative herbs with popsin, known as Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin. founder of the firm, the late Addison Putnam, has since passed away. "Brother" Bill Viney, who quarter of a century ago joined the clerks' association, is a landmark at Putnam & Son's, having been in the employ of the firm continuously for 39 years, and "still going strong." The clerks then had much harder jobs as regards hours, compared with their more fortunate brethren of today, but in those days everybody worked longer hours.

Exposition Championships Will Perhaps be Shifted to Boston

That the Panama-Pacific exposition has not sent funds to help finance the sending of athletes to the senior and junior track and field championships, which are scheduled to take place at the exposition, became known yesterday. This money was to have been sent by May 1, and it is a question now whether or not the try-outs will be held.

These try-outs are scheduled to be held in the Harvard stadium, but unless the money is forthcoming it is likely they will be abandoned.

The junior and senior championships would not be held at the exposition, but instead, would take place in Boston, the scene of the try-outs. This, according to Frederick W. Ruben, secretary-treasurer of the A. A. U., is hardly likely.

"The junior and senior championships will be held at the exposition," he said yesterday, "even in the event of the funds not being forthcoming, provided that the Const. A. A. U. athletic authorities want them. If they do not it is another matter. Then I should say Boston will be the choice."

While the stadium has been engaged for the try-outs, the announcement has been held back to await an answer on the fund question from the exposition officials. Mr. Ruben has been in communication with them on this point, and expects an early answer. Then the A. A. U. officials will take definite action on the try-outs for the championships.

The exposition people are anxious to have this pretentious athletic program arranged cut down, and A. A. U. officials have this phase of the question under advisement now. They are waiting to settle this also upon word from San Francisco. So far the athletic events held at the exposition in which A. A. U. men have taken part have proven a big success financially, according to A. A. U. men.

If matters are arranged satisfactorily the try-outs will be held in Boston on June 26, and in Chicago on July 7. But whatever the adjustment of affairs it is not likely that A. A. U. championships will again be held at an exposition. A. A. U. men are of the opinion that such organizations are anxious to have only those contests that are likely to prove paying.

"Athletic events have been held in connection with many expositions and have proved a big attraction," said a man well informed on athletic matters

yesterday. "This has been a good thing for the sport, but great expense is attached to conducting these meets. I believe that exposition officials should be willing to take the lead with the fat, but apparently they always want only the contests that prove most profitable."

BIG DAY AT BENTING GROUNDS
Lowell people will have ample amusement for Monday afternoon, but possibly the greatest objective will be Bunting park, where Edward Fabre, the famous French Marathon runner, and a hundred other athletes will compete in a varied track program.

Fabre and his trainer are expected to arrive here tonight. It being Fabre's plan to work out daily on the Bunting track in preparation for his race, he is essentially a Marathon runner, and this means a distance of about 26 miles, but he has participated with success in many 10 mile races, and hopes to carry off the big cup in the present event. Against him will appear Tom Hennigan, Cliff Horne, Fowler and half a dozen other stars, so that a heartening race is assured.

The first number of the program will be the Marathon from Lawrence, which is an annual feature. The start will be from the Lawrence Y. M. C. A. and the finish at Bunting park. The runners going through Lowell streets, on the way to the goal. Last year at least 100,000 people saw the contestants along the course, and that number will be exceeded this year, according to indications. The state highway between Lowell and Lawrence will be somewhat congested, and automobile drivers are requested to precede the runners or follow them, so that the gasoline fumes may not interfere with good work. Fully 50 men are expected to enter in the Marathon. Last year's winner was Festus Madden of Boston.

The Bunting athletic committee is hard at it. Every member is working his limit to make the program a success, and with the weather man favorable, there is little question as to the outcome. The events are as follows: 100 yards dash; 220 yards dash; 440 yards dash; 880 yards run; one mile run; one mile relay; 10 mile race; Marathon from Lawrence to Lowell.

A NEW INDUSTRY

Soap Industry Started on Bridge Street by California Men

Lowell will have no excuse for being dirty within a short time. Before long Spotless Town will be but a blot in all probability compared to our clean city. Lowell is to be the birthplace of a new industry, the manufacture of Mineral soap.

This information was gleaned from President Marden and Secretary Murphy of the board of trade this afternoon and the history of the newly established industry is as follows:

A few days ago E. A. Harding, S. C. Hill and J. H. Lewis, three Californian business men came to this city for the purpose of looking over Lowell as a prospective home for their soap factory. The three men had previously visited Lynn, Chelsea and other cities in the vicinity of Boston but stated on first sight that right here in Lowell was the place for them and their new soap.

Messrs. Harding, Lewis and Hill are the owners of the rights for Mineral Soap, patented in Texas by Annie Z. Holmes, for Massachusetts and intend to begin manufacturing at once. The new firm has established itself at 434 Bridge street.

BIG BRUSH FIRE

A fierce brush fire burned for several hours today between Tewksbury Centre and Andover, damaging several hundred dollars worth of woodland. The fire started about noon on land owned by Messrs. Manley and Saunders and swept over a large space of brush and timber on Manley road, a few miles below Tewksbury Centre. Volunteer firemen from Lowell Junction and other places responded and together with fire wardens fought the flames with great success.

DAME RUMOR HAS SELECTED HEINE WAGNER FOR MANAGERIAL BERTH

BOSTON, May 27.—Heine Wagner, veteran second baseman of the Red Sox, is slated for a managerial berth in the Johnson circuit, according to a persistent rumor which is going the rounds in baseball circles. Just what team Heine will lead is not definitely stated, but the impression prevails that he will supplant his boss, Bill Carrigan. It is known that Owner Lannin of the Red Sox is not entirely satisfied with the showing of his team since it has been under the direction of Carrigan, and as Lannin's personal regard for Heine and his appreciation of his second sacker's playing ability are also well known, the two may have something to do with the rumor. Whatever the origin and regardless of its reliability, it is certain that Lannin, or in fact, any club owner might do worse than secure the services of Heine to direct the destinies of his club, for Wagner is one of the few hall players who play the game with their heads as well as their hands and are thoroughly familiar with its every angle.

FRECKLES

Don't Hide Them With a Veil; Remove Them With the Othine Prescription

This prescription for the removal of freckles was written by a prominent physician and is usually so successful in removing freckles and giving a clear, beautiful complexion that it is sold by druggists under guarantee to refund the money if it fails.

Don't hide your freckles under a veil, and an ounce of othine and remove them. Even the first few applications should show a wonderful improvement, some of the lighter freckles vanishing entirely.

Be sure to ask the druggist for the double strength othine; it is this that is sold on the money-back guarantee.

DULLNESS THE FEATURE

SHARES—CLOSING WAS STEADY

NEW YORK, May 28.—There were no gains or losses at the opening of today's market, but the improvement was mainly in stocks of minor importance, leading issues being neglected. Rock Island made further recovery of a point and some of the war specialties, coppers and motors rose small fractions, but these gains were soon wiped out. Canadian Pacific was again the weak feature of the international list, losing over a point, despite its comparative firmness in London. Among the more obscure industrial harvesters corporation of New Jersey declined over four points. The entire list receded moderately soon after the opening.

Transactions in the first hour aggregated barely 60,000 shares, and of this the leading speculative factors contributed about 50 per cent. Local traction shares were almost the only issues to retain their recent rise, most other stocks falling fractionally under yesterday's closing level. Canadian Pacific lost a point, there was some short covering before midday, which helped to restore prices in a measure. Postman's stock, which gained 1 1/2 points, failed to enlist interest in better known specialties. Bonds were steady.

Outstanding speeches on the outlook in the steel industry and declaration of a number of increased copper dividends failed to arouse the market from its torpor in the afternoon. Trading stopped somewhat, with greater weakness in Canadian Pacific.

Recovery of two points in Rock Island and losses of a point each by Chesapeake and Ohio, and American Zinc, the sole features of the final dealings. The closing was steady.

STRUCK BY AUTO

Little Girl Was Struck by an Automobile on Moody Street

Jeanne Giroux, five years of age, daughter of Mrs. C. J. Giroux of 500 Moody street, was struck by an automobile this forenoon and was probably internally injured.

The automobile was of the Ford touring type and was owned and driven by T. H. Brassard of Mt. Hope street. Shortly before 12 o'clock Mr. Brassard was driving to his home through Moody street and when he reached a spot near the junction of Allen street the little girl, who was on the sidewalk, ran into the path of the machine.

The brakes and reverses were quickly applied, but nevertheless the little girl was struck by the bumper and thrown aside by the car. She was removed to the drug store of W. P. Caisse, Jr., and there she was examined by the family physician, Dr. L. V. Rochette. There was no fracture noticeable, but it is believed the girl suffers from internal injuries. Witnesses of the accident stated Mr. Brassard was driving his automobile at a very moderate rate of speed when the accident occurred.

GOV. WALSH RECOVERS

BOSTON, May 28.—Gov. Walsh had sufficiently recovered from an attack of tonsillitis to return to his desk at the state house today. He immediately sent a special message to the house urging the passage of a taxation bill before the close of the present session which is expected before noon tomorrow. The house after a brief debate referred the matter to the next legislature.

TO AID STARVING

WASHINGTON, May 25.—President Wilson, as head of the American Red Cross, today issued an appeal to the American people to contribute money and supplies of food for the relief of starving Mexicans.

The following formal statement was made at the White House:

"When the president's appeal for aid for the Mexicans was issued, it was also stated at the executive offices that a statement from the president on the present situation in Mexico might be expected within the next few days.

FIVE BURNED TO DEATH

UTICA, N. Y., May 28.—Mrs. Ezra Tebo and 3 children and Louis Perry, a widely known Adirondack guide, were burned to death in their home at Tupper lake early today. Ezra Tebo and his brother were badly burned, but managed to escape. The guide lost his life while trying to rescue the children. All were asleep when the fire broke out and the roof fell in before they were awakened.

ACQUITTED OF MURDER

RUMFORD, Me., May 28.—Antonio Rusco was acquitted by the jury in the supreme court today of the charge of murder on which he had been tried for shooting of Antonio Griffo here on January 17. The jury was out less than two hours.

MRS. CHARLES BECKER

Charles Becker, former lieutenant in the New York police department, after a talk with his devoted wife, decided that life was sweet, even though the balance of it might be spent behind bars. His death warrant has been signed by the judge of the court of appeals, and the week beginning July 12 was designated as the time of his execution. When first told that the court of appeals had decided against him Becker asserted he would not appeal to the United States supreme court for a new trial, and under no circumstances would he appeal to Governor Whitman, who, as district attorney, prosecuted him for the murder of Herman Rosenthal. But the prisoner changed his mind. "I will fight to a finish," he told Father Cashin, who visited him soon after the departure of Mrs. Becker. "I have had a talk with my wife and now nothing can make me give up. I will carry my case to the highest court in the land and will appeal to the governor."

Be As Critical As You Like

You'll not find a single fault with a Stein-Bloch Blue Serge Suit.

The only fault we find is that they wear too long! It's quite common to have a customer tell us they bought their serge suit two years ago! Not much profit in that for us.

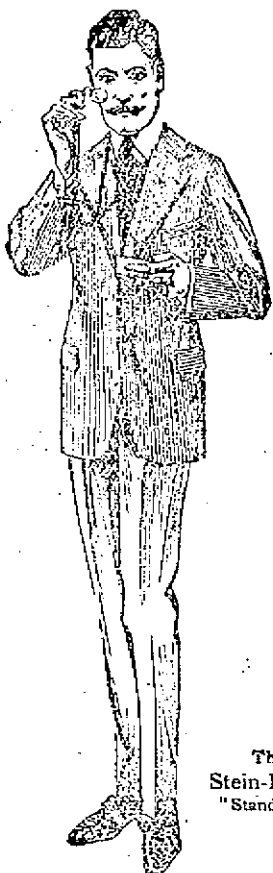

But—every one of those suits has made us a loyal customer for Stein-Bloch clothes. That's worth a lot.

Blue serge is a serviceable, dressy and all 'round satisfactory fabric for men's wear. When tailored by Stein-Bloch it's a suit without a fault.

There are models for men and young men in blue serges of Stein-Bloch tailoring at $20.00 and $25.00.

If you prefer to pay $15.00 we offer you choice of two fine wale serges that we warrant to keep shape and color.

For younger fellows, we are showing a very smart Blue Flannel Suit; coats with silk sleeves and shoulders; athletic vests and close fitting trousers at $15.00.

Smart and Easy Fitting STRAW HATS

Comfort and style go hand in hand in the 1915 crop of straw hats for men.

There are more becoming styles of soft brim hats than have ever been shown. Then, many of the sailor shapes have flexible brims, while most of the stiff brim sailors have cushioned leathers that grip the head comfortably.

The prices are easy, too—a specially good hat here for $1.50—a storeful at $2.00—and some very clever styles at $3.00.

Real Leghorns and Panamas are $5.00.

Don't get caught on Memorial Day without a Straw Hat. Attend to it today.

TONIGHT'S THE NIGHT

The general enthusiasm of Wednesday was far too ardent to be injured by the rain, for it was Lowell day, and Lowell was bound to celebrate, rain or no rain. And Lowell did celebrate, indeed, though not to the extent intended. Never did the city look more beautiful than in the morning hours. The streets were rarely brilliant with their array of lovely colors, and the hundreds of American flags flying from roofs and windows made a sight to be long remembered. The stores, too, responded to the call for external decoration, and all in all, Lowell presented a picture of beauty and order to our visitors. And there were many of them. By dozens and scores they poured in on the special cars, and one could easily imagine how successful this part of the program would have been with more propitious weather. The stores, too, reflected the increased patronage, and the advertising which the city received will surely have an effect in the future.

Once again the Board of Trade deserves the thanks of all good citizens for this enterprise. To their initiative, backed by the support of the press, the lighting system is largely due, and in the carrying out of the plans for celebration they showed a sensible understanding of the city's needs. The merchants who cooperated so readily also deserve special praise, and it is to be regretted that the uncertain weather operated to prevent the benefits which they would have reaped in the full had the day been bright and clear.

Under the circumstances it was inevitable that the formal celebration of the White Way opening and the official Lowell day features should have been postponed, but we can afford to be patient. The heavy rain only served to clean up the streets, freshen the air and give everything a more festive appearance. The occasional light of the White Way system, as seen for the past two evenings but served to whet our curiosity, and tonight we shall have our belated celebration even with more spirit than originally intended. The feeling of intense disappointment shown on all sides last Wednesday proved eloquently the popularity of the occasion, and there can be no doubt that the White Way observance will be characterized by general enthusiasm this evening.

Let us then turn out tonight in our hundreds of thousands to encourage the merchants and others who by their untiring efforts, practical support and sacrifices have made the event possible. The new lights that will flash out in the early evening will certainly be a revelation, and there will be music, marching and all that goes to make an inspiring demonstration. Most impressive of all, however, will be the massing of Lowell citizens enjoying the primal display of the new White Way.

It will remain for all who turn out tonight to hold the celebration of which the weather cheated us, to remember that the White Way observance is not intended as an empty show. It is aimed to arouse local enthusiasm in the city, its institutions, its merchants and its advantages generally. Along the streets to be bathed in the brilliant light are stores, which in their service, prices and facilities will compare with those of any city in the country. It is to help these stores while illuminating the public streets the White Way has been planned and executed, and the people of Lowell should do their part, not only tonight but throughout the year. Tonight would be a fine time to resolve to become a citizen of Lowell in all that the term implies, becoming a believer in Lowell as a city of opportunity, and booming its advantages in the most practical manner possible.

LYNN SCHOOL BOARD

We have occasionally heard references by press and public to certain secret sessions of local school boards, or methods that were similar in design and effect, but our school board never got into the limelight as brazenly as the school board of Lynn is doing at the present time. According to certain leading politicians and teachers' organizations of that city, reported in the papers of Lynn and Boston, the school board of Lynn has resorted to "star chamber" methods, boosted salaries and displayed gross favoritism in appointments at variance with the spirit of the Lynn charter. The case has more than a passing interest for Lowell, and the Lowell school board ought to give it a passing thought.

The Lynn conditions have reached such a pass that Finance Commissioner Bergengren has announced his intention of taking steps to have the Lynn school board abolished and a commissioner of education appointed at a salary of $3,000 annually. To do this he would have to get the consent of the majority of the city government and of the legislature, but he apparently feels that he would be supported by the opinion of the city. The secret meetings of the board are responsible for the tense feeling that exists, but apparently the board has no intention of submitting to the adverse criticism of the commissioner of finance or anybody else. It is announced that the Lynn Teachers' club is to hold an indignation meeting to protest against the neglect of teachers' petitions for a raise in salary while the salaries of school superintendents and principals have been raised at the star chamber sessions.

The school board of Lynn, like that of Lowell, cannot do better than to obey the letter and spirit of the charter in holding meetings in the open. Secrecy gives rise to public suspicion, which once aroused is not always just in its conclusions. The school board like the municipal council is doing business for the public, spending the money of the public, and hence should be above the domination of any clique and class, complying in all respects with the organic law of the city.

THE COALITION CABINET

Judging from the personnel of the coalition ministry formed in England, very few will admit that it is to any great extent stronger or better than that which it has displaced. First of all the cabinet is a makeshift because it became a necessity in order to prevent the disaster of a general election which might stir up elements of opposition to the war policy or bitterness over the disastrous mismanagement of the navy by Lord Churchill.

There was considerable criticism of Lord Chancellor Haldane on account of his anti-bellum sympathies with Germany, although he was one of the ablest men in the liberal cabinet. Bonar Law is a lightweight, and an the Nebraska was intended, and if so, it would seem that the German government really cares little either for our neutrality or our good opinion. Incidents such as that of the damage to the Nebraska ought to prepare this country for an unfavorable reply to the momentous note of President Wilson—though American public opinion was beginning to grow optimistic in this regard.

GOOD LIGHTING EVERYWHERE

The lighting of Lowell does not end with the so-called "white way," and while we may wax enthusiastic over the new system, we must not forget the needs of all other localities in the same particular. The leading business streets should, of course, be illuminated more brightly than all others, but every street to the limits of the residential section should be lighted sufficiently for public comfort, convenience and safety. Now that we have done so notably in the central districts, we should not overlook the claims of many other districts.

It was well brought out by some of the petitioners for the extension of the new system that there is a direct connection between municipal lighting and some species of crimes. Dark corners, corners and alleys, especially in congested districts, are more often the scenes of assaults, robberies, insults to women and like offences than well lighted streets, and the occasional wave of terror that passes over certain sections where night prowlers are reported is the result of ill-lighted streets in large measure. Could we have brilliant lighting in all our business streets and adequate lighting in all our residential streets, there would be a sensible falling off in certain species of crime that at present keep our police court well supplied with criminals.

RAILROAD BRIDGE

The Lowell public will not doubt the statement of a petitioner for the Boston and Maine railroad before the county commission, viz: that the Chelmsford street bridge has rusted and deteriorated to a point of danger and should be replaced. The bridge, proved that such is the case by tumbling down in a rather sensational manner some time ago, and though it was temporarily repaired, the public has never felt over-confident. When a bridge falls down, it is certainly in need of repair or replacing, but the Boston and Maine railroad should prevent such a demonstration of inefficiency by continual supervision and prevention of such accidents. It is to be hoped that the Boston and Maine will find it possible in the near future to erect a new and safe bridge, even though the preliminary plans do not indicate that the removal of the Middlesex grade crossing is intended. If in improving the bridge the railroad would also improve the stairs adjoining it.

SEE AND HEARD

Nobody ever called a preacher a liar at a funeral.

"Is this a first class restaurant?" asked the hungry individual.

"Oh, yes," answered the waiter; "but we don't mind serving you."

George Adams tells a story which he says always seems fresh and glistening to him, no matter how old it gets. It is about two solemn looking gentlemen who were riding together in a railway carriage. One gentleman said to the other: "Is your wife entertaining this summer?"

Whereupon the second gentleman replied, "Not very."

WAS SOME IRRITABLE

When the doctor came down from seeing her husband he told her that her good man would shortly be on the road to convalescence.

"What's that?" she asked.

"I mean, he will be getting better," said the doctor. "You will know because he will get irritable—extremely so."

When he called the next day the doctor found the wife coming as happy as a sandpiper, smiling and singing to herself.

"And now are we today?" he asked.

"Oh, he's getting better all right," she answered. "He came down the kitchen this morning and threw a coffee pot at the cook, and shot our old dog because it couldn't say 'please' so I cooked him a dish of tripe and onions and he has gone back to work. It's wonderful how you doctors know things!"

AN EXPERT'S ADVICE

I know it is a very, very difficult matter, says Mudge Arthur in The Roller Monthly, to try to convince lovers that there are such little things in their lives as quarrels. My pen hesitates a moment—quarrels are not numbered amongst the happiest of things to talk about, but we must face them, nevertheless, so will you lend me your ear for a moment?

I remember once hearing the late Professor Blackie say that "courting

ing, as requested by Mr. George M. Harrigan for the board of trade, the public would appreciate the improvement.

EARLY VICTORIES

In modern warfare the early victories of a campaign have little meaning; otherwise one might decide that Italy is having great success in its warfare against Austria. Italy has taken the initiative and is meeting with little resistance in its invasion, but there is an ominous silence in Berlin and Vienna which points to strategy. Italy could scarcely have made such a successful thrust into Austrian territory, unless the resistance was passive, and Austria cannot intend to let the invasion go on until the Italian troops would be a serious menace. Judging from plans of the Germans in the campaigns against Russia, the aim of the Austro-German army is to let the Italians get into the passes of the frontier before making a strong resistance. Preliminary skirmishes will mean little but in the near future there must be a great concerted struggle that Italy as well as her enemies foresee. Owing to the character of the territory on the borders of Italy and Austria, the scene of a battle is of the utmost importance to one side or the other, and on the German side somebody will be in charge who has made a specialty of the Alps as Hindenberg has of the Prussian marshes.

The sinking of the battleship Triumph in the Dardanelles proves again that the famous straits are more disastrous to the fleets of the allies than the entire German fleet. Nature is the greatest foe with which England and France have to contend, for the high banks, the swift currents and the narrow gulches give the enemy every chance to pick off a battleship by mine or submarine. The importance of the Dardanelles and Constantinople in a military sense is well indicated by the sacrifices that the allies are willing to make in taking them.

A list of the stores that have decorated their fronts in honor of Lowell day shows that once again most of our merchants have shown a commendable spirit of enterprise. Whenever a special occasion calls for external show, we can depend on Lowell merchants to do their part nobly.

The weather clerk meant well, after all. He saw the necessity of washing streets and walls so that the bright lights would reveal a spotless town. And he must have known that the people of Lowell are good waiters.

Being interested in street development, Commissioner Duncan must be immensely pleased at the splendid work now being done on Stafford street on which he is the only resident.

Late but lively!

WAR TO THE DEATH

With the addition of Italy to the fray all hopes of peace without the other disorganizing Germany and Austria know that Italy did not enter the war until assured of large territorial accessions as the price of her country's aid. Germany and Austria must come from them outside of the small part left of Turkey in Europe by the Balkan allies. The war is now to the death, and the result will be the entire recasting of the map of southern Europe.—Burlington Free Press.

BIRD MUSIC

Bird-music before you are up in the morning sounds like something in fiction—as if you lived in the golden age and slept inside a fairy ring out in some enchanted glade. Perhaps everything is enchanted in May, even the noisy city streets where milk carts rattle and ash barrels have to stand in a row awaiting the next move of destiny. At any rate, if there is a tree lurking around somewhere you have only to go to bed with your head near an open window to find the fairy choir going beautifully when you wake up.—Lewiston Sun.

THE PILOT

The people of the United States, we believe are justified in saying the greatest mass of the people in the beligerent and neutral countries, are inspired with a sincere admiration for the judicial and self-restrained attitude which has been maintained by the president of the United States during the period of this present war. There is no necessity to strengthen such a statement with inept compliments, which no man would value less than Mr. Wilson himself. The statement remains as a great historic fact, and as a fact which may yet prove a great asset to humanity.—Christian Science Monitor.

PROSPERITY WINS

This nation does not seek war with Germany or with any other power. It does not appear at all likely that we will be forced into any war. Nevertheless, if it should come to war with Germany, it is comforting to realize that there would be nothing in the future, as far as human vision can range it, to check the economic prosperity which is now adding immeasurably to the wealth of the American people: there would be everything to multiply our trade and extend our power.

A TRADE BOYCOTT

Norman Angell and Thomas Edison are advising that if things come to the worst between this country and Germany we can go in for a trade boycott which would be more effective than working an army that we have not got and using a navy for anything else than the defense needs which will take our full strength. As things are turning out now, however, it looks as though the trade boycott was directed towards England and her blockade, war-fare.—Hollywood Transcript.

and is inclined to be "short" even with you, whom he adores.

And you, young men, do not always remember that the girl of your heart has also her little upsets, annoyances in the home, and even when she meets you she is troubled and possibly cross. I must repeat again, weigh your troubles thoughtfully, try to think that you are both worried at times, and meet each other happily, and give out your heart's sympathy.

I am just remembering a case which I think probably is a typical one. A young fellow calls on his sweetheart, he is anxious to have her all to himself and is positively miserable because she does not leave the other members of her family and shut herself up in a room with him, where they can say soft nothings. Now he blames the girl; it leads to a quarrel. This is a mistake, for a young man should feel proud of the fact that his "intended" while thinking of him and loving him, must at the same time give a thought to home ties.

Does it not reveal that in the days to come your wife will have as great if not greater love for the new home as she has had for the old. I think so.

Quarrels, after all, are frequently blessings in disguise. The happiest moments in the lives of lovers are those when they give in that very particular process of "making it up." Making it up. It is one of cupid's sweetest hours. The artful cupid only pierces you with his quarelsome dart in order that he may afterward apply to your heart the balm of perfect happiness, which brings you to one mind again. If you do not care how great the quarrel may be, if you really love one another, the grand finale of a quarrel is worth all the waiting for it.

THE IDEAL

I think the song that is sweetest is the one that is never sung—The ideal in the heart of the singer too grand for mortal tongue.

And sometimes in the silence Between the day and the night, He fancies that its measures Bid farewell to the light.

WELL, WRIGHT MIGHT

BOSTON, May 28.—It was said at the state house yesterday that Charles H. Wright of Pittsfield who is now a member of the executive council, has declined to be a candidate for the republican nomination for Lieutenant governor.

Mr. Wright represents the 8th district in the executive council. He is a lawyer. Last year he defeated, by 3000 votes, Councilor Henry L. Bowles, who had both the democratic and progressive nominations and was a candidate for a second term. In 1913 Mr. Bowles carried the district by 5000 votes.

The only active candidate for the republican nomination now is Senator Guy A. Ham, who also is a member of the governor's council. If, as expected, Councilor Wright enters that contest, the council will be rich in candidates for higher office, especially as Lieut. Gov. Cushing is looking for the republican nomination for governor.

One of the biggest gatherings seen at Belle Grove for a long time took place last night, when the members of the "Parent-Teachers" association, a recently formed organization among the teachers and parents of the pupils of the Kenwood school, conducted a very successful character party. The party was a gratifying success in every way and the receipts, which will go toward swelling the fund of the association were very substantial.

It is figured that over 500 men and women, old and young were in attendance, a large number of whom came from Lowell. The event was conducted in the well appointed Varnum home, which had been thrown open at the disposition of the committee by H. A. Flanders without charge. The decorations about the place were splendid, consisting of large American flags and bouquets of the national colors, as well as flowers and potted plants. The illumination, which was provided by means of Japanese lanterns and large lamps, added greatly to the brilliancy of the scene.

Over 100 couples attired in handsome and funny costumes took part in the grand march and four prizes were awarded by the judges who were Superintendent of the District and Teachers' schools and School Committee member D. H. Flanders. The grand march was headed by a member of the G. A. R. in uniform, Mr. Farrell, and this number proved a feature of the evening. The Roy Scouts orchestra was in attendance and supplied music for the dance.

The committee in charge of the affair was composed of the following: Mr. and Mrs. Everett Page, Mrs. Thomas Hurley and James Bradley.

NEW YORK, May 25.—The crusade against tango restaurants and cabarets of Broadway was begun today with the arraignment in police court of the proprietor of one restaurant and the manager of another on charges of giving theatrical performances without a license. So elaborate is the cabaret at each of the places, it was charged, that it has developed into a theatrical entertainment.

The dance hall licenses under which the defendants operate cost but $50 while a theatrical license costs $500. It is believed that the arrests today are the forerunner of others, designed to bring the cabarets under stricter supervision. A committee of fourteen, headed by Mrs. Henry Woodworth, investigating conditions in popular tango and cabaret restaurants, claims to have uncovered vicious and immoral conditions in some of the establishments.

SAFETY FIRST TALKS

OFFICIAL OF BOSTON & MAINE IS GOING THROUGH SCHOOLS APPEALING TO CHILDREN

A safety first campaign is being conducted in the public schools of this city and other cities through this section of the state by S. C. Watkins, general secretary of the safety first organization committee of the Boston & Maine railroad. This week the local schools were visited and circulars given to the students to impress upon their minds the danger of frequenting railroad tracks, etc. The circular states that during the past 24 years 31,913 children under 15 years of age have been killed or injured in the United States while trespassing on railroad property.

Here are a few of the injunctions to children:

Not to walk on railroad tracks.

Not to play in railroad yards or about stations.

Not to cross a railroad track without first looking in both directions.

German Meet Reverse in Fighting Along the River San, in Galicia

BERLIN, via London, May 26, 3:30 p. m.—A reverse at the hands of the Russians in the fighting along the River San, in central Galicia, is announced in today's statement from the war office. It is said the Germans in the region of Stenawa on the left bank of the river, were forced back and lost six cannon. The German positions, according to this announcement were not defended by strong forces.

The text of the statement follows: "In the western theater, four thousand and 150 Frenchmen were taken prisoners and six machine guns were captured since the ninth of May. These belonged to the French army corps operating at a vital point where attempts were made by the enemy to break through our lines northeast of the Loreto ridge. Southeast of Loreto ridge the French renewed attacks on parts of our line last night, but were repulsed.

"At Alblin a battle is raging. The enemy also attacked in the forest of Le Prete last night. After prolonged artillery preparation and bitter hand-to-hand fighting, the engagement ended in a severe defeat of the French.

"The Vosges mountains the enemy succeeded in establishing himself in a small trench forming part of our position to the southwest of Metzeral. A French attack at Reichsackerkopf, north of Muehlbach, easily was repulsed.

"Eighteen French aviators yesterday attacked the open town of Ludwigshafen (Bavaria). Several civilians were killed or wounded by bombs. The material damage done by the raiders was slight. The leading armored aeroplane was forced to land at a point east of Neustadt, and afterwards the commander of the squadron of aircraft also fell into our hands in the neighborhood of Nancy. Our aeroplanes captured separate aeroplanes to fall at Epinal, and they set fire to the barracks at Geradmer (15 miles south of St. Die).

"In the eastern theater: In the Duhya our troops again began the offensive. An attack conducted on both sides of the high road between Ross Jency and Elragola was crowned with good results. We captured 2120 Russians on the remainder of this front Russian night attacks were repulsed at several places.

"In the southeastern theater: To stop the advance of the Teutonic Allied troops the enemy tried with fresh forces brought forward from other war theatres to attack at several points on the right bank of the River San. The attempts failed. Only to the region of Stenawa we were weak, divisions being forced back on the left bank of the San. On this occasion about six of our cannon could not be withdrawn in good time.

"In the district northeast of Przemysl we are still progressing favorably on both sides of the River Vysznia. May 25 about 9000 additional prisoners have been taken and 25 cannon and about 20 machine guns have been captured."

AT A LOW EBB

Sports of All Descriptions Are in Bad Condition in England

With no county cricket games being played this summer, all lawn tennis tournaments, golf championships, the principal horse racing meetings, the exception of Newmarket, abandoned during the continuation of the war, sport throughout the British Isles has reached the lowest ebb on record.

At the recent meeting of the Marebone Cricket club, the governing body of country cricket, Lord Hawke gave out that no fewer than 2,112 members had gone on active service, sixty-nine of whom had been killed in action.

Surry, who gained the cricket championship last season, have just issued their balance sheet, showing a profit of $523 on the year 1914, and with Nottinghamshire are the only counties so far to announce a balance on the right side.

Russian Admiralty Denies Report of Sinking of Panteleimon

PARIS, May 25, 3:55 p. m.—The French minister of marine today gave out an official announcement which reads as follows:

The day when this was supposed to have happened the Panteleimon was in a Russian port and no vessel of the Russian Black sea squadron has been either sent to the bottom or wrecked."

The announcement referred to in the foregoing despatch came from Constantinople by way of Berlin and London on May 25. It set forth briefly that the Russian battleship Panteleimon had been torpedoed May 22 near the entrance to the Bosphorus by a Turkish submarine.

Dwelling Burned at Old Nashua Estate—Fireman Fatally Hurt

A fire that started on the Lowell road in Hudson, N. H., about the noon hour destroyed a fine old residence on what was formerly the Varnum estate not far from the overhead bridge. The Nashua are department fought the flames and Fireman Gay sustained a fracture of the skull by falling from a roof. Sparks from the burning building set fire to some wood and lumber land a mile away, but was extinguished before any very serious damage was done. The residence and other buildings destroyed were valued at $4000 and the total damage was estimated at $6000. The cause of the fire is unknown. At 2:30 o'clock this afternoon it was stated that Fireman Gay's condition was very serious.

ITALIANS GAIN

Advance Into Carinthia—Capture Important Points

GENOVA, via Paris, May 25, 1:45 p. m.—The Italians are continuing their advance into Carinthia. They have taken three of the lower mountain passes and 14 villages.

Italian forces, supported by gunboats on Lake Garda, have captured several hills to the north of Mount Baldo. Their aim is to flank the Austrian fortifications at the mouth of the Adige river and also to advance to the north.

Two Austrian aeroplanes attempted to bombard the Italian gunboats on the lake but they were driven off. The new 75-millimetre Italian guns, said to be an improvement on the French model, are reported here to have been used with conspicuous success.

At a point in Carinthia they are said to have silenced an Austrian battery served by Bavarians.

Another incident in the fighting in the high mountains is the case of an Italian lieutenant who, with 35 men in a passage of Agno valley, held at bay for one hour a company and a half of Bavarians armed with Maxim's. Italian artillery finally arrived and scattered the Bavarians. The lieutenant, however, had been killed.

Other despatches reaching Geneva set forth that the Italians are bringing up heavier guns and are attacking the Austrian forts along the Tyrolean frontier.

The Italians have captured Col. Tonale, near Nonfalcone which is being bombarded. They continue their advance in the Isongo valley. Most of the fighting now is on Austrian territory. The Austrians are described as mounting more guns in the Alpine passes facing Valteine.

Another despatch reaching here says that large forces of Austrians and Germans are assembling in the vicinity of Bozen, about 30 miles north of Trent, where they will be formed into the 12th army corps.

Admiral Fletcher Reports to the Navy Department

WASHINGTON, May 25.—Admiral Fletcher, reporting to the navy department today from Newport, R. I. on the damage to ships of the Atlantic fleet Wednesday night, said the battleships Virginia and Nebraska were slightly damaged when fouled by dragging of the colliers Cyclops and Orio. The colliers were coaling the battleships when a squall swept over Narragansett bay. Repairs, the admiral reported, could be made by the ship's forge. The collier Jupiter, he reported, also fouled the battleship Louisiana without serious damage. The Cyclops' plates were loosened and there is water in one of her holds, while the Orio is taking a small amount of water.

LOWELL MAN MISSING

HENRI LEFEBVRE SAID TO HAVE ENLISTED IN CANADIAN ARMY—WIFE IS ANXIOUS

The whereabouts of Henri Lefebvre of this city, who left Lowell last September, is still a mystery to his wife and children, despite their efforts to locate him. It was stated that the young man had enlisted in the Canadian army at St. Jean, Que., but this was denied by the war authorities at Ottawa, though it was admitted that the young man might have enlisted under a fictitious name.

It will be recalled that last September Mr. Lefebvre, who is the father of several children, left his home and not a word was received from him until several weeks later, at which time a cousin of Mrs. Lefebvre met him in Montreal, Que. At that time Mr. Lefebvre informed his wife's cousin he would write and send money to his family, but, according to his wife's story, he failed to keep his promise.

A few weeks ago while the 22d Royal Canadian regiment was camping at St. Jean, Que., a Lowell man, who made a trip up north, returned with the information that he had seen Mr. Lefebvre at St. Jean. He said the young man wore the military uniform and had enlisted to go abroad.

With this bit of information Mrs. Lefebvre, who makes her home with her mother, Mrs. Jane Van de Cruysen, 641 Merrimack street, wrote to Hon. Samuel Hughes, minister of militia and defense for Canada, asking him for information concerning her husband, whom it was said had enlisted in the Royal regiment. Mrs. Lefebvre received a reply from the Canadian minister a few days ago to the effect that the name of Henri Lefebvre could not be located on the payroll. The letter also stated that two or three young men by that name had enlisted but were discharged. The minister stated that Lefebvre might be in the regiment under a fictitious name, and if any other information could be obtained he would write at once.

Another Annex Necessary Before New High School is Ready

So much has been said about the plan for a new high school that the authorities seem to have lost sight of the fact that another overflow of high school pupils will have to be provided for before the new school is built and this will mean the occupancy of the other half of the Varnum house in Kirk street and at an expense of about $6000.

This fact was brought out at an informal discussion of the high school proposition at city hall, today. The man who sprang it is interested in school matters and he said he had learned from Commissioner Putnam that it would be at least one year and a half before the new high school would be ready for occupancy. This man is not very much in favor of the present school plan. "The city will have to afford accommodations for between 50 and 100 new high school pupils next year," he said, "and the new high school will not be ready for them. This will mean the making ready of the other half of the Varnum house and it will cost at least $6000 to fix up the necessary rooms there. The overflow will require at least four rooms."

"The grammar situation, too, must be looked after. Additional seats are needed at the Lincoln, Bartlett and Highland grammar schools. These schools are not offering the proper accommodations at the present time and in each of the schools there are anywhere from 50 to 100 pupils more than can be properly cared for. These are conditions that must be remedied at once and it looks to me as if the city should borrow the money for 'school purposes' rather than for a 'high school.'"

"One other thing that I think perhaps is being overlooked. The present plan includes an industrial school. The state assists in the maintenance of an industrial school and, as I understand it, the plans for any school assisted by the state must be approved by the state board of education."

NEWS OF THE LEGISLATURE

Prorogation in Abeyance—House and Senate at Odds on Trip to Exposition

The Massachusetts legislature awaits the governor's pleasure in the matter of prorogation. It has so few matters unfinished that it can adjourn today or tomorrow if that time the governor has signed the bills before him.

There is yet to come the big state tax bill and the final general appropriation bill. Some conference committees have yet to meet and one or two bills are hanging between the two branches. Other bills and resolves have yet to be enacted. All this, however, can be speedily cleaned up once the governor's mind as to prorogation is made known to the legislature.

Gov. Walsh, it must be remembered, has been suffering from tonsillitis and compelled to remain in his apartments at Hotel Lenox. He has been working hard at no small personal discomfort in order to prevent unreasonable delay. He is disposed, however, to scrutinize closely all measures awaiting his signature and will not permit anything to be "rushed."

University Extension Bill

The bill to establish a state department for university extension and correspondence school work has gone through the legislature.

The bill as reported by the committee on education put the department in the hands of a new commission and made an appropriation of $50,000 for 1915. The house amended the bill by giving the state board of education charge of the new department.

The senate committee on ways and means then amended the measure by reducing the first appropriation to $25,000.

Senator Bean tried yesterday to have the original bill substituted for the report of the committee on ways and means, but he was unsuccessful, and the amended bill was put through.

Hitch Over Exposition Trip

The two branches disagreed about the amount to be expended by the state for a "junket" to the Panama-Pacific exposition by a committee representing the state. The resolve, as originally reported, appropriated $5000, but the house reduced it to $3000 and also cut down the size of the party.

Yesterday afternoon the senate, influenced by a statement from Ex-Representative Sedgwick of the Massachusetts board of managers to the effect that there was an unexpected balance in the appropriation already made by the state, voted to increase the appropriation to $8000 and to include in the party three members of the senate and three members of the house.

The house later received the amended bill and refused to concur. Then the bill was returned to the senate with notice of the nonconcurrence of the house.

Senator Bazelge moved that the senate insist on its amendment, and with notice of this insistence, the bill was returned to the house.

By a vote of 43 to 62, the house refused to adopt a motion of Mr. Sherburne of Brookline that the house ask for a conference committee.

Mr. Lomasney of Boston then moved that the house recede and concur in the senate amendment, and this motion was lost on a roll call, 60 to 81. The bill was then returned to the senate for such action as it may take.

Referred to Next General Court

The report of the committee on conference on the electric wiring license bill that the senate recede from its position of non-concurrence in the house amendments was accepted. On motion of Senator Gordon of Springfield, the senate receded and accepted the house amendments.

Senator Tufts took from the table an adverse report of a committee on the petition of the legislative bureau of the progressive party that compulsory returns of taxable property be required and the report was accepted, the matter being referred to the next general court without debate.

Senator Bagley took from the table an adverse report of a committee on the report of the special commission to investigate building laws of the commonwealth and it was referred to the next general court.

Report on Hall Parlor

That the parole board was justified in refusing to recommend a pardon for the late John A. Hall, former treasurer of the Southbridge savings bank, is the opinion of the legislative special committee which investigated the conduct of the parole board. The report was filed yesterday.

Suffrage Resolve Signed

In his rooms at the Hotel Lenox, where he is confined with an attack of tonsillitis, Gov. Walsh yesterday afternoon signed the resolve that will place the woman suffrage amendment on the ballot this fall.

SCHOONER AGROUND

CHATHAM, May 28.—An unknown two-masted lumber laden schooner was discovered aground on Pollock Point shore at dawn today with a 30-mile gale blowing off shore. The Mononoy coast guard crew, pulled off to her assistance and succeeded in floating her on the forenoon tide. The schooner subsequently anchored and set signals for a coast guard cutter. It was the opinion of those on shore that she was leaking. The coast guard cutter Aushnet at Woods Hole, was ordered to her assistance.

SELECTING THE SUMMER HAT

In summer, more particularly than in other seasons, a woman's attractiveness is aided or marred by her hat. Aside from the choice of the hat itself there are but few women who wear their hats correctly. All first class milliners adjust the lining in a hat so that the seam comes directly in the middle of the back. This serves as a guide to the purchaser that she must put on and wear the hat as it was intended to be worn. To be certain of having secured the proper poise of the hat and disposition of the hair, one must use a hand mirror in conjunction with the large mirror as in this manner the hat may be seen from all sides.

Each hat has its own individuality and should be worn with hair dressed

NEBRASKAN TORPEDOED

Capt. Greene Reports That American Ship Was Hit by Torpedo—Vessel a Wreck

LIVERPOOL, May 28, 7:11 a. m.—While none of the crew of the American steamer Nebraska, disabled Tuesday night by an explosion off the coast of Ireland, saw a submarine, the chief engineer believes he saw the wake of a torpedo on the starboard side, according to Capt. Greene of the steamer.

The captain, in reply to questions, stated that there is a hole about 20 feet square in the forecastle below the water line, large enough to admit an American freight car.

"We were in the boats about an hour," he said. "The ship seemed to be settling by the head and we decided to stay close by until help, which we had summoned by wireless, arrived. While none of us saw a submarine, the chief engineer believes he saw the wake of a torpedo on the starboard side. The effect of the shock of the torpedo striking the ship was to stop her suddenly. There was a perceptible interval between the shock and the explosion."

"We started to return to Liverpool about 10:30 o'clock the same night, traveling eight knots an hour. The vessel was 12 feet lower down by the head than normal, owing to the water in the hold."

The damage to the vessel's upper structure was severe. Great beams were torn up and flung across the deck, smashing the rail on one side; strong steel girders, forming a part of a hatch, were blown out and some went overboard and in the deck flooring near the hatch two large holes were made, revealing the metal steel girders, two of which were cut through cleanly. The hunks occupied by the boatswain and two quartermasters, all of whom were injured, are a mass of wreckage and the men are wondering how they escaped more serious hurts. All the furniture and work in the room were broken into fragments. The boatswain suffered injuries to his head, arms and legs. Both quartermasters were badly bruised.

The American consul and representatives of the American embassy boarded the ship from the tender yesterday afternoon, meeting the steamer off the bar and coming with her to the dock.

CAPT. GREENE'S STATEMENT

LIVERPOOL, May 28.—Capt. Greene of the American steamship Nebraska, disabled off the coast of Ireland Tuesday, told a representative from the United States embassy here last night that his ship had been torpedoed. "I saw no submarine," declared Capt. Greene, "but I am certain that it was a torpedo that hit us." Capt. Greene's statement together with affidavits, was at once, cabled to Washington. All members of the crew made statements declaring the ship was torpedoed. The ship is a complete wreck forward.

SIGHTED SUBMARINE

CROOKHAVEN, Ireland, via London, May 28, 10:27 a. m.—Captains of Crookhaven schooners and fishing boats who were in the vicinity of the American steamer Nebraska when she was damaged by an explosion Tuesday evening, claim to have witnessed the torpedoing of three small fishing boats while they were shooting nets. Soon afterward, they say, they saw a steamer flying the American flag going west. Then they heard a loud report followed quickly by a second, after which the steamer began blowing her whistle to summon help.

The fishermen say two patrol boats soon appeared and then they lost sight of the steamer.

AWAIT AFFIDAVITS

WASHINGTON, May 28.—American government officials today awaited with keen interest the affidavit of Capt. Greene, of the American steamship Nebraska, regarding the explosion that damaged his ship off the coast of Ireland on Tuesday night. Ambassador Page at London had cabled that the captain's sworn statement concerning the incident had been given to Lieut. Powers, naval attaché of the embassy at Liverpool and that it would be forwarded at once.

In unofficial advice received here Capt. Greene, who arrived with his ship at Liverpool last night, is quoted as saying that although he saw no submarine, he was certain that the ship was torpedoed.

An examination was to be undertaken in Liverpool today by American Naval Constructor McBride to determine if possible whether the Nebraska was damaged by a mine or a torpedo. Pending the receipt of the constructor's report, decision as to action of the American government probably will be deferred.

WOBURN, May 28.—The leather factory of the Ray State Leather company on North Warren and Munroe streets was practically destroyed by fire late yesterday afternoon, the loss being about $200,000. Of this loss $165,000 is on stock and $35,000 on buildings. The property was largely insured.

The fire was discovered by the watchman, Frank Brennan, in the huffing room. The inflammable nature of the building permitted a rapid spread of the flames, and when the alarm was rung in from box 63 at 5:30, the entire building was ablaze and great volumes of dense black smoke were pouring forth.

The fire department responded quickly and had the invaluable assistance of an auto fire truck which Winchester was trying out, and which chanced to be in the vicinity. The principal attention of the firemen was directed to saving human residences from the factory buildings, which were of wood, four stories in height, stood in a thickly settled neighborhood.

The house of John F. Larkin and the Ray State hotel caught fire on the roofs, and at one time there were small spots of flame on a dozen buildings, but all were saved, the total loss not exceeding $150. In several cases furniture was moved out as a precaution.

Ed C. Fischer is proprietor and manager of the factory. Among his cherished treasures was a picture of Emperor William of Germany, that being in the office. At great personal risk, Asst. Manager Buford Roach rushed into the burning building and brought out the picture unharmed.

The buildings are owned by L. Beebe & Son. The firm manufactures chrome and patent leather, employing 75 men. Business was good and the factory was running at full capacity.

Six carloads of hides, valued at $20,000, were put in yesterday. They were partially destroyed. No cause is assigned for the fire.

While none of the crew of the American steamer Nebraska when she was damaged by an explosion Tuesday evening, claim to have witnessed the torpedoing of three small fishing boats while they were shooting nets. Soon afterward, they say, they saw a steamer flying the American flag going west. Then they heard a loud report followed quickly by a second, after which the steamer began blowing her whistle to summon help.

The fishermen say two patrol boats soon appeared and then they lost sight of the steamer.

AWAIT AFFIDAVITS

WASHINGTON, May 28.—American government officials today awaited with keen interest the affidavit of Capt. Greene, of the American steamship Nebraska, regarding the explosion that damaged his ship off the coast of Ireland on Tuesday night. Ambassador Page at London had cabled that the captain's sworn statement concerning the incident had been given to Lieut. Powers, naval attaché of the embassy at Liverpool and that it would be forwarded at once.

In unofficial advice received here Capt. Greene, who arrived with his ship at Liverpool last night, is quoted as saying that although he saw no submarine, he was certain that the ship was torpedoed.

An examination was to be undertaken in Liverpool today by American Naval Constructor McBride to determine if possible whether the Nebraska was damaged by a mine or a torpedo. Pending the receipt of the constructor's report, decision as to action of the American government probably will be deferred.

Booth's Sardines are not the Sardine that you are accustomed to—they are four times to six times larger than the ordinary Sardine.

They are called Sardines because the United States Government officials say they belong to the Sardine family. They're big Sardines—caught in Monterey Bay, California—big in size and appetizingly delicious.

PROGRAM OF PARADE AT OPENING WHITE WAY

Big Time Expected This Evening—Wednesday's Arrangements Will be Carried Out

PROGRAM OF PARADE

So far as the arrangements are fixed the following is the outline of the official program for the parade this evening:

- All Evening, Special Dining Room attractions, with music, cabaret, etc., at Richardson Hotel, Harrisonia Hotel, Waverly Hotel, and Page's Restaurant.

Between 8 and 8.15 o'clock this evening, Mayor D. J. Murphy will throw on the switch which will convey the current to the new white way, and the ceremony which will take place on the platform erected at city hall steps will be witnessed by thousands including a large proportion of visitors.

Although no arrangements have been made for the conveyance of suburbanites to this city it is believed many who had made up their mind to attend the Lowell day celebration on Wednesday will take advantage of the ideal weather today to make a trip to this city for the advantages offered by the business men are practically the same as had been advertised for Lowell day.

It had been planned to keep the street decorations in place until late this afternoon, but yesterday afternoon the officials of the board of trade after a flying trip through the white way district, decided to have the decorations taken down at once, for the hunting in various places was shredded and torn, this damage having been caused by the rain, and the decorators removed them in a few hours.

The large temporary stand at city hall will remain as it is until after this evening's celebration, while the business men have decided to keep up their decorations until tomorrow. However, it is probable that some of the decorations will be allowed to remain in place until after Memorial day.

There has been no change in the program. The band concerts will be held as previously announced and the parade will take place at the scheduled time, the same route to be in vogue. It is believed the new lights will be turned on at about 8.10 o'clock and ten minutes later the parade will be on its way and the whole celebration will come to an end in time for the 9.45 o'clock train to Boston.

The procession will be made up as follows:

- Formation of Parade

Sacred Heart Thespians in "District School at Blueberry Corners"

The artists of the Sacred Heart parish, who have an enviable reputation for the presentation of successful entertainments added one more delightful performance to their already long list last evening when they appeared in a farce in three scenes, entitled "The District School at Blueberry Corners."

The school hall on Moore street was crowded to the doors and that all present thoroughly enjoyed the evening's entertainment was indicated by the applause and laughter that followed the witty remarks of the young thespians. Among those in attendance who greatly enjoyed the program were the clergy of the parish.

The opening scene was a meeting of the school board, called for the purpose of examining would-be teachers. The second was the first day of school and the third the closing exercises of the term, with the committee members as guests of the occasion.

The board was called to order by the chairman, John Doyle and after explaining the purpose of the meeting he asked his colleagues, Messrs. William Howard and Timothy Finnegan for suggestions. He got them in goodly numbers. Then the applicants came in. First Marietta McMahon, as "Miss Dashaaway," invaded the sanctum. She was questioned about her qualifications and finally was told to wait in the ante room. Miss Fabiola Cooley, who assumed the role of "Miss Delinda Sharp," was the next one to apply for the job. She told the board just what she thought and at the conclusion of her remarks departed.

Miss Irene Harkins as "Miss Sally Simple" followed and she too was put through the hoop. Finally Edward McNulty, as "Herziah Pendergrass," put in an appearance and after a brief examination he was engaged. He acted on his part in a most satisfactory manner.

The first day of school was next in order and for over an hour it was one continuous round of fun and some of the antics that were injected into the piece would make an Indian smile. Eugene Mullin, as "Jeremiah Jenkins," was a scream. His acting was one of the features of a program of features and he did much to keep all in roars during the progress of the play. Nora McHugh, as "Sallie Brown," made a great hit and her contributions were greeted with applause. John McSherry as "Luther Brown" four years old, made a very good dance. The other characters who deserve great praise for their work were: "Matilda Birlings, aged 9 years," "Mabel Tyler, 'Faithful Snooks, 10 years,'" "Fabiola Gokley," "Samantha Pipes, 12 years," "Bessie Finnegan," "Terusha Dickson, aged 11 years," "Katherine Sheehan," "Clorinda Gwyer, aged 10 years," "Mary Totes," "Ruth Keleham, aged 11 years," "Marietta McMahon," "Susan Crowfoot, aged 7 years," "Irene Harkins," "Sallie Brown, aged 12 years," "Nora McHugh," "Dorcas Deedittle, aged 9 years," "Hazel Underwood," "David Snooks, aged 9 years," "John Kichan," "Obadiah Buzzard, aged 19 years," "George Brennan," "Stephen Tucker, aged 10 years," "Harry Heelan," "Bobby O'Leary, aged 8 years," "Thomas Hartley," "Samuel Snooks, aged 12 years," "George Kerwin," "Sim Dipse," aged 9 years," "James Cusack."

For the closing exercises a fine program was given. It included:

- Solo, "When Irish Eyes are Smiling," Stephen Tucker; composition on flutes, Jeremiah Jenkins; declaration, "Bobby O'Leary; recitation, Luther Brown; recitation, Obadiah Buzzard; solo, selected, Samuel Snooks; address, Mr. Perkins; closing chorus, "Star Spangled Banner."

The play was given under the auspices of the Children of Mary Sodality, with Miss Elizabeth Miskella in charge. Its success reflects credit on her ability. Mr. James Cusack, as musical director, assisted greatly in the fine presentation of the entire program.

Dancing to music by Healey's orchestra followed the entertainment.

The officers of the dance were the following named: General manager, Elizabeth McLean; assistant general manager, Kathleen McLean; door director, Gertrude Ward; assistant door director, Anna Bradley; chief aid, Nora Sheehan; treasurer, Katherine Sheehan; refreshments, matron, Mary Wood; checks, matron, Mary Cowell; orangeade, matron, Lucy W. Sharkey.

SPECIALISTS AND PRAYERS INVOKED TO SAVE THE LIFE OF KING OF GREECE

The ROYAL FAMILY OF GREECE

ATHENS, May 28.—During the illness of King Constantine great crowds gathered in front of the royal palace. Prayers were everywhere said for the recovery of the king. The religious feeling was intensified by the conveyance of the icon of the Holy Virgin to the palace. Accompanied by a procession of the clergy the icon was taken through streets lined with silent crowds. All shops had shutters drawn, and the church bells rang. In front of the royal residence an enormous gathering patiently awaited the arrival of the sacred image. Although the king's condition was serious, Professor Zaimas and the other physicians in attendance upon him trusted on his robust constitution and the fact that there was no abscess and no heart weakness to pull him through. Premier Gournaris said that although there was no immediate danger in the king's condition it would be rash to exclude the possibility of a grave issue. In the accompanying illustration, left to right, are: Prince Paulos, Prince Alexandros, Queen Sophie, Crown Prince Georgios, King Constantine, Princess Helene and Princess Irene.

LOSS IS $50,000

Church, Three Stores, Mill and 20 Houses Destroyed by Fire

GILMANTON, N. H., May 28.—The main part of the village of Gilmanton Iron Works was leveled by fire early today. The buildings destroyed included a church, three stores, a wood-working mill and twenty dwellings.

The total loss is estimated at about $50,000. The townspeople fought the fire with buckets until the arrival of apparatus from Pittsfield, Alton and Laconia. By that time the flames had gained such headway that they could not be checked until they reached the Suncook river at the edge of the village. The fire spread to the woodland and later in the day was burning through valuable timber lots.

The conflagration started in the barn of Osborne Price. A high wind was blowing and although all the inhabitants quickly turned out there was little they could do to check the blaze. The flames spread quickly from one building to another until the whole village was afire. All the buildings were of wood. The Free Baptist church, Hutchinson's woodworking mill, the Chase store, the Connell store and the Doekman store, housing the postoffice, were burned, and not a dwelling or barn in the main part of the village escaped. The cause of the fire is not known.

INTERESTING NEWS FROM TOWN OF CHELMSFORD

Memorial Day Observance at the Centre—Gala Day Tomorrow—Road Oiling

There will be no special attraction in North Chelmsford on Memorial day and many of the citizens of the pretty little village will journey to Chelmsford Centre, where the veterans of Chelmsford, living and dead, will be duly honored.

The observance at the Centre will be conducted by the Chelmsford Veterans' association with a parade at 9.30 o'clock in the morning. The parade will form at the town hall under Chief Marshal James P. Emerson, who will be assisted by Walter Perham as chief of staff and Fred L. Fletcher as chief aid. The line will be headed by the American band, with the Sons of Veterans as escort to the members of the Chelmsford Veterans' association, followed by a representation of the Chelmsford Monument association.

Town officials, clergymen, citizens and school children. The column will proceed to Vorefothers' cemetery, where the memorial services of the G. A. R. will be held at the grave of Comrade George A. Parkhurst.

The address of the day will be made by Rev. Franklin Reeves, of the Second Congregational church of North Chelmsford. The program will also include selections by the Unitarian choir, Miss Elita Phillips, Mrs. Lillian Dodge Haskell, Harry Priest, Arthur M. Warren, and the readings, Lincoln's Gettysburg address and "If Only Son," by Miss Catherine Green. Preceding the exercises the Revolutionary monument on the common will be saluted.

At the conclusion of the exercises, dinner will be served in the town hall to the veterans and their wives, veterans' widows and invited guests under the direction of the women of the Central Congregational society.

But one death has occurred to thin the ranks of the Chelmsford Veterans' association during the past year, that of Pliny M. Goldard on April 4, 1915. His first enlistment was in Company A, Tenth Massachusetts regiment, later serving in Co. B, First Heavy Artillery.

He was also a member of Post 120 of Lowell.

On Sunday afternoon the graves of the Chelmsford heroes in the various cemeteries of the town will be decorated by members of the association and friends.

Congregational Church
At the morning service at the Congregational church on Sunday the choir will render music appropriate to Memorial day. Rev. Franklin Reeves, the pastor, will be the speaker at the evening services which will begin at 7 o'clock, and several of the "Bible Sunday" campaign songs will be sung by the choir.

The recently formed male quartet consisting of Messrs. Shawcross, Merrill, Guerin and Slater made their first public appearance last Sunday evening in two well rendered selections.

Gala Day Tomorrow
Tomorrow afternoon a "gala day" under the auspices of the Ladies' Society of St. John's T. A. society will be held at McCabe's field, and present indications point to the affair being a complete success. Sports and a ball game will be run off, and appropriate prizes will be awarded the winners in the various events. In the evening a musical treat will be given in Temperance hall and this will be followed by dancing.

Road Oiling
Tyring road is being given a coat of oil by employees of the department. Nearly all the other roads in the village have been treated and what few are left will be finished up quickly. The roads are in excellent condition, now that the dust has been laid down, and they are a source of pleasure to the many motorists who pass through the village daily.

Street Lighting
Although North Chelmsford has no "white way" the center of the village is very well taken care of, and the visitor has little to fear because of the insufficiency of lights. The side streets of the village, however, need more light. This will be provided as soon as the money is available.

The Mills
The mills of the village continue their prosperous stride and this week night work is being done in all of them. A consignment of wool received about three months ago helped the Silesia mills when a shortage in wool was predicted, and the big plant has been running steadily ever since, with night work being done in several departments. The G. C. Moore mills started this week to operate nights, and it is understood that these operations will continue for some time. The machine plant in the village is running night and day and the Lowell Textile company is very busy.

Personals
J. A. Healy and F. G. Sullivan attended the M. C. O. F. convention this week in Boston as delegates from Court Westford of Graniteville. Both men are well known in the village where they have spoken on several occasions.

A horse attached to a milk wagon owned by James Cornell ran away Wednesday afternoon in Newfield street, but fortunately the animal was stopped by Fred Reno as it was turning the corner of Middlesex street and no damage was done.

There will be nothing of importance doing in church and social affairs at the Second Congregational church during the summer months and services will be suspended during the entire month of August when the pastor, Rev. Franklin Reeves, and his family will enjoy their annual vacation.

Herbert Waterhouse is building an up-to-date residence in Newfield street.

The highway being erected by Contractor James Stevens in Tyngsboro road is rapidly nearing completion and will soon be ready for occupancy.

The Lowell Cement Brick company has obtained the permission of the harbor and land commissioners to string a heavy cable across the Merrimack river on which to guide sand scows across from a point in North Chelmsford to a point near the boulevard filtration plant.

The Lowell Cement Brick company has a contract with the city for 5000 yards of filter sand to be used at the filtration plant. The sand will be taken from a sand bank in North Chelmsford, loaded in scows and taken across the river to the boulevard, near the pumping station. It was first intended to bring the sand around over the
